In a heartbeat

Eighth graders Tiffani Davis and Megan Spooner, both 14, were among the 25 students representing Burney Junior-Senior High School on Saturday during the Women in Math and Science Conference at Shasta College. More than 200 young women, their parents and teachers are invited to learn about careers for women that use math and science. They could attend four out of 28 sessions led by professionals working in archaeology, microbiology, museums, dentistry, forestry, engineering, pharmacy, psychotherapy, medicine, software design, veterinary, and financial consulting. The American Association of University Women (AAUW), Redding branch, with Shasta College and the Shasta County Office of Education, sponsored the program. Key-note speaker Lyndia McBroome, a Shasta College nursing teacher, told the audience that they could become anything they wanted to be. "Education gives you power and gives you choices," she said. The Intermountain-Fall River Mills branch of AAUW helped by donating scholarships for a few of the Burney students.

3MP project still in limbo

BY MEG FOX

For local restaurants and other businesses hoping for a boom when construction workers start to build the Three Mountain power plant, no news is not good news.

Danielle Tinman, policy and communications director for Covanta Energy, went to the March 20 board meeting at the Burney Water District to let the directors know the proposed $250 million power plant project is still in limbo.

Construction was originally slated to start this spring.

"Nothing has changed, unless they know something they aren't telling us," said District Manager Bill Suppa.

Covanta is still struggling with its financial situation.

That same day, Covanta Energy said it is in discussion with its creditors over the company's obligations to repurchase $105.5 million worth of shares.

The company is seeking a waiver to its obligation to honor stock puts to repurchase distressed preferred shares of the Corel Centre in Ottawa and of the Ottawa Senators hockey team.

In a press release Covanta said its obligations to repurchase these shares are secured by letters of credit issued under the Company's Master Credit Facility.

While hoping to resolve these obligations through the banks, the company said, "there can be no assurances that the discussions will result in an agreement."

Last week's release stated that Covanta is also seeking to "restructure its balance sheet as part of its continuing review of strategic operations."

Earlier in the month Covanta said the company was pursuing the sale of select foreign energy assets to boost its cash position, according to an article from the Dow Jones Newswires.

Shares of Covanta stock went up to 80 cents last week, an increase from their record low of 47-cents per share in late February. Last May, Covanta was trading at almost $23 per share.

Egg hunts set for this weekend

A variety of Easter egg hunts and other special community events are taking place throughout the Intermountain area this weekend.

Three thousand "fun-filled eggs" are waiting to be found at the Word of Life Church in Burney on Saturday, March 30.

The "Eggstravaganza" is from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and the fun includes free hot dogs, popcorn, cotton candy, snow cones and lots of great prizes.

The Big Bend Community's annual Easter Egg Hunt and ham and turkey dinner is also on Saturday.

Egg hunting begins at 11 a.m. at the Big Bend Community Center, followed by an egg throw and then dinner.

Those attending the dinner are asked to bring a salad, side dish or dessert.

The Burney Lions Club is hosting its annual Easter Egg Hunt at 1 p.m. Easter Sunday at the back of Burney High School.

More than a hundred dozen eggs have been colored and hidden for the infant to the sixth grade hunters.

The Fall River Lions Club Easter Egg Hunt is also on Easter Sunday at 1 p.m. at the Inter-Mountain Fairgrounds in McArthur.

Children ages 0 to 4, 5 to 8, and 9 to 12, will have their own hunting grounds to search for dozens and dozens of eggs and prizes.

The Solid Rock Foursquare Church on Tamarack Avenue in Burney invites the community to its Easter Sunday Morning Celebration Service at 10 a.m. with a pot luck lunch to follow.

"Bring your favorite dish or just a good appetite," said Pastors David and Lonna Sellstrom. "We always have plenty of food."

The church is also planning an Easter egg hunt with prizes.

In Round Mountain on Easter Sunday, the Acorn Café is serving Easter Brunch from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. with an Easter egg hunt at 12:30 p.m.

In Bieber, the Big Valley Lions Club is sponsoring its annual Easter Egg Hunt beginning at noon Easter Sunday in the Bieber Memorial Park.

Search narrows to 2 finalists

BY MEG FOX

The trustees for the Fall River JUSD interviewed five candidates for superintendent on Saturday and have narrowed their selection down to two to choose from.

The board's goal is to announce their decision at the school district's next board meeting on April 17, according to Board President Nancy Sisk.

In the meantime, the trustees will be researching backgrounds and visiting the finalists' school districts.

The superintendent search committee met March 16 and narrowed the field of 20 applicants down to five for the school board to interview on Saturday.

Of the five final applicants, three live in California, one is from Oregon and another is from Wyoming.

"We were really excited to get such top quality applicants," Sisk said.

"We had great people on the search committee and they gave us five very qualified applicants," added trustee Teri Vigil.

"It's not a miracle cure, but with a projected loss of another 80 students, we're going to need someone creative to figure out how to fix our problems and how to deal with declining enrollment."

Vigil also praised Dr. Dan Dodds of Zampi and Associates of San Diego, a search consultant who has been helping the district.

"He led us through this and gave us really good advice," Vigil said.

The board is replacing Supt. Earnie Graham who resigned and whose contract expires on June 30.

Most show optimism in bank survey

Given the option, most business owners in the Fall River Valley said they would still locate their business in the area.

The question was one of many asked by Plumas Bank for its recently released 2001 Business Survey.

In a vote of support for their hometown, 61.3 percent of the survey respondents said they would do business right where they are, while 38.7 percent, would, if starting over, go elsewhere.

The bank surveyed 3,300 businesses in Northeastern California between October 2001 and February 2002.

More than 400 surveys were mailed to businesses in the Fall River Mills area.

"We had a 23 percent return, which was up from last year," said Shirley Knight, assistant vice president/branch manager for the Fall River Mills office.

Based on the 2000 Census, the Plumas Bank market area is made up of 4,282 people living in 2,019 houses in Fall River Mills, McArthur, Pittville, Glenburn, Dana, Little Valley, Day, Nubieber and Bieber.

Of those numbers, the population of Fall River Mills is 1,901 and McArthur's is 1,582. Bieber has a population of 579 and 220 people call Nubieber home.

The area contains approximately 145 businesses.

Professional service businesses made up 36.4%, followed by services (24.2%), retail stores (12.1%), agriculture (12.1%), and product manufacturing (12.1%).

Despite concerns about how energy costs and the economy are affecting the local economy, 75.6 percent of the respondents expected to meet or exceed their sales expectations in 2001.

Typically, local businesses have been operating for more than 15

HAPPENINGS ABOUT TOWN

BY MEG FOX

The Burney Chamber of Commerce is pleased as punch that a volunteer, Sherri Quinlan, has stepped forward to take charge of the chamber office on Main Street this summer.

Quinlan will be manning the phones, meeting and greeting, and guiding tourists to the right spots.

She was recently named executive director of the chamber and, said chamber past-president Lynn Miller, as the chamber office manager "Sherri will be an asset for the community and provide a level of service beneficial to us all."

Tentative plans are to open the office April 1 through Aug. 30, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. several days a week.

More office volunteers are always welcome.

Community members and businesses have snagged most of the Burney Chamber's wooden Upscale Fish that will be on display along Main Street to Fall River Mills from the opening day of fishing season through Labor Day.

At last count, the chamber had only 14 small fish at $35 and nine large fish at $50 each left.

Each fish is pre-cut for purchasers to paint pretty or wacky or representational of their business.

Burney High School art students will do it for you for an additional small fee and the Chamber has a book of designs to choose from.

Among those who have already caught their limit are Mt. Burney Theatre, Burney Veterinary Hospital, Custom Audio and Sound, Edward Jones, BJ's, Ben Franklin, Double S Shell, Fall River Pharmacy, Vaughn's Sporting Goods, Robin Bodner and artist Bob Taormino.

We're looking forward to seeing their finished fins.

On the subject of signage, the newer Welcome to Burney sign is temporarily gone while Burney High School senior Anna Strickland refurbishes artist Pat Carlson's work for her senior project. Anna's mentors are Carlson, her art teacher Rick Morris, and Anna's artistic Aunt Belinda Strickland.

Congratulations to Larry Betz of McArthur, who is the first to win a first place trophy for the school district in a School Bus Rodeo.

Betz and 28 other drivers from the Fall River, Big Valley, Alturas, Butte, Cedarville and Tulelake school districts competed March 16 at the Tulelake Fairgrounds.

Second and third place awards went to Big Valley bus drivers Christy James and Kathy Peterson for their driving skills. James also won the Rookie Award.

Driver Chuck Kingsbury of Burney won a fifth place award and the Parts ID contest.

Betz, who is actually the mechanic in the McArthur bus garage, said he gets a lot of practice driving buses in and out of the bus garage. He also puts in a lot of miles as a substitute bus driver.

The Burney Water District happily reports that their popular pool manager, Cindy White, will be returning this summer.

Returning to lead the Burney Basins Day Parade — and every other activity during the town's July 4 celebration — will be Donna Caldwell, who has been appointed chair of the Burney Basin Days Committee.

Citizens Utilities, now called Frontier Communications, has donated $1,800 for a memorial at Burney High School for Marine Capt. Matt Bancroft.

The company plans to put in a patio area with planters and benches and a plaque for the Burney High School graduate who was killed Jan. 9 when the military cargo plane he was piloting crashed into a mountainside in Pakistan.

Another good citizen is Holiday Quality Foods, which has joined the list of local businesses that support the Burney Junior-Senior High School Renaissance Program, with cash donations or business discounts. Holiday is recognizing Outstanding Students and their families with a five percent discount at the store.

If you're interested in sending the kiddies to summer camp, the American Camping Association will send you its free 2002 Directory of Northern California Camps. Camps listed in the catalogue are accredited by the ACA.

The booklet lists more than 100 day and residential camps, traditional as well as family camps, teen camps, church-affiliated camps, and special interest camps for children with disabilities or illnesses. Many offer sliding scale fees or scholarships.

High School golf tees off at Lake Shastina course

By WES HATCHER

The Burney and Fall River golf teams are set to travel to the Trinity Alps golf course in Weaverville Thursday to square off against eight teams in the season's second high school golf tournament.

March 14 the local linksters began their season with their first tournament of the year held at the Lake Shastina golf course in Weed.

Cold, windy weather plagued the match and "made it difficult to putt straight in the strong wind," said Raider coach Fred Gideon.

The Fall River Bulldog team finished fourth in the first nine-hole match and finished third in the second match.

Craig Taylor placed with the fourth lowest score of 84 and Brandon Beck placed with the fifth lowest score of 87.

In the second round the pair posted 41's which was the third lowest score in the round.

Burney's Shane Prigmore posted the lowest score for the Raiders.

BHS hosts Cougars Thursday at 1 p.m.

By WES HATCHER

The Burney lady Raider softball team hosts the Weed Cougars Thursday scheduled to start at 1 p.m.

Last Friday the Raiders sustained an unfortunate loss to the Trinity Wolves in Weaverville, winning the first game 11-1 in five innings.

In the second game, the lady Raiders lead 1-0 until the fourth inning when the Wolves scored two more before the seventh inning.

In the top of the seventh the Raiders scored three runs, bringing the score to 5-3.

The Raiders took the loss due to the referee calling the game before the end of the seventh inning, which reverted the score back to the sixth inning in which the Wolves were ahead by one point.

Raider pitcher Melissa Spencer threw a three-hitter and three walks to take the win in the first game.

Kala Fulk and Rocksann Barba both hit 2-3 while teammates Brandi Robb and Spencer both hit 1-2.

In the second game Spencer batted 2-3 and Fulk went 1-3 with a home run.

New Mexico From A to Z

New Mexico is the fifth-largest state in area, but only the 36th in population, with fewer than 2 million people.

Tourism, scientific research, raising cattle, growing hay, mining and art are important to the economy.

The first people came to the New Mexico area between 12,000 and 30,000 years ago. They had advanced skills in building and astronomy.

About 1,000 years ago, the Anasazi people built amazing homes in the high cliffs.

The first major European explorer was Francisco de Coronado, in 1540. He came seeking legendary cities made of gold.

Although no one found any golden cities, the Spanish stayed to set up a colony. Today, more than one-third of New Mexicans are Hispanic.

After the Mexican-American War of the mid-1800s, the U.S. took control of the region. It became a state in 1912.

Carlsbad Caverns is one of the world's biggest cave systems. It is famous for the thousands of bats that fly out at twilight and return at sunrise.

Acoma Pueblo, known as Sky City, is thought to be the oldest continuously inhabited city in the U.S. It was built hundreds of years ago on top of a 357-foot-high mesa as protection against enemies.

Wool spinning demonstration at local gallery

BY MEG FOX

Glenburn artist and weaver Barbara Robbins is giving a free spinning demonstration at 1 p.m. March 30 at Gallery and Gifts in Fall River Mills.

Robbins will be spinning fine Merino wool on a spinning wheel.

She encourages children, as well as adults, to come. "It's educational and children are always fascinated by my "spinning" wheel," Robbins said.

"When I'm at fairs, it's usually the children who drag the adults over and then the adults get interested in the process."

Robbins has been spinning since 1978 when she, and many other area residents who have taken up the craft, signed up for a weekend drop spindle workshop with Midge Dier, now of Alturas.

"Several of us became badly hooked after that weekend," said Robbins.

Spinning led Robbins to weaving.

"Midge also taught many of us to weave."

There was enough interest to form a guild, the Country Weavers, which is part of the Conference of Northern California Hand Weavers.

The local spinners formed a spinning guild, as well, called the Teetotums, named for an ancient spinning device.

"It does keep all of us off the streets," Robbins jested.

Robbins has been knitting since she was 10 and said that as she was growing up she was always interested in spinning and weaving.

"I wanted to know how it was done. And it appealed to me to make my own yarns for knitting," she said.

"I've ended up with a roomful of looms and my husband will tell you how much yarn."

Robbins, who is the reading specialist at Fall River Elementary School, also does loom weaving and basket weaving.

The program featuring Robbins is the first in a series of monthly art programs and demonstrations planned by the Gallery and Gifts Artists' Cooperative.

"We want to encourage more people to come to the gallery," said Margaret Schryver of McArthur.

It is also an opportunity to learn more from area artists and craftspeople.

Founded about 25 years ago, Gallery and Gifts is the oldest business under the same ownership in the Fall River Valley, Schryver said.

It currently has 50 members, including two of the original charter members, Betty McDonough of Johnson Park and Rita Taylor of McArthur.

Gallery and Gifts is open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

To whom it may concern

Editor:

Regarding the trash, litter, old bedsprings, broken glass and concrete, boards with protruding nails, burned out partially torn down buildings etc., located on and between Orchard Way and Highway 299 here in Burney.

This dangerous health condition both mental and physical has existed for more than ten years with no one seeming to care about the welfare of children let alone the ugly view that one must experience while walking through this neighborhood.

I wrote the local judge hoping he might assign a "work detail" to the cleaning of this area with no "luck". It seems the root of this problem may be lazy renters, absentee landlords and no doubt the lack of leadership in this community as well as apathy from county officials.

Ever wonder why some of our youth are apathetic toward their environment as well each other? Perhaps one reason is the adults in their lives and public officials who are setting poor or no examples for them to follow.

It seems to me there are numerous health and safety violations that are overly being ignored with in this town's limits. I guess it will take injury or a class action lawsuit before this problem is corrected.

Maybe the Department of Public Health needs an audit into their lack of performance here in Eastern Shasta County.

Anyway, spring is here and the grass will grow taller hiding the glass, the nails, and other objects, and the fact any problem exists at all.

Most show optimism in bank survey

years, with only six percent operating for less than five years.

More than a quarter, or 27.3% of the businesses surveyed, have no employees, while another third have only one or two employees.

Just 9.1% have 20 or more employees, according to the Plumas Bank survey.

In response to a question about their greatest strength, 75.8 percent of Fall River area business owners said customer service.

They believed this gave their business the competitive edge.

They said their second strength (51.5%) was product offering, followed by business location (45.5%). Price was the fourth choice at 33.3%.

Businesses listed five priorities for 2002 with customer service again topping the list.

Other business priorities are new and enhanced products and services, cash management, hiring and retaining qualified employees, and sales and sales training.

Before making a significant business decision, more than half surveyed said they talked to a spouse or family member.

Business people also listened to their customers (42.4%), their accountants (30.3%), publications (30.3%) and suppliers (30.3%).

Banks and trade organizations tied with 24.2%.

Knight said Plumas Bank surveys businesses each year to gauge the needs, opinions, plans and past year's activities.

The entire area benefits and Plumas Bank can better serve the banking needs of each local economy.

The report also documents the responses from the other eight business communities served by Plumas Bank: Quincy, Portola, Greenville, Chester, Westwood, Susanville, Alturas and Truckee.

Burney firemen need new pants

BY MEG FOX

Burney's volunteer firemen need new protective pants and jackets, life-saving clothing that can wear out in five years or after fighting one fire.

Volunteer fireman and engineer Steve Harris said he realized the value of good gear after crawling through molten aluminum during a fire.

"It burned out my turnouts, but it didn't burn me," he said.

"Those and air packs keep us alive."

Lt. Rick Moore received the fire district's Board of Commissioners approval for the purchase of four new sets of turnouts, a jacket, and six new pairs of structure boots from L. N. Curtis & Sons at a total cost of $5,724.

"It's what's needed to get five firefighters into safe turnouts and replace boots that are in immediate need of replacement," he told the board at their March 13 meeting.

"Are people in dangerous gear right now?" asked Commissioner Donna Caldwell.

"Yes," said Moore, adding that they actually should replace seven turnout sets and 10 pairs of boots.

"One volunteer has no liners in his boots, another is rubbing his heel. I believe this is a safety issue," Moore said.

Once placed, orders take up to three months to arrive.

"Is there any way to speed this up?" Caldwell asked.

"Not unless you spend $175 more per set," said Moore.

Volunteer Pete Prevost, who resigned March 13 after 19 years to spend more time raising his son, said this particular gear is worth the price.

"It's really money well spent, even if you spend more to get it quicker. It's going to get used and it's going to save lives."

Harold Van Cleave, the department's former battalion chief, said firefighters are called to work on strike teams, something that generates income for the department.

"If they show up in torn gear, they don't go," he said.

On a motion from Commission Ann Walker, the board agreed to allocate $5,800 for the gear.

In other business, Moore reported on a meeting with PG&E to discuss setting up a first response team, along with the Sheriff's Department and the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection.

"This was in part due to 9/11," said Moore, and also due to concerns about protecting PG&E's pipeline.

"If there was a catastrophe with the pipeline, how would the community be notified?" asked Commissioner Lynn Miller.

"It's going to go boom," said Moore, as a joke and in all seriousness.

He added that PG&E has safety shut off valves at points along the pipeline.

In another matter, Miller volunteered and was approved to serve as a special districts representative to the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) of Shasta County.

High tech equipment for reading meters

Meter readers for the Burney Water District are using high tech equipment to make their jobs a little easier.

Older water meters in the district have been upgraded to work with a more efficient and cost-effective computerized touch-read system.

It reads meter data with the touch of a rod and stores it.

Back at the office the data is downloaded and stored for billing.

"It will save hours of paperwork and minimize the possibility for mistakes," said District Manager Bill Suppa.

In other water district news, crews have started work on the Cypress Avenue water line. Suppa said the street would be torn up for about two to three weeks.

Once the district's new four-million-gallon water tank on Mountain View Road is on line, Suppa said they will raise the tank on the west end of Timber Drive for additional water pressure.

Raising the existing 800,000 gallon water storage tank by 10 feet, would increase its storage capacity to more than one million gallons.

The project, estimated at about $140,000, has not gone out for bid yet.

Grant funds from the Economic Development Administration would cover the cost, Suppa said.
