Second meeting on long-range plan scheduled for Thursday in Burney

A second community development meeting is taking place in Burney Thursday, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the Burney Chamber Gardens on Main Street.

About 50 community members attended a similar meeting in McArthur last week to throw out their ideas for a proposed community action plan.

There was strong support for expanding the Fall River Valley's volunteer library.

"People said it needs a more permanent home and it needs community support. People don't want to drive over the Pit One grade in winter to get a book," said Barbara Briggs.

Briggs is secretary of the Burney Chamber of Commerce, executive secretary of Fall River CPR, and coordinator for the Intermountain Community Action Plan (ICAP) meetings.

Fall River Valley residents also wanted a community center similar to Burney's that could perhaps house the library.

"One of the dreams was to renovate downtown Fall River Mills with a community park and a center," said Briggs.

Those who participated in the two-hour meeting were also excited about creating an Intermountain Tourism Bureau.

"If we coordinate our efforts to attract tourists, we won't be duplicating our efforts and costs," Briggs said.

Other hopes for the area's future included more affordable housing, more day care, and before and after-school activities.

Someone suggested developing a trade school to meet local needs and attract young adults from outside the area.

There were also broader ideas, such as providing living-wage jobs so that when teenagers graduate they don't have to leave the area to work, and creating more affordable power for the area.

Covanta Three Mountain power plant still on hold; bankruptcy plan moves ahead

BY MEG FOX

Covanta Energy, which filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy on April 1, 2002, has prepared a draft plan for reorganization and also a draft liquidation plan for its geothermal assets.

The draft plans were released for review Sept. 8, but are not final until approved by the U.S. Bankruptcy Court and voted on by the company's creditors.

"However, this is a key step in emerging from Chapter 11 by the end of the year," said Danielle Cagen, spokesperson for Covanta and its proposed Three Mountain Power plant project in Johnson Park.

During negotiations, Covanta and its creditors developed a plan of reorganization involving an employee stock ownership plan (ESOP) and they agreed to retain U.S. Trust Company as an independent fiduciary.

Cagen said that if the ESOP concept were approved, Covanta employees, including employees of Burney Mountain Power in Johnson Park, would become stock owners eligible for compensation through a retirement plan.

"The company would provide a supplementary retirement benefit to its employees based on the value of the company at the time of (the employee's) retirement," Cagen said.

Covanta would "realize a significant increase in after-tax cash flow through a substantial reduction in federal income tax liabilities" if the ESOP and reorganization plan are implemented, according to the 165-page draft.

As a result Covanta could pay

Voters to decide on recall and 2 propositions

Next Tuesday voters will go to the polls and decide, via the county's new touch screens, whether Gov. Gray Davis should be recalled, voting yes to remove him from office or no to keep him.

Shasta County is one of only four counties in the state to provide the new voting machines. The three other counties are Plumas, Alameda and San Bernardino.

If the recall passes, voters will elect one of 135 candidates to replace Davis.

The recall election has some interesting twists, outlined in questions posed and answered in the July 27 edition of the San Francisco Chronicle.

A person can vote against the recall and still vote for a candidate.

If a replacement candidate gets more votes than Davis but the majority votes against the recall, Davis would remain in office.

However if Davis gets more votes than any of the candidates looking to replace him but loses the recall, he is still out.

If Davis is recalled, counties have 28 days to count their votes and another seven days to report to the secretary of state.

"The secretary of state then has four days to decide whether to accept those figures and declare the election official. Once the vote is official, Davis is out as soon as a new governor is sworn," according to the Chronicle.

A newly elected governor would complete Davis' term to January 2007 and would only be permitted to serve one additional term.

Californians will also be voting on two propositions on Tuesday.

Prop. 53 asks whether the state should dedicate up to 3 percent of General Fund revenues annually to fund state and local infrastructure projects. The revenue for projects excludes schools and community colleges.

Prop 54 asks if the state and local governments should be prohibited from classifying any person by race, ethnicity, color, or national origin

Shasta County has consolidated its polling places for this special election. If you're unsure about where to vote, go to the Shasta County Web site at www.co.shasta.ca.us and click on Polling Place Information to enter your town.

Preliminary hearing set for 5 charged with Round Mountain murder

A preliminary hearing has been set for Nov. 12 for five people charged in connection with the murder of a 41-year-old Round Mountain woman. The five -- including the 16-year-old daughter of the victim -- entered pleas Sept. 22 of not guilty before Shasta County Superior Court Judge Wilson Curle in the shooting of Sandra Lynn Metz.

The daughter, Meghan Powell of Oak Run, and defendants Danielle Rodriguez, 16, of Redding; Jack Thomas Morris, 18, of Igo; Clifton Garrett Sherer, 21, of Shasta Lake; and Calvin William Hodge, 19 of Igo all appeared with separate court-appointed attorneys.

Originally, Hodge was only charged with being an accessory after the fact and receiving stolen property.

But sheriff's detectives found additional information, they said, to charge him with conspiracy to commit murder, conspiracy to commit robbery, and conspiracy to commit first degree burglary -- charges the other four defendants are facing.

Sherer is a former resident of Canby and 1999 graduate of Modoc High School.

All are being held in Shasta County jail with bail set at $1 million each.

With all defendants being tried together and each having their own attorney, scheduling the preliminary hearing took most of the time during Monday's 15-minute court appearance.

Although all pled not guilty, they reportedly each confessed to their roll in the murder to detectives shortly after they were arrested

Sept. 14. Sheriff's Det. Steve Grashoff told The News Jack Morris told detectives he met with Powell, Rodriguez and Sherer on Sept. 10, the day before Metz was killed, to talk about breaking into the house she shared with her boyfriend, Jeff Miller, 57.

Miller later found Metz shot dead in the family room of his house just off Highway 299, about one-half mile west of the drinking fountain turnoff.

Morris then said, according to Grashoff, the group planned to break in and steal Miller's guns on the weekend of Sept. 19.

"Jack Morris also told detectives that it was discussed among all of them that if anyone was going to be home, they would have to be killed," Grasso said.

Sherer reportedly told the same story about the plans to "rip off the mansion." The Modoc High graduate also reportedly said the Powell was having problems with her mother and had told him "at least 15 to 20 times," including the Wednesday planning session, that "she wished her mom was dead."

Grashoff said detectives were told by Sherer that after Powell again wished her mother dead, her boyfriend Jack Morris said that he could do it.

"Powell admitted that she wanted her mother dead, but indicated that when she said this, it was just herself 'joking aloud,'" Grashoff said.

The plan was for Sherer and Morris to wait inside the house on Sept. 10 and "cut them down and unload on them," Hodge allegedly told detectives. The plan was postponed when Powell called her mother and learned that Powell's 10-year-old brother might be in the house that night, Hodge reportedly told detectives.

It was then decided to wait until Friday, Sept. 12, after Metz was to receive her paycheck, Hodge reportedly said.

But on Thursday, Sept. 11, the two girls drove to Morris' house in Igo and said they wanted to move up the plan.

Hodge reportedly said he had to work and was running late, so he could not go along with the group.

The girls drove, with Morris and Sherer in the bed of Powell's pickup and with sacks meant to hold the items they planned to steal.

Morris had taken his father's .357 magnum handgun along, Grashoff said.

down its claim and emerge from bankruptcy.

In order to facilitate the plan, Covanta has proposed selling its geothermal assets in Imperial and Mono counties.

What the complex arrangement means in its simplest form is that Covanta is moving forward, Cagen said.

The proposed 500-megawatt Three Mountain Power project is still on hold "until market conditions improve and regulatory and legislative uncertainties are resolved," Cagen said.

The permit to operate issued by the California Energy Commission has been kept current.

Covanta is filing for an extension of its air permit as air quality standards for oxides of nitrogen (NOx) have become more stringent since the project was first okayed.

Three Mountain was originally permitted for 2.5 parts per minute (PPM) of NOx, but will comply with the newer 2.0-PPM requirement using the same equipment originally approved in the permit.

REAL ESTATE CORNER

By, DOROTHY HERRELL, Century 21 Big Pines Realty

HOW DO REALTORS FIND BUYERS?

When a home owner tries to sell "By Owner", they basically use two techniques to get the word out - a plastic sign from the local hardware store and classified ads in the local newspaper. When a seller lists their home with the professional Realtor, however, a very sophisticated process begins in order to make sales happen. Realtors have a backlog of prospective buyers for the homes in their market. Through the Multiple Listing Service, the agent cooperates with other brokers in the area who will show your home to their prospective buyers. Professional Realtors also combine direct mail, telephone calls, and specialized advertising techniques and media, such as the Internet, to reach the sales market. In this way we create activity on our listing that help them to sell quickly - and for top dollar.

U.S. Forest Service personnel look over vehicle involved in rollover Monday morning on Highway 89 south of Honn campground.

Rollover injures 2 near Honn camp

An Oregon couple sustained minor to moderate injuries Monday in a solo crash on Highway 89, about one-half mile south of Honn campground. Eldon Vinson, 77, of Medford, Ore., was driving south on the highway about 10:55 a.m. when, for unknown reasons, he allowed the vehicle to drift of the right side of the roadway. He over-corrected, the California Highway Patrol reported, fishtailed, went off the west side of the highway for a second time, hit an embankment and rolled the vehicle two to three times. His wife Cora, 74, sustained the moderate injuries. Both were treated at Mayers Memorial Hospital in Fall River Mills.

In a separate incident Sept. 23, Jerry P. McGill, 56, of Castella was driving a big rig hauling lumber when it rolled and spilled the lumber on the Highway 89 bridge at Lake Britton. Both lanes were blocked for three and one-half hours during clean-up. For video and complete story, visit im-news.com.

'People wanted a new hospital built'

People said they wanted to support the hospital and hoped a new one would be built. "In conjunction with that, people wanted to build assisted living facilities along the lines of independent living apartments," Briggs said. "We also talked a lot about the river and agriculture and expanding crops. "One idea was to establish a native plant greenhouse and create a business replenishing the wild flower and grasses in burn areas." The community also discussed developing a Fire Safe Council in Eastern Shasta County. After this week's meeting in Burney, the two chambers of commerce will compile the suggestions, or action points, into a draft plan and then create a "more professional" Community Action Plan. Having this plan not only gets things done, but it increases the area's eligibility for grant funding, Briggs said. "If someone wants to do day care, for example, they can seek grant funding and if there is a Community Action Plan they can show there is community support for the project and they are much more likely to receive funding," she said. Both communities developed a similar plan about eight years ago and many of the items on the Wish Lists have been accomplished. Briggs challenged the Burney community to top Fall River Valley's attendance numbers at the next meeting. "It shouldn't be a small group who decides the next 10 years for this area," she said.

2004 Community Calendars on Sale Now

A great big thanks to the Fall River Lions Club for providing our community with the annual "Community Calendar" for the last 47 years. Their dedication to the calendar provided an annual service and product that the Fall River Valley has looked forward to and enjoyed year after year. It provided our town with a great product while creating revenue for their organization. Regrettably, the Fall River Lions Club has decided not to sell the calendars any more. The good news is that the Intermountain 4-H clubs will be taking over the calendar sales. Starting today, our 200 local 4-Hers will be out in full force selling 2004 calendar, covering the entire Intermountain area, including Burney. The Intermountain 4-H clubs will be providing the same great calendar that you've seen in the past, but like with all things, there will be some changes. If you know that you want a 2004 calendar and have not been contacted by a 4-H member, it is important for you to act now! Simply use the order form provided in this newspaper or call a 4-H club member in your area for information. Like all projects there is a fast approaching deadline. The calendar orders end Wednesday, October 22, 2003. Our local 4-H group consists of five clubs with approximately 200 youth members in our Intermountain regions: Cloverleaf, Pine Grove and Evergreen clubs are in the Fall River-McArthur area, Hat Creek and Burney each have a club too. The much needed revenue raised from the calendar sales will provide the necessary funds to cover the clubs' numerous events and activities that the members take part in throughout their 4-H year. It also pays for the children's awards, pins and ribbons that they earn while participating in all of these 4-H programs and events. This is why the calendar sales are so important. Thank you in advance for purchasing a 2004 calendar and help our children be proud 4-H members. For further information please call Stacy Schneider at 336-6832 or Kim Arendt at 335-3544

Grants sought for area brochures

BY MEG FOX

Both the Burney and Fall River Valley chambers of commerce have been working with the U.S. Forest Service on a grant to develop brochures for the Intermountain Area.

The local chambers especially want the brochures for the new $4.5 million Lassen Volcanic Scenic Byway Visitors Center to be built at I-5 and Highway 89 in Mt. Shasta.

"The brochures are our invitation to stop and see us," said Burney Chamber Secretary Barbara Briggs at the Sept. 15 board meeting.

Briggs said they are applying for a $2,000 interim grant to print about 10,000 full color brochures.

Chamber President Lori Winningham reported that they are donating a tree in memory of Burney resident and insurance agent Dan Porter, through the Turtle Bay Plant-A-Tree program.

The Forest Council, Turtle Bay, and Caltrans have partnered to restore a three-mile burn area between Montgomery Creek and Burney on Highway 299E where the native forest was destroyed in the 1992 Fountain Fire.

In other business, Briggs noted that KIXE-TV is interested in doing a feature on this area and how small communities are marketing themselves. The station did a similar program in Trinity County.

"It would give us more exposure and we could have copies to use for promotion," Briggs said.

She also reported that the Burney Chamber currently has 116 members. Nominees for the chamber's new officers will be announced at the Oct. 6 meeting and voted on in November to take over in January.

Burney Mountain Video has donated the printing and postage for the quarterly Chamber newsletter.

Students at Burney Elementary School slide, swing, climb, and zip on the new structure designed for older children, one of two the school bought using API funds.

Reward for API scores at BES

Getting good scores on state tests has paid off for the students at Burney Elementary School, who have new playground equipment primarily paid for through $43,991 in Academic Performance Index (API) funding.

The reward is based on the school's 1999-2000 STAR test results.

A $1,000 mini-grant from the Partnership for the Public's Health, $1,500 raised by PTA, and $1,000 from the school's block grant paid for the balance on the two new play structures for the school's K-3rd grade and 4th through 6th grade students.

Included in the total is about $6,000 worth of wood chips surrounding the play structures, labor costs to Intermountain Conservation Camp and the cost for a licensed site supervisor.

"We started setting money aside for a long-term project. We wanted to improve our playground and reward our students for their improved academic achievement," said Karen Churney, kindergarten teacher at the school.

Hat Creek Construction donated six yards of concrete for the project, Napa Auto Parts donated hardware and cable ties, Sierra Pacific Industries donated wood and stakes for the perimeter concrete wall, and Caltrans also donated metal stakes.

A variety of volunteers helped get the project done.

"The Wall family, the McQuade family and Jenny Arseneau were tireless helpers and spent half the summer here," said Churney. Members of Boy Scout Troop 38, college interns on loan from Dicalite, and Napa Auto Parts also spent hot summer days installing the equipment.

"It's exciting to have this combination of resources and to get the structures in such a short amount of time. It's also exciting that people are interested in community development," Churney said.

Paintings, park bench among prizes at Harvest Dinner fundraiser for museum

Tickets are now on sale for the Fort Crook Museum's annual fundraiser drawing.

The drawing will take place during the Harvest Dinner on Sunday, October 19, at the Veterans' Hall in Fall River Mills. Winners need not be present to win, but everyone is welcome to attend the dinner.

The generously donated prizes include a pie safe made of old wood by Jim Mitchell of Cassel, a wood and wrought iron park bench from Hovis Hardware, an oil painting of McArthur-Burney Falls by Jim Pell of Hat Creek, a bird house by Jim Crum of Alaska Sculpture in Anchorage, and a hand-made afghan in fall colors by Grace Green-Tobin of Burney.

Tickets are $1 each or six for $5 at the Museum, The Frosty in Fall River Mills, Annie's Place and Hovis Hardware in Burney or from a member of the Fort Crook Historical Society.

The annual drawing is the major fundraiser of the Fort Crook Historical Society to cover operating costs and maintaining the Museum.

For more information about the dinner or raffle, call the Museum at 336-5110 between noon and 4:00 p.m., Tuesday through Sunday.

Cardinals next foe – Hayfork Timberjacks

Big Valley senior Timmy Fritsch (54) and senior Blake Oney (3) are two flying Cardinals making the tackle on Bishop Quinn running back Ryan Blackstone.

Big Valley senior fullback Mike Blue leads the Evergreen League in rushing yards, having gained 491 stripes in four games. He rushed for 126 Saturday.

Big Valley continues win streak beating BQ

Big Valley will host its next opponent Friday night -- the only other unbeaten team in the Evergreen League -- Hayfork when the two clash at the Cardinal homecoming.

Big Valley Saturday avenged a last season loss to Bishop Quinn, defeating the Lions on their home field in Palo Cedro, 50-0.

The win was the fourth shutout this season as Big Valley has garnered 203 points while allowing none on defense.

Leading the Cardinals in rushing Saturday was Mike Blue, who picked up 126 yards on 15 carries. Behind him was Blake Oney who rushed 10 times for 94 yards.

Blue also scored four times, rushing for three and catching an aerial for his fourth score of the afternoon.

Oney, quarterback JC Hunsaker and fullback Juan Escalante each added a touchdown to the Cardinal victory.

Hunsaker scored first on a 14-yard scamper in the first quarter. Blue then scored on a 21-yard run and added a 2-point conversion.

The Cardinals scored 22 points in the second quarter; Blue's 10-yard run and 2-point conversion, Oney's 47-yard run, and Escalante's pass reception for the conversion. Blue's third touchdown was a six-yard run across the goal.

Big Valley's other scores came in the fourth quarter -- Blue's 8-yard reception from Hunsaker, Oney's extra point kick, and Escalante's 27-yard run. Oney added another conversion kick, bringing his league-leading season scoring total to 59.

Blue is close behind with 54 points thus far. Bishop Quinn's Scott Merlette, who sustained a knee injury Thursday before Saturday's game and didn't play, has scored 33 points this season.

Bishop Quinn senior Ryan Blackstone (24), formerly of Burney, moves in on Cardinal Mike Blue in game Saturday at the Lions field in Palo Cedro. Big Valley has shut out their last four opponents while scoring 203 points.

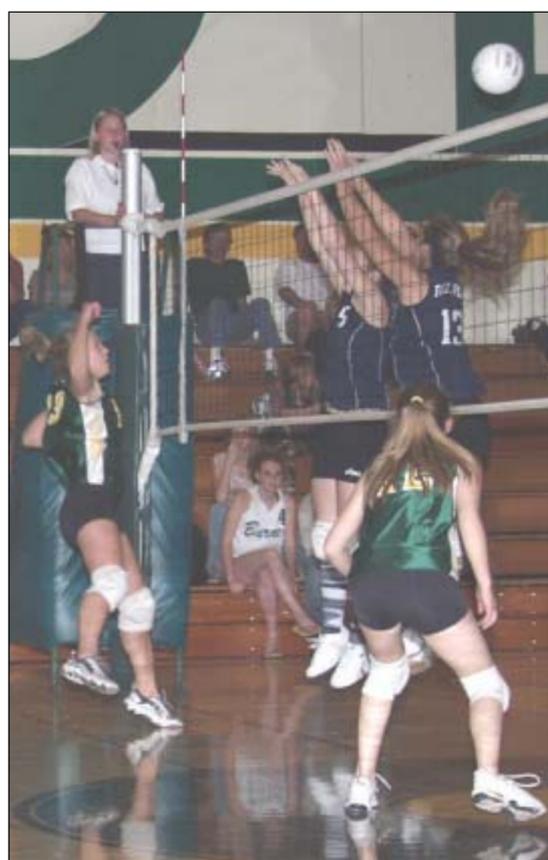

NEWS PHOTOS / Craig Harrington

Cardinal quarterback JC Hunsaker, above, is leading the Evergreen League in passing, throwing for 233 yards in four games. The senior also shines on defense as a free safety leading the league in sacks with four. At right, Cardinal David Leventon (70) vocals a reaction at Bishop Quinn senior running back Jeremy Singer (99) in fourth quarter of Saturday game at the Lions field. Big Valley defeated the Lions 50-0 for the Cardinals's fourth shutout of the season. The win also avenged a loss last year when the Lions defeated Big Valley. The Cardinals will host Hayfork at Big Valley's homecoming Friday night. The Timberjacks are also undefeated this season, sporting a similar 4-0 record.

Big Valley topples Chester

Big Valley had a slow start before toppling Chester in volleyball Sept. 25 in five games, 17-25, 26-28, 26-24, 25-22, 15-8.

Stacie Jurantis had 8 kills, 3 blocks, 2 digs and 1 ace. Nicole Winegarden had 9 kills, 2 blocks, 1 assist, 2 digs and 4 aces. Katie Pope had 3 kills, 12 assists, and 1 block, 1 dig and 1 ace.

BY MEG FOX

The week was mostly a blow out for Fall River High School's volleyball team.

First it was a blown tire on the bus they traveled to Etna in, and then the Lady Bulldogs blew their game with Etna, losing 25-10, 25-19, and 25-17 on Sept. 23.

But the worst blow, perhaps, was losing to Burney on the Raiders' court Thursday.

"It was the first time – since junior high – that the girls on my team ever lost to Burney," said Coach Kelly Freeland-Sloat.

Burney lost the first game with Fall River, 23-25, but came back fighting to win the second and third, 28-26, 25-22.

Fall River won the next game 25-20, but lost the final 15-point match by five points for a final score of 15-10.

"It was a hard fought game and my girls played hard and they expected to win. But when Burney came back to win the second game, it took the wind out of their sails and they started to play a little bit scared after that," Freeland-Sloat said.

After their League win, Burney Coach Pete Giachetti advised his team to stay in control of their emotions, just as they'd done to get that satisfying victory.

"I thought they played very well against Fall River. They kept their cool and they kept working hard and it paid off for them. We started giving them a pretty good match and it surprised them," he said.

Fall River's Jessica Hero

had a total of 15 kills; Jessica Caldwell had 10 kills, and Nikki Looper and Abby Salters each landed 9 kills. Britany Shelton had 19 assists.

On the other side of the net, Burney's Aimee Ayers had 12 kills, 3 aces, 5 service points, 4 blocks and 4 assists. Sophomore Robbie Fulk had 18 kills and 4 service points.

Setter Kristen Churney had 30 assists, 8 service points and 2 aces. Rocksann Barba had 7 aces, 2 service points. Amy Spencer had 4 kills, 3 service points and 1 ace. Kayla Stover had 2 kills, 4 service points and 3 aces.

"It was a very big win for us, especially considering our injury situation," Giachetti said.

Two of Burney's starters played with injuries.

Kayla Stover had an injured toe. Rocksann Barba sustained a concussion during the Fall River-Burney football game, when she got mixed up in a tackle that moved to the sidelines where she was taking photographs for yearbook.

Starter Jessica Van Laak is still on the bench with an injured arm and Jennifer Wall has been out for about two weeks with a sprained ankle, but was expected back on the court this week.

Burney also played five games against Weed at Weed Sept. 23, winning the first two, 25-11 and 25-20, but losing the remainder, 21-25, 23-25, 14-16.

Fulk landed 15 kills, 1 ace and 2 service points and Ayers added 8 kills, 3 aces, 7 service points, 1 block and 1 assist.

Fall River, Burney win, lose some in 2-day Red Bluff tournament

Burney and Fall River's varsity volleyball teams competed against the "big guys" Friday and Saturday at the annual two-day Red Bluff Tournament.

"We always go knowing we'll be playing bigger schools and seeing players who are quite a bit better, but it is a bonding experience for our team and a learning experience," said Burney Coach Pete Giachetti.

While the Burney team was getting experience playing Division 5 teams at Mercy High School, Fall River was bouncing back from two mid-week losses (Etna and Burney) to get some wins, though not at first.

On Friday, the Bulldogs lost two of three games to a team from Eureka, 17-25, 25-22, 12-15.

They next took on Pleasant Valley from Chico. "We got killed," said Fall River Coach Kelly Freeland-Sloat, about their 25-14, 25-13 losses.

Before the day's end, Fall River beat Liberty Christian, 25-22, 25-17.

First thing Saturday morning, Fall River had to face Etna again and lost 25-16, 25-12.

But from then on, the sun began to shine for the team.

They beat Florin High School, 25-20, 19-25, 17-15. They beat Oroville 26-24, 17-25, 15-8. And they beat Mercy 25-20, 25-17.

"The best part of this tournament was that we figured out a better rotation. Once we started with that, we didn't lose again," said Freeland-Sloat.

The Burney Raiders had similar joys and struggles – losing to Paradise, Florin, and Enterprise high schools on Friday.

On Saturday, Burney lost to Central Valley, 25-15, 25-19, but beat Liberty Christian in three games, 25-15, 23-25, 15-10.

Burney lost to West Valley, 15-25, 19-25, and came back to win their last game against West Campus of Sacramento, 25-13, 25-13.

Bulldogs soccer team nets League win over last year's champion, Modoc

BY MEG FOX

The Fall River High School soccer team won their first league game in a close, 4-3, match against Modoc, last year's League champions, Thursday in Alturas.

In the first half, Modoc took the lead with a goal by Rafael Savilla, but in the 30th minute Fall River's Deiter Salters stole the ball and broke away for a goal to tie the game for the Bulldogs.

Salters scored again on an assist from Lesley Taylor and then it was Savilla's turn. He scored on a penalty kick, putting the Bulldogs at 2-2 at the half, said Coach Matt McAlerney.

Goalkeeper Jake Shuler was taken out with an injury and replaced by Thomas Turner, who, said McAlerney "played a great game for us."

In the second half, Salters scored again, unassisted. The Bulldogs jumped ahead, 4-2, when Caleb Shuler landed a goal with an assist from Tim Arnold.

Modoc immediately responded with Savilla making a direct kick just outside the box.

But the Bulldogs held them and walked away with the win.

Fall River took on Butte Valley earlier in the week and had a 4-2 win with Mark Van Staaveren scoring the first goal 14 minutes into the game on a shot from 30 yards out, McAlerney said.

Caleb Shuler followed up with two more goals to give Fall River a 3-0 lead at the half.

"They came back relatively strong and pulled two quick goals, made by Butte Valley's Shane Cynor," McAlerney said.

In the 24th minute, Fall River's Jonny Barrett "caught a ball with his knee and knocked it back into the box where it hit a Butte Valley player and found the net for the win."

On Saturday the Bulldogs traveled to Etna, short both Salters and Van Staaveren, and lost their second league game, 2-1.

Etna jumped right into the game and scored first, but Fall River's Brandon Beck responded and scored a goal in the last minute of the first half.

"The second half was a defensive struggle totally dominated by Brent Handa, until Brent was tripped and Etna got by him to score the winning goal," McAlerney said.

The Bulldogs are 4-3 overall and 1-1 in League.

Sidewinders U12 Boys lost to Red Bluff Osasuna, 7-2, in McArthur. "Our first goal was a beautiful penalty shot made by Michael Pena. The second was made after a spectacular forward drive by Donny Beck that resulted in a score by John Neugebauer, assisted by Edward Richno," said Coach Mary Estill-Childress.

Starfire U12 Girls had a tie, 2-2, game with the Anderson Cowgirls in Anderson. "Ashley Bonsey made a goal and the penalty kick to score another goal. It was awesome," said Coach Dawn Watson.

Matrix U14 Girls and Boys beat the Westwood-Chester Volcanoes, 4-0, at Burney High School. Ryan Watson scored the first goal in the first five minutes of the game. In the second half, Adam Valdivia scored two goals and Nichole Barry scored one.

Bashers U12 Boys lost to the Palo Cedro Cyclones, 5-0, at Burney High School.

Lady Hawks U14 Girls lost to the Redding Rousers, 3-1, in Redding. Maryah Snow made the solo goal for her team.

Burney, Fall River runners capture medals at Butte Valley Invitational

The cross-country teams from Burney and Fall River junior-senior high schools competed Sept. 27 at Butte Valley in that school's first invitational meet.

The course made a loop around Juanita Lake at Klamath National Forest.

Each of the junior high school girls on Fall River's team won medals on the 1.65-mile course.

Kalie Schneider came in first place overall with a time of 13:01.

Michelle Vaughn was second with a time of 13:22 and Whitney Kellum came in third at 14:09.

The varsity girl's course was 3.3 miles and Fall River's Mimi Brown won her race with a time of 26:17.

Burney High School sent three cross-country runners and sophomore Isaac Valdivia led the way for the Raiders on the 2.8 mile course with a time of 22:06. He placed fourth overall.

Cooper Allison finished fifth in 23:31 and Jeremiah Newton placed sixth in 25:53.

Burney graduate's path leads her to Navy command post

BY MEG FOX

When U.S. Navy Commanding Officer Diann (Dunn) Pape was graduated from Burney High School in 1974, she wasn't sure what she wanted to do next, but the straight-A student knew she was tired of school.

She went to Shasta College for a while and in January 1975 she enlisted.

It wasn't a decision she put a lot of thought into and she wasn't particularly passionate about the Navy, as she is now.

"I just went down to Redding one day and did it," she said.

"At the time there was an 18-month wait for women to get in based on available slots at boot camp.

"I told the recruiter to forget it, anything could happen in 18 months. He had me take the entrance exam anyway. I scored so high, in the top one percent of the nation - good ol' Burney High - that three days later I was on my way to Orlando, Florida for boot camp."

And she never looked back.

Her exciting and challenging career in the Navy, filled with many firsts as a woman, was capped on March 6, 2003 when she was promoted to Commanding Officer of the Naval Airborne Weapons Maintenance Unit One during an invitation-only Change of Command Ceremony at Top O' the Mar, Guam.

She is the Navy's first female aviation ordnance-man limited duty officer to take command of this unit and its 50 sailors and she is the most senior female Navy Commanding Officer (CDO) in her specialty.

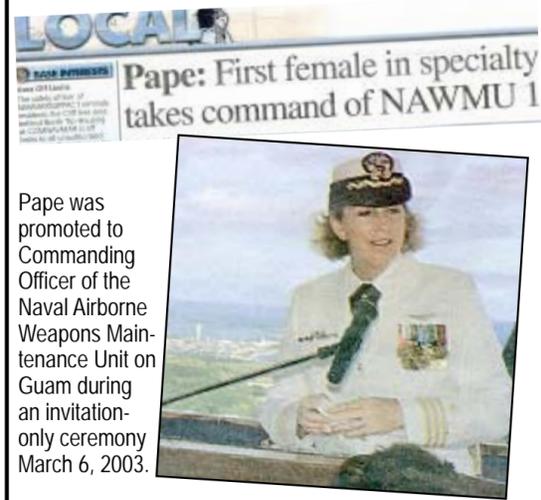

Pape is the eighth woman to come into the aviation ordnance-man (AO) rating, the second woman to make the AO2 paygrade, the first to make AO1 (E6) and AOC (E-7), and the first to make Limited Duty Officer (LDO).

As an AO, she found her duties interesting and sometimes thrilling.

"You don't know excitement until you're trying to arm a missile hanging on a jet that's running right next to an F-14 on the catapult at military (full) power over in the Gulf.

"It is awesome; nothing compares," she said.

She also loves her work.

Pape was promoted to Commanding Officer of the Naval Airborne Weapons Maintenance Unit One during an invitation-only ceremony March 6, 2003.

"It's hard, but the community is as tight as you can find. We look out for one another much more so than in other communities within the Navy.

"I loved my time on the aircraft carriers the most of all my assignments, and I've had some great assignments.

"That said, it was not easy being a woman in a 'man's' rating. For many years I battled against men who didn't think women belonged in the AO rating," she said.

AO is a "sea intensive" rating and most of the "billets" or jobs are at sea, either in aircraft squadrons, or on aircraft carriers, she explained.

It wasn't until 1994, when the combat exclusion law was lifted, that women in Aviation Ratings were allowed to go to sea.

"I finally gained equal footing with my peers," she said.

She has traveled throughout the world in her 28-year-career, starting with her initial assignment to the Naval Air Facility in Keflavik, Iceland.

She advanced in rank and completed successful tours at Whidbey Island, Wash. and Okinawa, Japan before finishing her enlisted career at Lualualei, Hawaii.

In August 1987, she was commissioned as an Ensign designator 6361, AO and assigned as a Weapons Officer to the Naval Air Station at Sigonella, Sicily.

She advanced to Lt. Junior Grade and in 1990 was transferred to Weapons Officer in the United Kingdom.

She was again advanced, to Lieutenant, and in 1992 returned to the U.S. on assignment as the Assistant Weapons Officer at the Naval Air Station at North Island, Ca.

When Congress repealed the Combat Exclusion Law in 1994, Pape boarded the USS Abraham Lincoln, leading a division of 65 personnel in the western Pacific and Persian Gulf.

She continued to advance and in July 1999 was transferred to the U.S. Strategic Command as Nuclear Munitions Officer.

Three years later, she was back at sea as Weapons Department head on the USS John C. Stennis.

For the layman, Pape likened her new work as a Commanding Officer to that of a CEO of a large corporation.

"Large or small, the CEO does the paperwork and looks out for the people and the future of the company.

"It's really not much different for the management of a Navy command. I do a lot of traveling to attend conferences and meetings," she said, perhaps too modestly.

Her unit, the Naval Airborne Weapons Maintenance Unit One (NAWMU 1), is described as having "a vital position in national security" and is the only unit of its kind to perform intermediate-level missile maintenance.

"My command is the only command of its type. We travel all over the world to perform maintenance on various types of Naval munitions.

"Mostly, we work on missiles that are launched from aircraft. We do minor cosmetic maintenance, painting, sanding; and we do software reloads and updates.

"We also do missile testing where we put the missile on a maintenance stand, hook it up to a computer, and run the seeker and guidance sections through their paces."

"What this all means to the Navy is a huge savings in both time and money. Instead of having to send a missile or bomb or some component thereof back to the states to the factory for maintenance, they can send them to me, here on Guam, and I can fix or upgrade them and return them back to the Fleet in no time."

Pape and her family moved to Burney in 1968 when her father, California Highway Patrol Officer Arthur Dunn, was transferred to the Burney station.

Her mother owned and operated Judy's Fabric Shop on Main Street. "It was across from Shoemaker Shell and right next to the Burney Creek Bridge," Pape recalled.

She was in her 20's when her father was shot and killed in the line of duty while transporting a prisoner, Gary Eades, in his patrol vehicle on Highway 89 near the Dana cutoff.

A portion of Highway 89 near Dead Horse Summit was dedicated in his name in 2002.

But Pape has happy memories of Burney and of attending school here and still keeps in touch with her favorite teacher, Susan Osborne, who recently retired.

She also stays in touch with her friends, Carla (White) Schechla, who lives in Burney, and Becky (Gard), Miller who now lives in Susanville.

"I went to West Burney School for the 6th and 7th grades. We used to roller-skate in the gym for P.E. back then. I wonder if they still do?" Pape wrote in a recent e-mail from Guam.

"I remember how one of my other best friends, used to come into my classes with some kind of story about my horses.

"She would say that they either got out or that the Vet was there to see them and I had to go home, or whatever.

"We would then go to my house, saddle up the horses, and go for a nice long ride. I seriously doubt that this play fooled any of the teachers, but they always let me go.

"I was a good student and got all A's for the most part and my friend was a lost cause, so I guess they figured it just didn't matter much."

Today Pape and her husband, Fred Pape, a retired Navy Warrant Officer, live in off-station Navy housing in the Guam village of Asan.

He currently works as a DoD civilian at Andersen AFB on the North end of Guam.

"The area that we live in is called Nimitz Hill and has wonderful views of both sides of the island - of the Pacific Ocean and the Philippine Sea. It is one of the highest spots on the island at only 600 ft. elevation."

Their daughters, Sara and Carey, are both grown and live in the United States, in Florida and Arizona.

When asked if she had any involvement in the War on Iraq Pape wrote, "Everyone serving our country had some play in the recent wars.

"My command did its part by making sure all the ordnance that needed maintenance got it and got back to the front lines.

"We also helped with the effort in returning ordnance assets back to the fleet from the desert.

"As you might imagine, a huge amount of ordnance was pre-positioned in country when the U.S. moved in.

"All that ordnance that wasn't actually expended had to be inspected for serviceability. My command did a lot of that and it's an ongoing effort," she said.

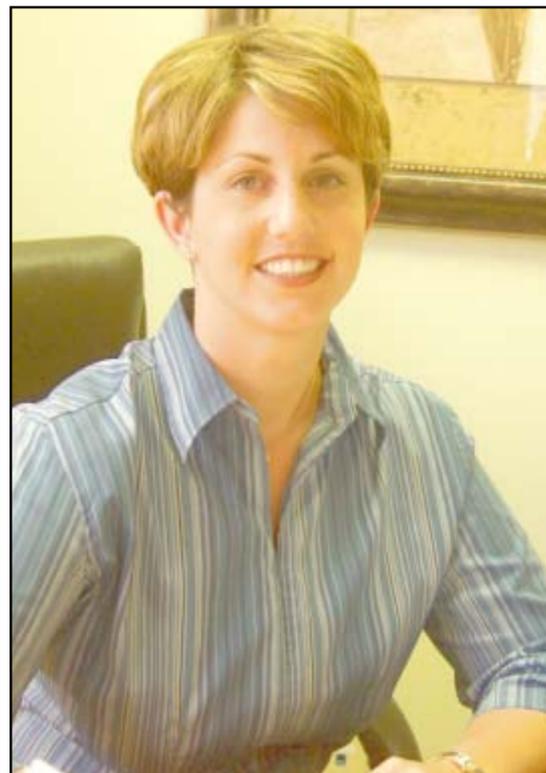

Pape encourages young people to consider a tour in one of the services.

"It allows you to mature, figure out what you'd like to do when you grow up, and gives you valuable leadership and work experience.

"The Navy, in particular gives you a chance to, in fact, 'See the World.' Even if you only do one tour it is well worth your time. Especially when you consider the G.I. Bill college benefits," she said.

It was definitely the right move for her.

"I love it so much. In the service, all it takes to do well is a little common sense, a little initiative, and an ability to conform to standards and follow orders. It's really very simple and anyone can do well here."

DR. KRISTI DAVIS

New optometrist earned way through college as firefighter

Optometrist Dr. Kristi (Patten) Davis is the new owner of Eye Care Associates in Burney.

She opened her office at 37333 Main Street on Sept. 1 and replaces Dr. Jeff Kossol, with whom she worked for about a year before his semi-retirement.

As a result, she said, "I know the patients and the practice pretty well and I know I like it."

Dr. Davis grew up in Palo Cedro and was graduated from Enterprise High School in Redding.

She attended Shasta College and the University of California, Davis, while at the same time working as a seasonal firefighter for the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection in Tehama County.

She transferred to Pacific University in Forest Grove, Ore., where she earned a degree in exercise physiology with a minor in biology.

With an interest in vision, she applied to the Pacific University College of Optometry, one of only 16 such schools in the U.S., and was graduated in 2002 with her doctorate degree in optometry.

She also put her CDF work experience to use in Oregon as a "sleeper," a resident volunteer firefighter/EMT/Engineer for the Forest Grove Fire and Rescue station.

"That's how I put myself through school. The station was right across from the school and I worked there in exchange for room and board. I was a firefighter by night and a student by day," she said.

Completing her residency training, Dr. Davis once again found unique places to work "at three different places in three states."

Her first rotation was a three-month stint at the Air Force Academy Hospital and Peterson Air Force Base in Colorado Spring, Colo. She also worked for the County health Department in Portland, before taking on her first choice rotation with the Veterans Administration Hospital in Honolulu, Hawaii.

By then, she said, "I was ready to come home, though it was hard to leave Hawaii and the opportunities there."

She and her new husband, Todd Davis, who were married in May, were also tiring of their long-distance relationship - although they do enjoy traveling, as well as water and snow skiing.

Eye Care Associates provides full service eye care and is open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Wednesday. Ophthalmologist Dr. Bobetta Berthelson is in the office on Thursdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. for surgery appointments.

Eye Care Associates also provides no cost vision services for children through the Healthy Families Sight for Students program.

For information or an appointment call Eye Care Associates at 335-2233.

Up at 5 a.m. to run 3 miles

Marine Corps Pfc. Dustin B. Ferguson, the son of Susan M. Hoae of Burney and Harold J. Ferguson of Red Bluff, recently completed 12 weeks of basic training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

The course is designed to challenge new Marine recruits both physically and mentally.

Ferguson and fellow recruits began their training at 5 a. m. by running three miles and performing calisthenics.

In addition to the physical conditioning program, Ferguson spent numerous hours in the classroom and on field assignments.

Courses included learning first aid, uniform regulations, combat water survival, marksmanship, hand-to-hand combat and assorted weapons training.

They performed close order drill and operated as a small infantry unit during field training.

Ferguson and other recruits also received instruction on the Marine Corps' core values--honor, courage and commitment, and what the words mean in guiding personal and professional conduct.

Ferguson and fellow recruits ended the training phase with The Crucible, a 54-hour, team evolution culminating in an emotional ceremony in which recruits are presented the Marine Corps Emblem, and addressed as "Marines" for the first time in their careers.

Ferguson is a 1988 graduate of Red Bluff Union High School.

Power School graduate

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Mark R. More, the son of Ann and Glenn M. More of McArthur, graduated this summer from the Navy's Basic Nuclear Power School at Naval Nuclear Power Training Command, Goose Creek, S. C.

During the six-month course, More received fundamental training in several technical fields related to the nuclear power program.

More studied basic mathematics and physics for three months in preparation for hands-on training later in the course.

He also spent hours becoming familiar with nuclear reactor theory and operations and he is prepared to operate a reactor on a nuclear powered submarine or aircraft carrier.

More is a 2002 graduate of Fall River Junior-Senior High School and joined the Navy in February 2003. He was recently promoted to his current rank.
