Cooling off at the beach

The McArthur Burney Falls Memorial State Park beach at Lake Britton provided a spot for visitors to cool off during hot daytime temperatures the past two weeks. The thermometer has passed the century mark during the day, but nighttime provides relief with temperatures cooling to the 50-degree range. More hot daytime temperatures are predicted the rest of the week with highs estimated in the upper 90s to low 100s. Day use fees at the park are $4 or a yearly park pass is $67.

Forming parks, recreation district proposed; Burney water directors eye $3 swim pool fee

BY MEG FOX

The directors for the Burney Water District have agreed to hold a public hearing Aug. 6 before deciding whether or not to increase the monthly swimming pool assessment to $3 a month.

District Manager Bill Suppa said the proposed $1 increase is "strictly for the pool" and not to help fund a Parks and Recreation District.

The board made that decision July 16 after representatives from Tri Counties Community Network (TCCN) had given a presentation on the benefits of having a parks and recreation district and suggested a three to five dollar increase to fund it.

The water board was not ready to commit to anything to do with parks and recreation and only decided to go for their own pool increase after TCCN supporters left the meeting.

However, the board and Suppa did agree to work with TCCN to do a survey of water users and find out if they would support parks and recreation.

That decision was the board's first tentative action in months of meetings on the subject.

Roper and other TCCN board members hoped the water board would at least support the concept. He said there was some urgency as the deadline is Aug. 8 for placing an initiative on the Nov. 4 general election ballot.

There is a Dec. 5 deadline for another election in March 2003.

The water district has a county-approved parks and recreation department that is not funded or active.

In addition to the community swimming pool, the water district owns Washburn Park and the park on Juniper, known as the Whale Park, that are both voluntarily maintained by the Burney Lions Club.

Roper said Washburn might revert back to the water district in the future and "if you got organized before that happened, it would be easier for you."

He said the community would be better served by consolidating the pool and those two parks, plus Bailey Park and the Little League fields into one department.

A parks and recreation could then coordinate baseball, softball and other community programs, such as soccer and youth and adult

Intermountain area loses 3 daily newspapers

BY MEG FOX

Three daily newspapers, the Sacramento Bee, the San Francisco Chronicle, and USA Today, are no longer available for sale in local stores and news racks.

Trucking the newspapers to Burney became cost prohibitive, according to John, the owner of Shasta News and Delivery in Redding, who declined to give his last name.

John said his business has delivered newspapers to Burney for about 15 years. "That was when fuel was 98-cents a gallon and newspapers had many more subscribers."

More recently, he trucked 15 Chronicles and 20 Sacramento Bees per day for general sales and another 14 papers for home delivery. He also brought in 12 USA Today newspapers each day "but they rarely sell," he said.

Shasta News and Delivery had a contract with Mattheson Fast

Freight in Redding for about four months to bring the newspapers up on their regular route "and then they called and said they couldn't do it any longer because it was not cost effective for them."

John, who said his business employs about 20 drivers, said he operated the Burney delivery route for about two years in the red, but when gas prices went up, it was no longer feasible.

Meningitis cases are coincidence, says state

BY MEG FOX

The three Burney children who had meningococcal disease this spring did not give it to each other and did not get it from the same source, according to recent test results from the state Department of Health Services.

"The results support that the three cases should not be considered a community outbreak of this disease.

"These are instead an unfortunate occurrence of simultaneous cases in the same community," said Shasta County Public Health Director Marta McKenzie.

Kate Thomas, supervising public health nurse, said that when you consider that two out of every 10 people are carriers of the disease and don't have any symptoms, three unrelated cases "is not as strange as it seems."

While bacterial meningitis, contracted by sharing saliva, is a serious and sometimes fatal disease, Thomas compared the mystery of its origins locally to the spread of the common cold, which can be caused by any one of 56 different viruses.

What is unusual is that the three cases happened around the same

Motor home catches fire, 6 acres burn

James Ryman of Hat Creek had just purchased a motor home in McArthur Friday and was on his way home when he urged to pull the vehicle to the side of the road.

Ryman was alerted flames were seen spewing from underneath the van-type vehicle while he was driving west on Highway 299 just west of Hat Creek County Park at 2:15 p.m., the California Highway Patrol said.

He got out to check, but then remembered he had left his wallet in the motor home. By the time he returned, the entire inside of the vehicle was engulfed in flames, said CHP Sgt. Clancy Mitchell.

The fire spread to about six acres on either side of the highway and was extinguished by firefighters from the California Department of Forestry, U.S. Forest Service, Cassel and Burney fire departments.

Farmers market slated to open today in Burney

Burney Farmers Market of the Shasta Grower's Association opens today from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. at the VFW Hall on Main Street.

"There will definitely be squash, blueberries, onions and garlic, probably root crops, and cucumbers, but the tomatoes may take another week or two after we open," said Margaret Jensen, one of the growers.

Reading program magic in nature

BY MEG FOX

About 40 local children are reading up a storm – and learning about nature – in the Burney Library's successful summer reading program, Magic in Nature.

Today's 10:30 a.m. program features The Magic of Eagles and will be presented by Terry and Grainger Hunt of McArthur.

Terry Hunt studies birds of prey and is an expert on the bald eagle, while her husband Grainger is a noted raptor researcher.

"I was losing (more than) $600 a month to bring the newspapers up there," he said. "Everyone is pulling in the reins now."

The Sacramento Bee, but not the Chronicle, is still available to local residents through daily mail delivery, with the Sunday paper arriving on Monday.

To arrange for that service, call the Sacramento Bee office in Redding or go on line to www.sacbee.com.

While the program was originally meant for early readers, kindergarten through third grade, junior high school children are enjoying the informative programs, as are parents and other interested adults.

Frank Wilkins, who has 10 young readers of his own at home, has coordinated the six-week program for the past four years, inviting local residents and professionals to share their expertise on a variety of topics.

Embezzlement prelim postponed to Aug. 5 in superior court

The preliminary hearing scheduled last week for Elizabeth Brustad, the former office manager charged with embezzlement and grand theft from Intermountain Family Practice, has been continued to Aug. 5.

The continuation was due to the unavailability of several defense witnesses, according to Shasta County District Attorney Keith Cope.

Cope said that because the witnesses are "in medical clinics serving rural areas, we do our best not to inconvenience people."

Beth Brustad, 48, who moved to McCloud, kept the books for the Fall River Mills and Burney offices for about 10 years before she was fired in October 2000.

She has been charged with grand theft of $56,500, embezzlement, and attempted grand theft of $2,000.

The physicians in the family practice have since dissolved their partnership, but are in their same offices managed by Mountain Valleys Health Center.

When we truly love, it is never lost. It is only after death that the depth of the bond is truly felt, and our one becomes more of a part of us than was possible in life. -Oriental tradition

Hoss, we miss your earthly presence each and every day, but have learned from your death, that the storms of life will come and go. They will vary in intensity, and hit us at our worst moments, but the peace of God remains the same-constant, enduring, and comforting. Parks district would be eligible for grant money basketball leagues.

A parks and recreation district is also eligible for state park and recreation funding and grants.

But to do this, the water district has to allocate 10 percent of its $1 million budget, or $100,000, to the new department and provide a full-time equivalent employee.

Roper roughly estimated that the water district could generate an additional $81,000 a year by either increasing the monthly $2 pool assessment to $5, or by imposing a $50 per year parcel tax to the approximately 1,362 paying water users in Burney.

Director Rowdy Yates commented that only Burney water users would be footing the bill.

"All will benefit, but just a handful will be paying for it," he said.

On the other hand, expanded facilities could bring more people into the community and generate more income, both for the district and local business, TCCN board members said.

Local law enforcement raised $2,500 for youth sports by hosting the recent men's fast-pitch softball tournament during Burney Basin Days, said TCCN board member Greg Wrigley.

The 200 players on the eight teams paid entry fees and also "came into town and ate, shopped and stayed here for the weekend," he said.

Water board members have been hesitant to say either yes or no to the proposal, in part because they expect to have to increase the monthly pool fee just to sustain the community pool, which operated at $17,000 in the red in 2002-2003.

Before hearing from TCCN, the board transferred $22,170 from their reserves to balance the 2003-2004 pool budget.

Board President Jackie Young said customers on fixed incomes complain about the existing $2 pool assessment and they "would get flak" with even a one-dollar increase.

Roper said they could look at the issue positively - or negatively. "There are also many people in the community who use the pool, value it, and are more than willing to fund it."

Having a parks and recreation department would sustain the pool and provide the additional money needed to keep it operating, he said.

He noted that the McCloud Community Service District received $300,000 this year for its parks and recreation department and that TCCN received $150,000 in grants to develop Bailey Park.

April Bertain, a Burney parent who has worked on the Bailey Park project, asked the board if they would be willing to look at a parks and recreation district in a comparable community, such as Weaverville.

They agreed to look at Weaverville's budget if Bertain provided it.

She also addressed a board member's concerns about what a full time employee would do.

Bertain said that in Weaverville the staff person schedules tournaments, fixes sprinkler heads, maintains the baseball fields, riding arena, pool, and a large playground, and in the winter does maintenance, paperwork, and schedules games, including the men's basketball league.

A parks and recreation district "is an incredible idea that would give Burney some identity," she said. "I'd love to see this."

"I do not feel that activating the parks and recreation department will benefit the Burney Water District in any way," said Jackie Young.

"Our main issue is the water district and serving the community with good water and I don't feel we need to be involved with this," she said, after Roper and Wrigley asked for the board's opinion.

"Bailey Park is lovely and the volunteerism is amazing. But my first priority is the water district, not parks and recreation," she said.

"Do you want to buy into the concept or not?" Wrigley asked.

Suppa and the four board members (John Meeker was absent) said they liked the concept, but were still not ready.

"I don't want to make the decision tonight," said Yates.

"I need to think about it more," said director Randy Stevens.

"There are still a lot of unanswered questions," said director Aileen Hovis.

"It's a little scary for me to get this involved to this extent at this time," said Young.

Suppa wondered what chance a ballot measure had of passing. "You express that all these people are in favor of it," he said to Roper. "I've asked around town and not one person I've talked to has said yes."

They then agreed to ask the community directly through a survey, either by mail or in person.

"If it's an overwhelming yes or no, there's the decision," Suppa said. "If it's close, we'll go for it."

Salute to the Volunteer Fire Departments

Editor:

As we are in the beginning of the "Fire Season," I want to take this opportunity to make a special recognition of our Volunteer Fire Departments that are so important to rural northern California.

The work of these men and women is rarely recognized, as it should be. The time commitment, skill, and training that is required to be a VOLUNTEER Firefighter is understood by only a few.

In our rural settings, we often forget that these men and women are volunteers. Yet in an emergency – a fire, an emergency medical call or a wreck in town, our volunteers are there saving lives often at their own peril.

When they receive a call, most of these men and women leave their jobs, are pulled out of bed in the early mornings or leave a social gathering with friends and relatives to provide a very important service to us, the citizens.

I want to extend my gratitude to these Volunteer Firefighters. Our small towns depend on you. Thank you for the countless lives you have saved.

The services you provide are immeasurable. You are a part of what makes rural America so great and my hat is off to you. THANK YOU!

Shasta County sheriff's K-9 'Hecki' retires

Hecki, the K-9 Deputy, officially retired recently. Hecki who has been with the Sheriff's Burney Station for over six years, will live with his current handler, Deputy Mike Matheson. Hecki will retire while he is able to enjoy his days off. Hecki, who is known for his silky black coat, assisted with hundreds of arrests and made plenty of his own.

Hecki was always popular with the crown at K-0 demonstrations and never popular with those who chose to test his courage while on duty.

When he was not watching and protecting his handler, Hecki could often be found sniffing for drugs at schools. His even temperament made him a hit with pre-school-ers all over eastern Shasta County.

He was able to go from protecting his handler and grabbing the aggressor, to letting kindergarten children hug and pet him in the same demonstration.

Hecki was born in Czechoslovakia, and shipped to Mark Ken Kennels in Santa Cruz, CA., when he was approximately 2 1/2 years-old. He was purchased with a sole donation from Shasta County resident, and assigned to Sergeant Forrest Bartell of the Burney Station.

Hecki was trained by his original handler, Sergeant Bartell, and spent two months in school where he graduated number one in both general service and narcotics detection. He spent three years with his first handler before being transferred to Deputy Matheson.

Fundraising will begin in the fall to replace Hecki. K-9 Tee shirts can still be purchased at the Main Office on Court Street in Redding and the Station in Burney.

Wedding is set for November

Robert and Lorrie Ingram announces the engagement of their daughter Lacy Jean Ingram to Christopher Cordova, son of Lucio and Laurel Cordova of McArthur. Lacy is a 2000 graduate of Fall River High School. She attended California State University, Chico and majored in Criminal Justice. She is now employed by Tri-Counties Bank in Burney. Christopher is a 1997 graduate of Fall River High School and went to college at Cosumnes River Junior College in Sacramento and majored in General Education. He is now a Cadet at the California Highway Patrol Academy in Sacramento. The wedding is set for Nov. 15 at George Ingram Hall in McArthur.

Burney woman sentenced to prison for elder abuse, robbery

A 38 year-old Burney woman was sentenced to serve 5 years and 8 months in state prison after pleading guilty to felony charges of elder theft, robbery, and drug possession.

Susan Louise Firnges pleaded guilty to the elder theft charge in January and was scheduled for sentencing on Feb. 25, when, on Feb. 16, she was again arrested on new charges of robbery and drug possession.

In June 2002, while employed at the Welcome

Home Manor nursing home in Redding, Firnges stole an antique diamond engagement ring from a 96-year-old, legally blind resident.

Firnges, who had two prior felony convictions for grand theft and drug possession in 1991, had been employed at the nursing home while awaiting a Department of Justice background check.

Redding Police Investigator Bill Forrest recovered the missing ring at an area pawn shop where Firnges had sold it for $600.

Firnges, who was released from jail on a bail bond, pleaded guilty to felony theft from an elder adult on Jan. 13 and was scheduled for sentencing Feb. 25.

On Feb. 16, Firnges was again arrested shortly after committing a convenience store robbery at the Sportsman Express Shell station on Wonderland Boulevard in Mountain Gate.

In the robbery, Firnges entered the store shortly after 2 a.m. and threatened the cashier with a knife, demanding money.

Firnges fled in a white Ford Taurus with $440 in cash and was stopped in the area short time later by Shasta County sheriff's deputy James Cap-russo.

Firnges had the knife, cash, and 1.5 grams of methamphetamine in her possession, and admitted committing the robbery.

She pleaded guilty to additional charges of robbery and drug possession and admitted a special charge of using a knife in the commission of the robbery.

Because robbery is considered a violent felony under California law, Firnges must serve at least 85 percent of her sentence before she will be eligible for parole.

The case was prosecuted by Shasta County Deputy District Attorney Brian Popkes.

Families join in worship at 3-day conference

Local congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses recently returned from their annual three-day district convention.

This year's 2003 "Give God Glory" District Convention was held in San Francisco at the Cow Palace.

More than 9,700 gathered together Sunday morning for a program especially designed for families. The talk, "Parents, Build Up the Family Circle," pointed out that Deuteronomy 6: 6, 7 commands parents to teach their children God's words; doing so daily if possible.

Also, the speaker pointed out that parents should also teach their young ones practical household skills to better equip them for adult life.

Next seven youths were interviewed in the part "How Youths Are Praising Jehovah." It was noted from Psalm 148: 1-5 and 12-14, that even as creation gives glory to God, young people praise God too.

One 13 year-old boy said, "Being a Christian in today's world is hard but when I see other young ones doing it successfully it shows me that I can too." This talk was followed by the presentation of a fully costumed Bible drama, titled "Boldly Witnessing Despite Opposition."

The public talk Sunday afternoon drew attention to the convention theme through the question, "Who Are Giving God Glory Today?" The speaker noted, "Many people today seek glory for themselves or give glory to other humans. But who are giving glory to God? As Revelation 4:11 says, no one is more worthy and deserving of glory than the Creator, Jehovah God. That's why it's appropriate that we ponder that question as well as the Bible-based answer."

This was the first of nine three-day conventions to be held by Jehovah's Witnesses at the Cow Palace this year. All conventions of Jehovah's Witnesses open to the public.

Admission is free and no collections are taken. Anyone interested in dates and times of the upcoming conventions may contact Jehovah's Witnesses locally.

Dental Hygiene program at Shasta College ranked 19th in nation

Shasta College recently received notification that its Dental Hygiene program has received a school ranking of 19 out of 242 programs nationally, keeping them in the top seventh percentile.

Ten students completed the program and graduated May 23, 2003. Criteria used for school ranking was based on students' test scores on the National Board Dental Examination, which was administered to college students April 1, 2003.

North state All American Byway celebrates official opening

A congressman, California senator, county supervisors, representatives from state and federal agencies and residents were on hand to celebrate the official opening of the California portion of the Volcanic Legacy Scenic Byway and All American Road.

The ceremony was held in Weed, the midpoint of the 500-mile Byway that stretches from Crater Lake National Monument in Oregon, through Tulelake and the Klamath Basin National Wildlife Refuge, past Mount Shasta and waterfall country to Lassen Volcanic National Park and Lake Almanor.

The road received the designation from the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) June 2002, making it one of just 20 All American Roads in the nation.

The Oregon portion of the Byway received its All American Road status in 1996.

"This area has really been a well kept secret to the rest of the nation. We are literally on the map now," said Congressman Wally Herger, in reference to the America's Byways map.

"They have put us on the map to allow others from outside the area to come and enjoy the breathtaking beauty of our volcanoes and mountains."

Both Herger and Senator Sam Aanestad praised the work of Byway residents for completing the process that included first earning a Forest Service designation for the Shasta Scenic Byway before the road could be eligible for a FHWA designation.

"I congratulate each and every one of you for the work you put in," Aanestad said.

"I will help in any way that I can to make sure that this project will be successful, both from a cultural standpoint, but even more importantly from an economic standpoint."

As the northern-most All American Road in California, the nearest runs through Yosemite, the Volcanic Legacy is a showcase not only of the region's volcanic scenery but also of rural American life.

Cultural and historical value are two of a list of key components the FHWA considers in the nomination process.

"Yesterday I was able to drive almost all of the corridor and it's really a beautiful, historic and natural setting. I think you need to brace yourselves for a lot more visitors over the next years," said Susan Koschak of the America's Byways Resource Center in Duluth, Minnesota.

"The National Scenic Byway program is a volunteer program by design, grassroots by nature and citizen driven.

"This is no different. Every community along the Byway has made contributions to make this a great place."

A number of Byway residents received plaques from the fledgling Volcanic Legacy Community Partnership is the oversight committee for the California portion of the Volcanic Legacy.

"I've been working with the state Scenic Byway program since 1986 and I've never seen a group come so far in such a short time," said Dennis Cadd of Caltrans.

"I really applaud everybody for the efforts they've made, the sacrifices and the hard work.

"It really reflects upon the community values that people have that live along the Byway."

In April the Partnership was awarded two grants from the FHWA totaling $490,600.

The bulk of the money will fund the Volcanic Legacy Discovery Center in Mt. Shasta, a collaborative project between several agencies, including the Forest Service. A portion of the funds will be used for road signs on the 360-mile California section.

For more information about the Volcanic Legacy Scenic Byway and All American Road, visit the web site at volcaniclegacybyway.org or call the information center at 866-722-9929.

Pit River Health to receive Respect Award at Good Medicine Health Fair

The Respect Program and the Shasta County Women's Refuge will be recognizing Pit River Health for the 2002 Respect Award at the Good Medicine Health Fair in Burney on July 25.

Susan Evans, Shasta County Women's Refuge Executive Director, comments, "We are grateful for their efforts in providing a safe place for victims of domestic violence and sexual assault."

Each year, the Shasta

County Respect Program, a local domestic violence prevention program, presents an award to an agency, organization, or business that contributed financially or with time and energy in the fight against domestic violence.

Pit River Health has been chosen because its community leadership in addressing the issue of domestic violence and sexual assault in the intermountain area.

They have also taken the lead in workplace awareness of domestic violence by providing training to their staff. "Pit River Health has had an ongoing relationship with Shasta County Women's Refuge in providing assistance for both male and female clients," states Respect Coordinator, Linda Toney.

The presentation ceremony will take place at 11:30 a.m. at the Fair location at 36977 Park Avenue, Burney.

AAUW offering scholarships to be awarded this fall

Applications are available from the Intermountain-Fall River Mills Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) for scholarships to be awarded in September.

Many scholarships and grant funds are available to local students just graduating from high school, but few are offered for those enrolled in a four-year college degree program.

AAUW scholarships differ from others in that they support female students who have completed two years of college and are completing their degree, as well as re-entry students who, after an interruption of their education, want to continue at an accredited college or university.

With fees increasing rapidly, there is a growing need for assistance to students entering their junior year or beyond. It is this need AAUW hopes to meet.

Scholarships will be awarded in the amount of $400 each. Applicants must be residents within Big Valley or Fall River Joint Unified School districts. Applications are available from Mary Rickert at 336-6667.

AAUW earned the money this year from yard sale proceeds. All yard sale items were donated. Anyone wishing to donate to our scholarship to honor someone, give in memory of a loved one or friend, or who would like to contribute to the local scholarship fund may send their donation to AAUW, P.O. Box 761, Burney, California 96013.

Applications must be returned by August 15, 2003. Scholarships will be awarded in September.

REAL ESTATE CORNER

By, DOROTHY HERRELL, Century 21 Big Pines Realty

ARE YOUR BUYERS FINANCIALLY QUALIFIED?

With home prices and interest rates increasing, many buyers are having to stretch themselves financially to buy a home, especially first-time buyers. Most purchase agreements allow buyers to get out of the contract if they can't qualify for a mortgage, so be sure to get some reassurances before you make a commitment to buyers. Most contracts now require timely loan applications and pre-qualifying letters from the lender.

There is no way to be absolutely certain that buyers will be able to obtain financing, but I will eliminate those who are not financially qualified. As a real estate professional, I help buyers determine what they can afford and whether there are financing alternatives that can stretch their buying power. My training and experience enable me to resolve difficulties quickly to avoid wasting time.

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling real estate talk to us at Century 21 Big Pines Realty. Call us for an appointment at 530-335-3636, or drop by our office at: 37107 Main St. in Burney, or visit our website at century21bigpines.com.

The Silver State

Nevada From A to Z

Las Vegas is famous for its neon lights on the Strip, a long row of casinos, entertainment resorts and hotels. It is the state's biggest city, with about 480,000 people. Between 1985 and 1995, the population nearly doubled. The Las Vegas metropolitan area, with about 1,300,000 people, is the fastest-growing metropolitan center in the U.S.

Nevada's gambling and entertainment attract millions of tourists. Tourism and gambling create more than half the jobs.

Mining of minerals, including gold, silver, copper, zinc, uranium, mercury, oil, coal and iron, is important.

The landscape is highly varied, ranging from snow-capped mountains to desert. Public lands cover about 85 percent of the state. Only Alaska has a higher percentage of land managed by the federal government.

The first European to explore the area may have been a Spanish missionary, Francisco Garces. The United States obtained the area from Mexico after the Mexican War in 1848.

Nevada became a state in 1864. It is the 35th most-populated state, with more than 2,200,000 people. According to the 2000 census, it is the fastest-growing state in the U.S.

Agriculture depends almost entirely on irrigation. Cattle, horses, sheep, hogs, chickens, alfalfa, hay, wheat and corn are important.

The mountain Bluebird is the state bird.

Carson City is the capital. It was named after the Carson River, which was named after frontiersman Kit Carson.

It is the Driest state, with an average of 9 inches of precipitation a year, most falling as snow in the mountains. The average yearly temperature is about 70 degrees in the south and 45 degrees in the north.

The Extraterrestrial Highway is the site of many reported UFO sightings. It runs near Area 51, a top-secret government site where nuclear weapons were once tested. Many believe the strange lights in the sky come from secret military aircraft. Others believe the lights come from space aliens.

The state Flower is the sagebrush.

Great Basin National Park has fantastic limestone formations at Lehman Caves, and one of the largest groves of bristlecone pine, the oldest living things on Earth. The Great Basin is the biggest area in the world where rivers and streams flow into lakes with no outlet to the sea. The basin crosses several states.

Go dot to dot and color the state bird of Nevada.

Gus Goodsport's Report
Supersport: Chance Kretschmer

Height: 6-1 Birthdate: 11-24-81
Weight: 212 Hometown: Tonopah, Nev.

There's a great chance University of Nevada-Reno fans will see plenty of exciting football this fall. Star running back Chance Kretschmer is healthy again after missing nearly all last season with a knee injury.

In 2001, Kretschmer ran for 1,732 yards and became only the second freshman in NCAA Division I history to lead the nation in rushing. In one game he gained more than 300 yards. He also scored 6 touchdowns in a game.

But at the beginning of his sophomore season, Kretschmer suffered a concussion, then a season-ending knee injury.

Kretschmer excelled in three sports in high school. But he didn't get a scholarship to Nevada-Reno his freshman year. He went out for the team, worked hard, and became a standout who causes Wolf Pack fans to howl whenever he touches the ball.

Meet Rupert Grint

His favorite sports are soccer, swimming, bicycling and golf. He also likes to play the guitar. Rupert likes sports, computer games, and all kinds of music — but his favorite is rap.

Alan: Why did pioneers go west in covered wagons?
William: They didn't want to wait 40 years for a train!

Clara: What is the difference between a racehorse and a locomotive?
Donny: One is trained to run, the other runs a train!

More About Nevada

Hoover Dam, near Boulder City on the Nevada-Arizona border, is considered one of the seven modern engineering wonders of the world. It stands 726 feet high, and was completed in 1936. It took fewer than five years to complete.

Indian people who made their homes in the area include the Paiute, Washo, Anasazi, Goshute and Shoshone.

Jarbridge is the site of the last stagecoach robbery in the U.S., which took place in 1916.

Some Kinds of fish live only in Nevada and nowhere else in the world. Over the years, these fish became quite different from other fish, because unlike most lakes, Nevada's natural lakes do not empty into the ocean.

Lake Mead is the largest human-made lake in the U.S., formed by the building of Hoover Dam. It has about 550 miles of shoreline, and is in both Nevada and Arizona.

Lunar Crater Volcanic Field was one of the places where Apollo astronauts trained for their trip to the moon.

Next week The Mini Page is all about flamingos.

It is the most Mountainous state, with 314 different ranges and peaks, including part of the Sierra Nevada mountains. Their name is Spanish for "snow-capped mountains." Nevada took its name from these mountains, keeping only the part meaning "snowy."

Nellis Air Force Base is home to the Air Force Thunderbirds. The Fallon Naval Air Station is home for the famous Top Gun Competition for fighter pilots.

Overton is the site of the Lost City Museum, dedicated to the Anasazi Indians who lived in the area thousands of years ago. The Anasazi built advanced adobe villages in the cliffs along the Muddy and Virgin rivers.

The Pinion and Bristlecone pine are the state trees.

High Quality, crystal-clear waters attract divers to Lake Tahoe on the Nevada-California border.

The Reno/Lake Tahoe area has one of the biggest groupings of ski resorts in the U.S. The weather there is great for winter sports, with an average of 400 inches of snow and 300 sunny days a year. About two-thirds of Lake Tahoe is in California.

The largest known Silver Strike in the U.S. was in 1859 at Comstock Lode near Virginia City. Silver and gold discoveries brought in thousands of people. In 1992, Nevada was still producing more than 60 percent of the gold in the U.S.

Mark Twain was Samuel Clemens' pen name when he wrote for the Virginia City newspaper, the Territorial Enterprise. His book "Roughing It" looks at life in Nevada in the 1860s.

An Unusual sport, sandboarding, is played on sand blown from the beaches of an ancient sea that once covered much of Nevada.

Valley of Fire State Park's beautiful red mountains, spires and valleys seem to change shape as the light changes.

More than half the Wild horses in the U.S. roam through the state.

Pony EXpress riders galloped through Nevada in 1860. Today cowboys compete in rodeos, and the National Cowboy Poetry Gathering in Elko is the biggest such gathering in the country.

Years ago Virginia City was one of the richest mining towns in the world. Huge finds of gold and silver brought in thousands of people. Today it has about 800 people. Many old mining towns have become ghost towns where no one lives anymore.

The Las Vegas Zoo teaches people about endangered species and the importance of habitat protection. Its many endangered animals include Bali mynahs and the last family of Barbary apes in the U.S.

lot to do, but it's fun and when you start doing something in Burney, you can't just quit," Wilkins said.

Last Wednesday, about 37 children listened attentively as Steve Vaughn, owner of Vaughn's Sporting Goods in Burney, talked, not about fishing, but birding in his program, The Magic of Birds.

"My wife and I have been birding for 20 years and have identified about 400," he said after the meeting.

"We love to travel and we like to identify birds wherever we go. I also like to take photographs of birds. Now we're getting into wild flowers."

At a table in the back of the library, Wanda Ridley, president of Friends of the Intermountain Libraries, was busy putting together the weekly reading prizes.

"I just love this program," she said. "It gets the children reading and it also utilizes the library and gets the children interested in using the library."

There were small piles of certificates and small toys, book marks, pencils and erasers and also free books donated by Barnes and Noble for every eight books read.

Round Table has donated certificates for pizza and Home Town Buffet is offering the readers a free children's meal for their accomplishments.

There is also a Shasta County Library system-wide contest for participants with a chance for three readers to win a Dell computer.

Every completed 8-book reading log turned in is a chance to win in the drawing at the end of the program, Wilkins said.

The give-away is sponsored by Taylor Motors, KHSL-TV and KNVN-TV.

The program concludes July 30 with a pool party and program celebration.

At the Burney Library last Wednesday, Steve Vaughn, at left, owner of Vaughn's Sporting Goods in Burney, gave a program on birding to about 37 children in the library's popular summer reading program. The program continues at 10:30 a.m. today, with Magic of Eagles presented by eagle experts Terry and Grainger Hunt of McArthur.

Lassen to host field trip on SNFP

The Lassen National Forest is hosting a public field trip on Tuesday, July 29. The field trip will begin at their forest headquarters office at 2550 Riverside Drive in Susanville.

The field trip will begin at 8:30 a.m. and end around 4 p.m. Interested individuals may call Heidi Perry at 252-6604 for more information and to reserve a spot on the bus.

Seating is limited to 40 people and those wanting to attend are advised to reserve early, bring plenty of water, a lunch and wear hiking boots.

The field trip will provide an opportunity for interested individuals to learn more about the Sierra Nevada Framework Plan and the draft supplemental environmental impact statement (DSEIS) that is currently open to public review and comment until Sept. 12.

Three stops are planned to discuss opportunities under the existing Framework versus the new preferred alternative.

Some of the tour will include aspen restoration, thinnings, Defensible Fuel Protection Zones (DFPZ), the 2002 Cone Fire.

The final stop will review a Lassen County Fire Safe Council's fuel reduction project funded by a Forest Service Community Protection grant.

The preferred alternative of the DSEIS is alternative two. A few of the objectives in this particular alternative will benefit the Lassen by:

(1) Improving the ability to meet National Fire Plan objectives with aggressive fuels treatments in the Wildland Urban Interface (WUI) to protect communities, and with effective, strategically placed fuels treatments in the wildland to reduce fire severity in sensitive watersheds and wildlife habitat. (The WUI includes the defense zone, the first mile, and the threat zone, the next 1 mile, surrounding homes and communities.)

(2) Protecting most medium and all large, old trees. Retains 40 percent of the basal area in the largest trees even if they are less than 30 inches in diameter.

Allowing natural resource professionals more flexibility to work with grazing permit holders and recreationists to develop land use practices that protect sensitive habitats and allow appropriate use of resources and enjoyment of the national forests.

Hospital adds 4 system policies

BY MEG FOX

Mayers Memorial Hospital is putting two previous policies back into place and initiating two that are new to keep in compliance with state regulations and provide optimum care.

The hospital recently established an anonymous employee hotline so that anyone on staff can report actual or perceived irregularities.

"If someone thinks something is going on that shouldn't be, they can call the hotline number," CEO Jerry Fikes told the hospital's board of directors at their June 18 meeting in Fall River Mills.

He cautioned that anonymity is guaranteed only up to a certain point because if legal action were taken, a whistleblower could be called as a witness.

Fikes said he also intends to start bringing to the board any complaints that are filed with the state Department of Health Services.

"You need to be aware when the state comes (to the hospital) to look at an issue," he told them. "And I think that you should see (the complaints) so you know that we are doing a good job of reporting and are compliant rather than defiant in how we relate to the DHS," Fikes said.

He said Mayers has had 15 complaints since Jan. 1, many of which the hospital itself filed.

These were primarily a result of occurrences in skilled nursing, for example a non-witnessed patient fall or combative Alzheimer's patients, Fikes said.

He said Mayers has spent about $70,000 to become complaint with computer hardware and software.

Two previous policies have been reinstated.

In April, the physicians with Mountain Valleys Health Center (formerly Intermountain Family Practice Group) requested and received a change in their contract pertaining to ER duty.

Doctors who had ER duty wanted to be on call within 30 minutes so that they were free to do other things off site.

"They wanted to be able to come and go and go into the ER if they had a patient," Fikes said. "We didn't think this was a red-hot idea, but we agreed to try it."

After a close call last month, the hospital returned to its previous standard where the ER doctor on duty must stay on site and be only minutes away from the ER if an emergency comes in.

After a five-month trial, Mayers has also gone back to its contract with Valley Emergency Physicians for weekend coverage of the ER.

Prior to Jan. 1, local physicians covered ER during the week and Valley Emergency provided physicians on weekends. Although these were usually the same local physicians, Valley could provide outside coverage if each local doctor had weekend plans.

Fikes said that when Dr. Scott left they were short a physician for weekend coverage and decided to renew the outside contract.

In other business, the board

- Approved a $21.3 million operating budget for 2003-2004;

- Approved a rate increase, effective Aug. 1;

- Heard that Dr. Steven Scharpf, who is practicing locally again after being called to duty during the recent War on Iraq, has been appointed Medical Director of Mountain Valleys Health Center;

- Heard that George Pfeiffer has been hired as human resources director for one day a week. He replaces Jim Washem who, after four years at Mayers, is moving to Silverton, Ore. to be closer to family;

- Extended Jerry Fikes' contract to Nov. 1 and decided to do his performance evaluation at that time when the hospital's year-end finances are completed.

Prince of Foxes is free movie

The Burney Library's free summer movie festival continues tonight with the 7 p.m. showing of Prince of Foxes, the 1949 Academy Award nominee for Best Cinematography and Best Costume Design.

The movie is set during the Renaissance and filmed entirely in Italy.

It stars Tyrone Power as Orsini, the good-will ambassador for scheming, covetous Cesare Borgia, played by Orson Welles. When Orsini realizes there is more to life than power and possessions, he turns against the Borgias, but is subjected to torture and humiliation. He escapes to spearhead a revolt against the despot.

Festival Host David Shepard of Hat Creek said "power is quite good, but it can't help but be overshadowed by such scenery-chewers as Welles, Katina Paxinou as Orsini's mother and Everett Sloane as the toadying Belli. 107 mins.

Friends of the Intermountain Libraries, Inc. sponsor the free showings. For a complete list of what's to come, stop by the library at 37038 Siskiyou Street or call 335-4317.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING BY THE BURNLEY WATER DISTRICT adoption of Resolution 2003-2

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that on August 6, 2003, in the office of the Burnley Water District, 20222 Hudson Street, Burney, California 96013, the Board of Directors of the Burnley Water District, will conduct a public hearing on a proposal to adopt a resolution to place a measure on the November ballot to increase the swimming pool fee from $2.00 to $3.00 per month.

On Tuesday March 5, 1985, an election was held to determine if the Burnley Water District should adopt a fee of $2.00 per month for the operation and maintenance of a community swimming pool. The measure passed and the $2.00 fee placed on the monthly water bill went into effect in 1986. Due to seventeen years of inflation, the District can no longer properly maintain the swimming pool with the present fee.

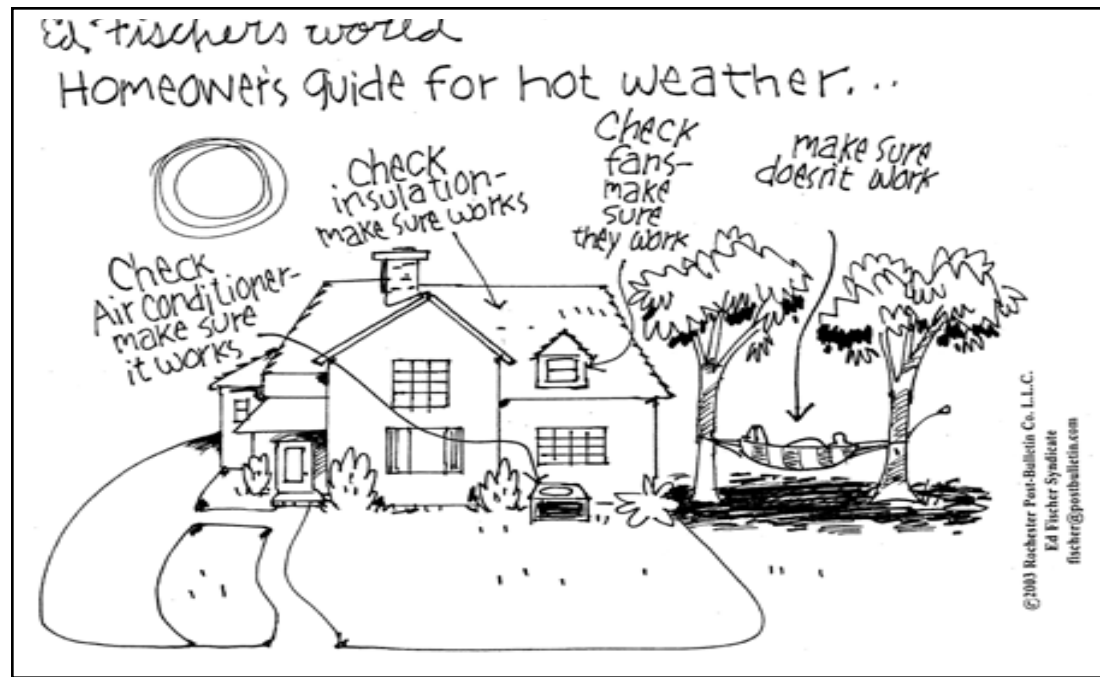

Be advised that any owner of land residing within the subject territory who wishes to file a protest against the increase in fees, must do so by written communication filed with the Secretary of the Board of Directors. This written protest must be filed not later than the conclusion of the hearing. Each written protest must state that it is made by a landowner, and must indicate the name and address of the owner of land affected and the street address or other description sufficient to identify the location of the land.
