'No' vote for consolidation expected tonight at Fall River board meeting

BY MEG FOX

The trustees have put aside any plans to consolidate schools in the Fall River JUSD, but they still have to cut more than $1 million from their 2003-2004 budget by Feb. 5.

Trustee Teri Vigil of Dixie Valley said the board decided "to leave the district's configuration as it is" and will vote on that option at the regular school board meeting tonight in Burney at the District Office. The public portion of the meeting begins after a 6 p.m. expulsion hearing.

About 25 parents and school staff attended the board workshop Thursday in McArthur to hear what choices the trustees are considering for the district's future.

The workshop wasn't what many anticipated, but more in-depth discussion is expected at tonight's board meeting and the opportunity for public input.

Vigil said they have to cut the existing budget by $1,043,403 "just to maintain status quo."

While parents and school staff can stop worrying about the merging of the two high schools, "there will be changes in staffing and curriculum," Vigil said.

"These are not fun times in education," she added.

During the next few weeks, Supt. Eric Newton said he would first talk to school staff to hear their priorities and ideas and then involve the community.

He said he expects plans to "start coming together" at the Feb. 5 board meeting in McArthur.

By then, curriculum and class size decisions should be made and the number of certificated and classified positions that are needed to deliver that.

The district also has to determine if there will be lay-offs.

In California, March 15 is the legal deadline for lay-off warnings.

Newton commented Monday on a few of the cost-saving suggestions he's heard, such as eliminating some of the electives.

"But if you remove a course and remove a teacher, where do those students go when they walk through the doors," he said. "That's the tricky part."

He mentioned furloughs as another cost-saving option.

Students and teachers get out one or two weeks early and "it can save a district a lot of money in a short period of time," he said.

But, it does impact teachers, who would not get paid for those two weeks.

In order to have furloughs, Newton said the state would have to declare staff contracts null and void.

Jenny Arseneau, who went to the workshop and who helped organize the community meeting that took place at the Burney High School library, said several members of that group would address the board tonight also.

"We made a list of what we felt the group's priorities are and have asked about 10 or 12 people to talk about those issues," Arseneau said.

She explained that there are "several voices" behind each issue, but that the group did not want to be repetitive.

"We also have suggestions for cost-cutting measures that will need to be reviewed more in depth," she said.

The community group's topics will include busing, concurrent scheduling for both high schools, reviewing electives, grant writing, graduation requirements, and maintaining teachers.

Some people are beginning to show interest in a four-day school week and that, too, may be a topic.

Arseneau said she thinks the board should look at income building immediately and work on cost cutting for the Feb. 5 deadline.

Dr. Mike McLaughlin, a Redding consultant and retired elementary school superintendent, was hired at a cost of $850 to assist the board with the workshop and help the four new members understand their responsibilities and those of the superintendent's.

He also offered his own suggestions.

McLaughlin said it would be worth it to invest in a grant writer and told the board that a district in Redding received $4.2 million in grants.

Vigil was cautiously interested, saying that many grants require matching funds and that as part of her job, Liz Thomason, the district's director of curriculum and special projects, also goes after grants for the district.

The trustees briefly discussed a suggestion that the district split into two separate districts, governed by two school boards.

McLaughlin cautioned them against that idea saying it's like a bad divorce. "He told us there is power in numbers and we'd do better to stick together," Vigil said.

He instead suggested looking at a merger with other small school districts in the area, such as Mountain Union or Big Valley.

Since declining enrollment is one of the district's big issues, McLaughlin suggested that the board survey the families who have taken their children out of the district and find out why they left and what it would take for them to come back.

Doing away with class size reduction would be a cost-saving measure, but Vigil said she wants to keep small class size for K-3 "as long as we can."

Bad news for schools with governor's proposed state budget; cuts all around

Gov. Gray Davis released his state budget proposal Friday with bad news to go around, especially for students.

He has proposed increasing student fees for community college students from $11 to $24 a unit.

Within the University of California system, undergraduate fees in 2003-04 would increase by $794 and graduate fees would go up to $855.

This is in addition to a recently approved $405 annual increase approved by the Board of Regents in December.

Undergraduate fees at California State Universities would go up $394 a year, in addition to the $144 yearly increase already approved.

In K-12 public education, Davis wants to replace 64 categorical programs with block grants to school districts.

Supt. Eric Newton of the Fall River JUSD said he wanted to "withhold judgment" until legislature approves the budget, which he hopes will be done by Feb. 1.

However, he did say he would welcome "categorical funding flexibility."

"State grants would be a welcome change if we could take it for similarly related programs and needs," he said.

Under the Governor's plan, the state would maintain the Special Education categorical plan and class size reduction for K-3.

But Davis wants to eliminate the specific program funding for Adult Education, American Indian Education Centers, Gifted and Talented, Deferred Maintenance, and Instructional Materials.

Also Bilingual Teacher Training, Civic Education, Dropout Prevention, and Teacher Recruitment Centers.

The fiscal year begins July 1.

Reverse 911 expected this summer

BY MEG FOX

The Shasta Area Safety Communications Agency (SHASCOM) plans to implement its Reverse 911 Emergency Notification System this year.

Reverse 911 is a calling system developed in 1993 to give public safety agencies the ability to quickly communicate with groups of residents within specific geographic areas.

The system is programmed to make outgoing calls to citizens and deliver pre-recorded emergency select this year's theme. The person whose theme is selected will ride in the Burney Basin Days parade and receive a $100 cash prize, donated by Mt. Burney Storage, plus two tickets to the Fireworks/Laser Show. Entries should include why you chose your theme and how you can be contacted. Mail your entry to the Burney Chamber of Commerce, Theme Committee, Box 36, Burney 96013. The deadline is 5 p.m. Feb. 14. The former Burney Basin Days Committee no longer exists and this year's project is an undertaking of community volunteers who are working under a new name, Burney Basin Days Community Volunteers. "We want the entire community to become involved," said Sherrie Quinlan, executive director of the Burney Chamber of Commerce.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Burney Post 1021, is providing the insurance coverage for the parade and fireworks and has agreed to help coordinate both events. "Without the VFW and their willingness and ability to provide insurance, this would not be happening," said Quinlan. Larry Armstrong has again volunteered to be parade chairman. Armstrong is a member of VFW Post 1021 and manager of the Burney Cemetery District. Quinlan said the chamber is willing to act as a clearinghouse for parade applications. The Burney Chamber is also sponsoring the annual Flea Market and the Burney Lions Club will be cooking their traditional pancake breakfast. The Soroptimists, Burney Rotary, and Tri Counties Community Network are among the local organizations that are also planning to sponsor activities — and more are welcome and encouraged, Quinlan said. The VFW needs to raise $13,000 to fund the fireworks and laser show. "We're looking for corporate sponsors and donations," Armstrong said. Also needed are about 25 community volunteers for road control, especially on Parade Day, and an organization, business, or several individuals to sponsor and coordinate the Queen Pageant. Sponsoring the Queen Pageant basically costs nothing, but is "mostly labor," Armstrong said. The Burney Basin Days Community Volunteers meet at noon the first Tuesday of each month at Sam's Pizza in Johnson Park. For more information, stop by or call the Burney Chamber office at 335-2111.

information about events, such as a natural disaster. "We can call and warn people to evacuate in case of fire or let them know to be on the lookout for a lost child in their community," said SHASCOM General Manager Tim Skalland. The reverse 911 system contacts about 24 numbers simultaneously. Where the system is already in use, results have been "absolutely heart-warming," he said. "Imagine having a million eyes looking for a lost kid instead of 10 cops." Acorn Community Enterprises invited Skalland, a Montgomery Creek resident, to talk about the system and other advances in telecommunications technology during a public meeting Jan. 22, from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., at the Montgomery Creek School. SHASCOM got interested in the Reverse 911 system after the Jones Valley fire when "deputies were sent door to door to tell people to evacuate," Skalland said. "We could hear the fire in the background. It was not only time-consuming, but very dangerous." SHASCOM started in 1995 and is the agency that receives the 911 calls for the county's Sheriff's Office, police departments, all ambulances, and the Redding Fire Department.

Other 911 fire calls in the county are transferred to the individual departments, Skalland said. 911 calls made on cell phones, however, go directly to the California Highway Patrol and are then transferred to SHASCOM. It's one misconception some people have about 911, Skalland said. The other question people often ask him is why they have to answer so many questions when they dial 911. Skalland said once an emergency call is placed, dispatch has already sent someone out while continuing to get information and updates from the caller. They don't wait to send someone until you've answered all the questions, he explained. "Units also have computers in their cars and continue to receive updates as they're rolling," he said. Skalland and other SHASCOM staff will also discuss antenna systems that can enhance cell phone reception and how the Global Positioning Satellite (GPS) system and other technologies help or hinder the 911 system. GPS is a worldwide radio navigation system directed via several satellites and their ground stations. They accurately calculate a position, or location, to within meters and even centimeters.

AROUND TOWN

BY MEG FOX

Ever wonder how you'd look with a beard? Mountain men will have the opportunity to take a three-month break from shaving and a chance to win a prize in the Mr. Whiskerino contest taking place during Burney Basin Days 2003.

The new event begins April 1, when competitors shave for the last time before the July 4 weekend celebration. Applications will be available soon at local barbershops and hair salons.

According to State Park Ranger Andrew Urie, a total of 243,000 people visited McArthur-Burney Falls State Park in 2002.

"That is a big - and positive - impact on the community," he said. "And the community is very good to the visitors and they appreciate the friendliness."

Of the total visitors last year, 176,259 people were day users. Another 67,086 camped, staying an average of 5 and half days. In early August, one of the busiest times, the average stay is about a week.

"This park is known for having the longest average stay of the state parks," Urie said. "It's a true destination park."

The July 4th weekend is the busiest for parks nationwide.

And one of the most frequently asked questions - "Where are the Falls?"

The 20 semi-final designs for the California quarter are posted at the state's website.

The public is also invited to vote for the design that

Ranger led activities at Lassen not stopped by damage

High winds blew down trees, damaging structures in the Manzanita Lake area of Lassen Volcanic National Park, including the Loomis Ranger Station recently.

A large tree fell through the roof of the building, damaging ceilings and setting off the sprinkler system.

Trees also damaged the Manzanita Creek footbridge and two campground restrooms.

Manzanita Lake and Mineral Headquarters were without power and phone service.

"Loomis Ranger Station is a primary visitor contact station during the winter and the extensive structural and water damage will be repaired as soon as conditions allow.

The ranger station was the historic home of the B.F. Loomis family and is considered an important cultural resource for our park," said Parris.

Rangers will be on patrol at Manzanita Lake and Southwest areas of the Park.

Restrooms will be available in both areas.

Visitors can register for backcountry use near the restroom facilities.

Winter ranger-led snowshoe programs at Manzanita Lake is offered every Saturday and Sunday through Feb. 16.

Winter Survival programs are offered every Sunday through April 6.

Meet at the Southwest Chalet at 12:30 p.m.

If you can't decide, think of the California Quarter Selection Committee, who reviewed 8,000 entries submitted within two months before selecting the 20 semifinalists.

If you haven't already, take the time to look and linger at the beautiful Web site for the Volcanic Legacy Byway All American Road on the Internet at www.volcaniclegacybyway.org.

The Volcanic Legacy Byway takes travelers from Crater Lake to Mt. Shasta and along Highway 89 past Burney Falls, through Hat Creek and Old Station to Lassen Park.

It's also one of five roads in California to receive the prestigious All American designation. There are only 22 nationwide.

Lynn Miller of Burney is representing the Burney Chamber on the VLSB Steering Group - meeting again Jan. 29 at 6:30 p.m. in Weed and open to anyone.

Current projects include preparing for visitors and marketing the byway.

Miller said both the Burney and Fall River Valley chambers are partnering in this effort. "We want people traveling the Byway to stop at Four Corners and turn right and left," she said.

The Burney Chamber of Commerce is also working with the McCloud Chamber on a joint community yard sale this summer with a passport system and prizes for travelers who participate in both community sales.

The Inter-Mountain Health Fair, which Mayers Memorial Hospital sponsors each year at the Inter-Mountain Fairgrounds in McArthur, will be in Burney this year, April 5, at the Burney High School gym. A hospital committee and CEO Jerry Fikes decided to alternate locations for the community.

Jeff Forbis, manager of the McCloud River Railway, met Pres. George W. Bush and First Lady Laura Bush while attending a White House reception Dec. 12 as a guest of his daughter.

Jalene Forbis is the Northern California Vice Chair of the California Republican Party and was one of four California Republicans invited to the reception.

Father and daughter also took a personal tour of Washington, D.C. with a Congressional staffer and attended a political briefing with Bush strategist Carl Rove.

A Journey of Discovery

Lessons From Lewis and Clark

Today, outer space or the deepest depths of the ocean are unexplored places. But 200 years ago, the land west of the Mississippi River to the Pacific Ocean had been explored only by Indians and fur traders.

Thomas Jefferson wanted to set up peaceful relations with the Native American tribes. He also wanted to find a good way to reach the Pacific Ocean across the continent by water.

Jan. 18, 1803, is an important date in our history. It was on that date, 200 years ago, that Thomas Jefferson sent a letter to Congress asking for money to pay for an expedition to the Pacific Ocean. Jefferson asked for $2,500. Congress said yes.

You will be hearing a lot about Lewis and Clark this year as we celebrate the many lessons we learned from their journey of discovery.

The Louisiana Purchase of April 1803 almost doubled the size of our country.

Dates to remember

January 1803: Letter to Congress asking for money; planning for journey begins.

April 1803: The Louisiana Purchase treaty is signed.

May 1804: Journey begins.

September 1806: Journey ends.

The captains

Meriwether Lewis was from Virginia and had served as Jefferson's private secretary. Lewis studied science, medicine, mapmaking, and about plants and animals before the trip.

William Clark was also from Virginia. He had served in the Army with Lewis. Clark served as co-captain. He was good at mapmaking.

Geography of the West

Starting from a camp near St. Louis, Mo., the explorers traveled up the Missouri River, across the Rocky Mountains and along the Columbia River to the Pacific Ocean. They passed through what is now Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, South and North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington.

The explorers marked key places by longitude and latitude. They talked with Indians and trappers about rivers and other landmarks. Clark used the information to draw maps that for the first time filled out the outlines of what would become the northwestern United States. The expedition took almost 2½ years and covered 8,000 miles.

Journals of the West

Lewis and Clark used journals to report on their trip. This photo shows a page of the journal from March of 1806, when the explorers were in what is now Oregon. On the page is a drawing of a white salmon trout. Native Americans of the West Coast caught lots of salmon. The fish was an important source of food.

The journals of Lewis and Clark are one of the greatest achievements of the trip. They kept them up-to-date even though they were tired from doing other, backbreaking work.

Clark drew very good maps of where they were. Lewis was a naturalist, or someone who studies nature. He wrote about and drew the animals and plants along the way. For all 28 months of their trip, they wrote and sketched their records of what happened, what they saw and where they were.

Go dot to dot and color this leader of the expedition.

Lessons From Lewis and Clark

No waterway to the Pacific

The biggest news Lewis and Clark brought back was bad news. Jefferson had hoped that there was a way to travel by water across the continent. The explorers found that there was no way to do that.

The Columbia River flowed into the Pacific. However, to get from the Missouri River to the Columbia, travelers had to cross 340 miles of land, including the high, snow-covered Rocky Mountains.

Finding new animals and plants

The explorers had lots of firsts, especially in finding new types of animals and plants. They were the first to report more than 100 animals new to science.

They were the first to report prairie dogs. They described how the animals lived in large, underground villages. The list of new animals included the coyote, the white-tailed jackrabbit and the trumpeter swan.

They also reported 200 new types of plants and flowers. They sent back samples of these. Today, some trees growing in Philadelphia started from cuttings of an apple tree sent by Lewis and Clark. Indians used wood from these trees to make bows.

Learning about the Indians

One goal of the expedition was to learn more about the Native Americans living in the West. Lewis and Clark visited with 58 different tribes.

The explorers brought back new knowledge of how the tribes lived and hunted. They wrote about the tipis and lodges they lived in. Lewis and Clark carried the message that the United States, not England or France, now owned the land. The U.S. wanted to trade and live peacefully with the Indians.

Lewis and Clark could not have completed the expedition without help from the tribes.

New territory for the U.S.

At the time of the expedition, the borders of the United States after the Louisiana Purchase ended at the Rocky Mountains. Lewis and Clark were the first explorers to go further west into what was called Oregon country.

The expedition allowed the U.S. government to make a claim that the country belonged to the United States. The country, which included the states of Montana, Oregon and Idaho, became part of the United States in 1846.

Go West!

Animals like the beaver, with its valuable fur, encouraged new settlers to move west to seek their fortunes.

News of the adventures of Lewis and Clark spread quickly. People read about rivers full of beaver and plains full of buffalo, elk and deer. They heard about rich land good for farming.

Even as Lewis and Clark traveled back home, they met canoes of people headed west on the Missouri River.

The explorers built Fort Mandan on the banks of the Missouri River. It has two rows of huts and walls 18 feet high.

One Native American woman, Sacagawea (sah-KAH-guh-WEE-uh) joined the expedition as an interpreter. This statue on the state capitol grounds in Bismarck, N.D., is one of the best known of Sacagawea. It shows her with the baby who traveled on the journey.

The Mini Page thanks Larry McClure, chairman of the Education Committee of the Lewis and Clark Trail Heritage Foundation, and Jessica Tyree, communications assistant at Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson.

Grant awarded to fund older adult learners at Shasta and U.C. Davis extension

The Bernard Osher Foundation, a San Francisco based foundation committed to lifelong learners, has awarded Shasta College and U.C. Davis Extension (the professional and continuing education arm of the University of California, Davis) a $100,000 grant to fund continuing education for older adult learners.

"The Bernard Osher Foundation welcomes the collaboration of UC Davis and Shasta College in developing a lifelong learning program.

The sharing of faculty and other resources should enhance their mutual community outreach.

Lifelong learning is learning that does not cease with the years of school and the age of youth, it is learning with no exams, no grades, and no graduation.

It continues for a life time," says Dr. Stephen M. Dobbs, Executive Vice President, The Bernard Osher Foundation.

With the grant, UC Davis Extension and Shasta College will develop a special program of courses for older learners in the Northern California Region called, "The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute" (OLLI).

An OLLI membership will allow participants 55 or older to enroll in up to four OLLI program courses for a total fee of $135 per academic quarter.

OLLI members will also receive a 50 percent discount on selected UC Davis Extension courses in the Arts and Humanities.

Dr. Douglas Treadway, Superintendent/ President of the Shasta-Tehama-Trinity Joint Community College District, states, "We are committed to providing opportunities that are responsive to the needs of our communities in a changing global society.

By partnering with UC Davis, we will enable participants to answer lifelong learning quests, and contribute to the social, cultural, and economic development in our region."

"UC Davis Extension's mission of educational outreach corresponds closely with the goals of the Osher Foundation- to serve the continuing education needs of older adults.

We are excited about the work this new grant will support: creating a lifelong learning institute to serve the needs of older adult learners in northern California and intellectual and cultural stimulation and for personal fulfillment," says UC Davis Extension Dean, Dr. Dennis Pendleton.

"We hope the program at Shasta College and UC Davis will inform, inspire, and entertain the Sacramento Valley and Far North lifelong learners," Foundation Executive VP Dobbs says.

Businessman and community leader Bernard Osher founded the Osher Foundation in 1977 to foster cultural and educational programs.

Bad check unit recovers biggest bounced check yet

The largest single amount ever recovered by the District Attorney's Bad Check Unit was returned to a Shasta County business owner recently.

Joseph Van Sweden, owner of Ark Design Construction and Roofing in Palo Cedro received a check from District Attorney McGregor Scott for $40,240.

Mr. Van Sweden had received a check for a construction job undertaken by his business which later bounced.

He turned the bad check over to the District Attorney's Office on Oct. 7, 2002.

The amount owing was collected by the Bad Check Unit on Dec. 26, 2002.

A second bounced check was from the same person submitted to Packway Materials in Hat Creek totaling $5,268.09 was also referred to the District Attorney's Office and full collection was made and returned to the business.

The Bad Check Unit of the District Attorney's Office provides a free service to local businesses to help collect on bounced checks received from customers.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

THE 2003/2004 SHASTA COUNTY UNMET TRANSIT NEEDS PROCESS

INFORMATION

The "Unmet Transit Needs" process is used to determine if the transit needs of the citizens of Shasta County are being reasonably met. The "Unmet Transit Needs" process is also used to determine 2003/04 Local Transportation Fund (LTF) allocations, and the resulting Transportation Development Act (TDA) Budget, pursuant to Section §99401.5 of the P.U.C. code. TDA funds currently support Redding Area Bus Authority (RABA) services and limited transit services provided by Shasta Senior Nutrition Programs.

DATE, TIME AND PLACE

The Shasta County Regional Transportation Planning Agency (RTPA) is holding a public hearing to take testimony on "Unmet Transit Needs" on Tuesday, February 25, 2003, at 4:00 p.m. at the Redding City Council Chambers, 777 Cypress Avenue, Redding, California.

TESTIMONY

This meeting provides an opportunity for the public to identify transit needs in Shasta County, the Cities of Redding, Shasta Lake and Anderson that are not being met by existing transit services. Unmet transit needs specifically exclude minor operational improvements or changes, involving issues such as bus stops, schedules and minor route changes. The decision regarding any changes in transit service will be made at a future RTPA meeting. All requests for needs will be evaluated to determine if they are reasonable to meet pursuant to local and state policy.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO ADOPT A MITIGATED NEGATIVE DECLARATION BY THE SHASTA COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Supervisors of the County of Shasta, State of California, as lead agency will consider adoption of a mitigated negative declaration for the project described in this notice. A mitigated negative declaration is a statement that the project, as conditioned, will not result in a significant adverse effect on the environment.

Fall River Mills Airport Layout Plan: The Shasta County Department of Public Works is proposing to extend the existing runway at the airport, to relocate and extend the taxiway, to add new aviation-related facilities (e.g., hangars and other building area facilities), install security fencing and to realign a road at the south end of the airport.

The project site will include the runway, taxiway, and safety area construction that would occur at both the north and south ends of the existing runway and taxiway. Also associated with the ALP and addressed by the document are modifications to the wastewater treatment ponds and relocation of sewer lines adjacent to the airport. Land acquisition for all of the above is included in the project as well.

The findings of the Initial Study and Mitigated Negative Declaration are that adoption of the ALP could result in "Potentially Significant Impacts" in the following environmental areas:

Aesthetics, Biological Resources, Hazards & Hazardous Materials, Public Services, Cultural Resources, Hydrology/Water Quality, Air Quality, Geology/Soils, Land Use/Planning, Transportations Traffic.

Mitigation measures are proposed to reduce these impacts to less than significant levels.

The primary purpose of the project is to enhance the safety and efficiency of operations by the types of aircraft which presently operate at the airport or may operate there in the future. The second is to provide land and establish development sites for additional aircraft storage and other aircraft support facilities.

Site preparation is tentatively scheduled to begin in the spring of 2004 with construction ending in the summer of 2004.

All interested parties are encouraged to submit comments regarding the proposed mitigated negative declaration to the Department of Public Works. The comment period begins January 14, 2003. Comments must be submitted to the Department of Public Works, in writing, by February 14, 2003. Only comments submitted in writing may be considered for the proposed negative declaration and comments should be limited to project-related environmental issues only. Persons wishing to submit comments are encouraged to first contact the Department of Public Works, Plans and Programs Section at (530) 225-5654.

Please note that if this proposed action is challenged in court, such challenges may be limited only to those issues raised in written correspondence provided by this notice.

Copies of the environmental documents and all reference documents associated with the project are available for review through the Department of Public Works, 1855 Placer Street, Redding, California 96001. Please bring this information to the attention of anyone else you know who may be interested in this notice.

Bulldogs defeat the Raiders

BY KEEGAN MOYER

The Burney Raiders varsity traveled to Fall River Friday to take on the Bulldogs, for the second time this year.

The Bulldogs would walk away with the win, while Burney would take the ride home after suffering a tough loss.

Like the previous three games of the night, the fourth and final game was close from beginning to end. Burney had a one-point lead at half with a score of 26-25.

Like the rest of the Fall River teams that played, the Dogs' came out firing and snuck by the Raiders and eventually pulled well ahead by the final buzzer when the Bulldogs won 55-44.

The win for the Varsity Boys of Fall River sealed a four-game-sweep for the Bulldogs.

The high point men for Burney were Chris Prigmore with 16, and Kyle Moody, who followed him with 12 points.

Over half of Fall River's points were scored by Colin Corr and Alfred Olivera, who had 15 points each.

The win was the first of the year for the Bulldogs, while the Raiders suffered their first loss after defeating Weed earlier in the week.

Fall River J.V. team garners win

BY KEEGAN MOYER

The Fall River Bulldogs' played host to the Burney Raiders in a contest between the two J.V. boys' teams.

The Dogs' eventually prevailed and got the win by defeating the Raiders by a final score of 41-36.

Fall River jumped out to an early lead, but Burney battled back to tie the score just before the half.

Just before the halftime buzzer, Blake Conners sunk a long two-pointer to put the Bulldogs up by two at the intermission.

Both of the teams came out shooting in the second half. The points stacked up as lead was exchanged between the teams several times.

The game came down to the final minutes when the Dogs' got their shots to fall and the Raiders couldn't match Fall River's scoring.

When the final buzzer sounded, the Bulldogs were declared the victors in a tough and physical game between the two rivals.

The Burney J.V. Boys dropped to 0-2 in SCL play after the loss to Fall River. The Bulldogs improved their record to 2-0 after defeating Etna and Burney.

The season series between the two teams is tied at one each with the deciding game in the series slated in Burney on Feb. 4.

F.R. girls record at 1-1 in SCL

BY KEEGAN MOYER

The Fall River Varsity girls' team evened their league record to 1-1, defeating Burney with a score of 43-26 in McArthur Friday.

The Burney squad fell to 0-2 on the year after the loss to Fall River.

The teams traded the lead numerous times in the first half.

Going in to the break, the Raiders were leading the Bulldogs by a score of 21-18.

The girls from Fall River came out sizzling in the second half and quickly pulled away from the opposition.

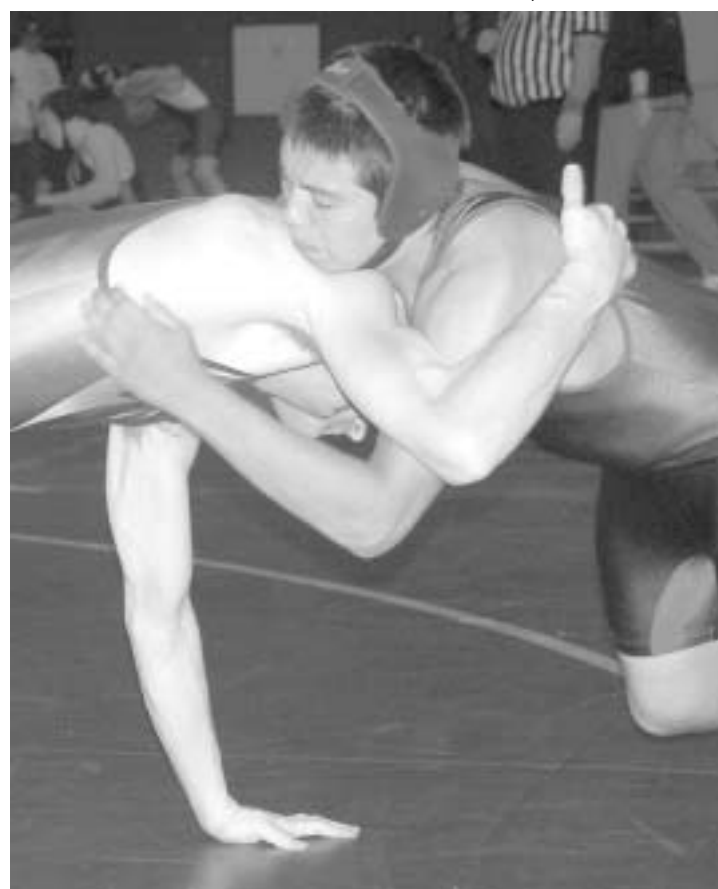

Fall River coach, Kathy Jones, commended the teams' second half effort stating, "The girls played well together. They outscored Burney by an impressive 25-5 in the second half."

Abby McArthur led Fall River in all categories and scored a triple-double by scoring 24 points, grabbing 10 rebounds, and swiping 13 steals.

Libby DeCoito supplied Fall River with 9 points and 9 rebounds.

Deana Senko and Brittany Shelton were both absent for the game and upon their return the Bulldogs look to make a powerful impact on the SCL.

The Fall River J.V. Girl's team also defeated Burney in the first competition of the day.
