Protest smaller in Big Valley over SB60

BY MEG FOX

The Hispanic community in Big Valley kept their children out of school Dec. 12 to protest the state's repeal of SB 60.

The law, repealed Dec. 3, would have allowed non-documented or illegal immigrants to test for a driver's license or California ID card and to obtain auto insurance.

Some people in Big Valley didn't go to work that day, either, but that was actually due to the bad weather,

Hospital awarded Bio-Z grant

The Intermountain Healthcare Foundation has received a $15,423 grant from the Mercy Foundation in Redding for the purchase of a Bio-Z non-invasive cardiac output monitor.

Margaret Truan, executive director of the Intermountain Healthcare Foundation that serves Mayers Memorial Hospital, wrote the grant.

She and other Mercy Foundation recipients were invited to receive their grants during a luncheon Dec. 17 at the Riverview Golf and Country Club in Redding.

Truan said the Bio-Z provides very accurate readings, which can be relayed to physicians and also travel with the patient if the person needs to be transported to another hospital.

New hospital safety law no problem here

BY MEG FOX

Mayers Memorial Hospital is prepared for the new Safe Hospital Staffing law that goes into effect Jan. 1 and requires a minimum nurse-to-patient ratio in acute care facilities.

"Other hospitals will have serious problems maintaining these ratios. Fortunately for us, this will not be happening at Mayers," according to Anna Engman, director of nursing at the Fall River Mills hospital.

Statewide, the law mandates that hospitals have at least one RN for every six patients in general medical and post-surgical units, one RN for every four ER patients, and one RN for every four pediatric patients.

The law also requires hospitals to increase staffing for patients who need additional care.

Engman said the law applies to Mayers because it is a Critical Access Hospital with a Stand-By Emergency Department.

The 1:6 ratio applies to Mayers' Station I, medical-surgical unit, Engman said.

After a phase-in period, the new law will require one nurse for every five patients, effective Jan 1, 2005.

The California Nurses Association sponsored the law in hopes of relieving statewide nursing shortages and improving patient safety.

Former Gov. Gray Davis signed AB394 in October 1999 and the state Department of Health Services released proposed statewide ratios on July 1, 2003.

Although the hospital industry sought to delay and revise the law, Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger has also supported the new regulations.

California is the first state to establish minimum nurse-to-patient ratios.

"The new nurse ratio will create a little more paperwork for us, but basically it won't impact our staffing levels or our ability to care for patients at this time," Engman said.

"We already staff at the ratio level and we will just need to ensure that we kept them at the required level."

The minimum nurse-to-patient ratios set by the Department of Health Services include:

ER: General 1:4; Critical care 1:2; Trauma 1:1 (Triage RNs not counted in the ratios)

Medical & Surgical: 1:6; after phase-in 1:5; Step-Down/Intermed. Care/DOU 1:4; Step-Down/Telemetry 1:4; Telemetry 1:5; Oncology/SpecCare 1:5; Labor and Delivery 1:2; OR/PACU: Under anesthesia 1:1; Post anesthesia 1:2;

Pediatric 1:4; Intermediate Care Nursery 1:4; Well Baby Nursery 1:8.

THE POWER OF ENERGY EFFICIENCY

In today's environmentally challenged, energy conscious world, it pays to be efficiency minded when considering the energy features of a prospective property. According to the National Association of Home Builders, there are specific elements that identify an energy efficient home. An educated homebuyer should be familiar with each one. Look for double paned windows with low-e coating that conserve heat during the winter and deflect the summer sun. Confirm that the house is fortified with the proper amount of insulation in the walls, roof and floor. Check that the heating and air conditioning systems are as energy efficient as possible. Heating and air conditioning account for up to 50% of a homes utility bill. Take note of the landscaping around the home. Intelligent placement of trees and shrubbery can have a significant impact on cooling your home. Consult Energy Guide labels when choosing your lighting fixtures and appliances. The label will estimate the operating costs of that particular item. Although it may be a challenge to take everything into account now, when the first utility bill arrives in the mail you will be happy you took the time and improved your "energy I.Q."

according to Greta Rodriguez, a Bieber resident and an interpreter for Mountain Valleys Health Center and the school district's Migrant Ed program.

"It just worked out for us. No one could have afforded not to work," she said.

Big Valley parents boycotted by keeping about 10 to 20 children home from school and by trying not to spend money in the community that day, Rodriguez said.

"The day of protest was a much bigger deal in Los Angeles," she said.

According to the Los Angeles Times, some in their city feared that the "Great Latino Economic Boycott" would do more harm than good and thought children should stay in school Dec. 12.

Rodriguez said that although most of the families she knows are documented, if SB 60 had passed "it would have been wonderful for everybody, not just the Hispanic community," she said.

"There are some who go to Oregon to get their driver's licenses so they can drive legally," she said.

"The law also would have protected people who were in an accident with a non-licensed (uninsured) driver.

"And," she continued, "I think it's better to know how many undocumented immigrants there are in California and this would have been a good way to find out. It would have provided protection."

Former Gov. Gray Davis signed SB 60, authored by Sen. Gil Cedillo (D-Los Angeles), into law on Sept. 5, 2003, and it was to have gone into effect Jan. 1 2004.

When Davis signed the law, he said the two million immigrants in California "who are working and contributing to the economy deserve the right to drive."

Proponents, like Rodriguez, also saw the bill as a means to improve safety on the highways.

But when Davis was recalled, so was the bill in a 64-9 vote by the California Assembly.

Opponents said the bill would allow someone to adopt a new identity without any background checks. Some who were against SB 60 said the state needed to more strictly enforce U.S. Immigration laws especially since Sept. 11.

Newly elected Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger signed SB X3 1, one of two bills authored by Sen. Rico Oller (R-San Andreas) to repeal SB 60, and non-citizens must still comply with U.S. immigration laws to obtain a valid driving license in California.

Christmas memory

When the students in the second/third grade combination class at Fall River Elementary School were asked to write about their favorite Christmas memory, Joseph Winn wrote the following about his family. He is the son of Denise Winn of Fall River Mills and is Mrs. Meenan's third grade group. My Favorite Christmas Memory: "My favorite Christmas memory is always of my family. I love my family. I don't care what they get me. My family is nice. They do lots of things for me. I do lots of things for them, too. My family does stuff for Christmas. They go to my grandparents house to have Christmas dinner."

Lack of documentation makes property 'not very marketable'

BY MEG FOX

The owners of Rocky Ledge Shell and Rocky Ledge Food Mart on Highway 299 in Johnson Park filed for Chapter 7 bankruptcy and the business is closed.

A clerk for the U.S. Bankruptcy Court's Eastern District in Sacramento said the owners, Balwinder Sign Jhooty and his wife Gurpreet Kaur Jhooty, subsequently agreed to a compromise and they will be relieved of their debt if their court appointed trustee, Michael DeQuisto, of Redding, is able to pay the creditors.

"The asset case is still open and they are still trying to disperse funds," the clerk said.

According to court documents, the Small Business Association appraised the business property for $506,000 and has a claim of $470,000 secured by the property.

The Jhooty's listed the value of the business property at $1 million in their schedules.

The Jhooty's filed a claim of exemption on their home in Citrus Heights, but DeQuisto filed an objection and the couple agreed to waive their homestead exemption on the residence.

They also agreed to pay DeQuisto $75,000 in exchange for his abandonment of the estate's interest in the business property.

The Jhooty's residence was sold for $41,783.86, according to the court documents.

Calls to DeQuisto were not returned.

The court said DeQuisto has attempted to market the business property, but has found that "the property is not very marketable for a variety of reasons, including the seasonal fluctuations in the area's tourist industry, liabilities associated with underground gas tanks, and the lack of documentation regarding the operations of the property's gas station and mini-mart."

Burney girls defeat Cardinals at both levels

The Burney Girls Varsity and JV basketball teams beat Big Valley, 50-46, and 48-18, respectively, in Burney Dec. 16.

"We led the first half, 17-12, but we had a rough third quarter and got down, 29-32," said Varsity Coach Susan Ayers.

"The girls bounced back in the fourth quarter playing excellent basketball.

"The highlight of the game was when Jennifer Wall hit a 3-point shot in the fourth quarter," Ayers said.

The Raiders made nine of their 15 free throw shots.

"Our free throw shooting was definitely a major factor in the win," she said.

Sophomore Robbie Fulk scored 20 points with 5 rebounds, 2 assists, and 6 steals.

Senior Rocksann Barba scored 11 points, captured 3 rebounds, and had 9 assists and 2 steals.

Sophomore Kayla Stover scored 10 points and had 17 rebounds and 6 steals, and Aimee Ayers scored 6 points with 13 rebounds, 1 assist and 3 steals.

In JV play, Coach Loni Estes said her team "pressed pretty good and had a lot of turnovers" to get their win over the Lady Cards.

High point scorers were Jessica Rouse and Jessica Van Laak, with 10 points and two steals each. Van Laak also had 4 rebounds and Rouse had 2 rebounds.

Sophomores Amber Spooner and Taylor White each added 8 points to the winning score. Spooner had 5 steals and White had 3 steals and 4 rebounds. Megan Frazier scored 4 points, with 3 rebounds, 3 steals and 4 assists

'Ugly win' for Burney boys over Big Valley

The Raider boys' varsity and JV basketball teams sent the Big Valley Cardinals fluttering home after two wins Dec. 16 in the Burney gym, although the Cards came close to taking over in both of the varsity game.

"It was an ugly win for us," said Wade Jones, who coaches the JV team, but commented for his wife, Varsity Coach Tara Jones.

"In the last quarter, the ball was turned over a lot and we let them back in the game," he said.

Burney prevailed, 52-47, with senior Kyle Moody scoring the most points with 18, followed by Ryan Huffman with 13 points, and Josh Schechla with 8.

Big Valley senior JC Hunsaker, a senior, was the high point scorer for his team with 15 points. Blake Oney, also a senior, scored 10 points for the Cards.

Continuing their non-stop winning streak, Burney's JV team won 72-30, even with two players who were sick and off the roster for the night.

Sophomores Grant Moody and Cooper Allison each scored 12 points; Nate Bartell scored 11. Jones said each of his players scored in the game.

"We were a little flat in the second quarter and not really hustling, but they got that worked out quickly and everything came out okay," said Jones.

Scoring for Big Valley were Taylor Fulfer with 6 points and Tyler Leventon with five points.

Bulldog boys have 2 selected to all-tourney

At the Burney Jamboree, the Fall River Bulldog's boys' varsity basketball team "played well enough to stay in the game, but not well enough to win," said Coach Greg Hawkins.

It was another disappointing weekend for Fall River, although they produced two All-Tourneys - John Morris for Varsity and Shane Robertson for JV - who were honored Saturday.

The Bulldogs had a close game with Portola Thursday, losing by six points, 56-50. High point scorers were Daniel Pagan with 14 points and John Morris with 10 points.

On Friday, Hayfork defeated Fall River, 57-52. John Morris scored 18 points and Alfred Olvera scored 11.

In Saturday night's 54-47 loss to Burney, Fall River's Blake Connors was high point scorer with 15 points. Morris scored 11.

Fall River's JV team, which took second place at the tournament, went into overtime in Thursday's 73-62 win over Portola.

Shane Robertson was the high point scorer with 28 points. Hawkins said Brady Corr also played an outstanding game, Hawkins said.

The Fall River JV's also beat Hayfork, 61-56, with Robertson scoring 28 points.

Fall River lost to Burney by 25 points in what JV Coach Scott Gallion said was a "nightmare" game.

Hawkins also complimented the Burney Boosters Club and Tournament Co-Directors Beth Allison and Lori Wunningham for the well-run event.

Raider girls lose at their own Jamboree

The Raider girls varsity team could not garner a win at the Burney Jamboree this weekend.

The team lost to Portola, 47-50; to Hayfork, 38-64, and to Fall River 29-37.

Sophomore Robbie Fulk was the high point scorer in the Portola game with 18 points, 7 rebounds, 2 assists and 1 steal, and also in the game against Fall River, where she scored 15 points with 10 rebounds, 2 assists and 2 steals.

Kayla Stover, also a sophomore, scored 14 points and had 11 rebounds and 5 steals in the match with Portola. She scored 8 points and had 13 rebounds, 1 assist, and 3 steals in the Fall River game.

There were no stats available for the Hayfork game Monday and Coach Susan Ayers was not available for comment.

The Raider's JV team beat Portola, 47-32, but lost to Fall River by two points, 22-20 and to Hayfork by seven points, 48-41.

Coach Loni Estes was not available Monday to provide stats for the players.

Burney man completes Texas ALERT training

ALERT Responder Jonathan Winkelman, 19 year-old son of Henry and Penny Winkelman of Burney, recently completed Phase One of the Air Land Emergency Resource Team (ALERT) training program at the International ALERT Academy in Big Sandy, Texas.

The goal of the ALERT Program is to equip young men with a ministry mindset, preparing them with the skills, priorities, and attitudes to function in life as responsible and selfless servants of god, regardless of what their profession may be.

Jonathan successfully completed 10 weeks of Basic Training, which includes the pressures of a military-style "boot camp."

The focus of Basic Training is on intense spiritual, physical, and mental training that requires the young men to continually depend upon god and to serve one another.

This rigorous 10 weeks of wilderness hiking, physical exercise, basic living skills, memorization of scripture, and learning respect for authority builds the disciplines necessary for service.

Winkelman and his teammates began their training by 4:30 a.m. daily, with a one-hour personal devotion time, followed by physical training as a unit.

Morning classes focused on character qualities, evangelism, communication skills, and biblical principles.

Afternoons were spent in more classes and/or projects which emphasized personal motivation, diligent teamwork, respect for authority, and practical skills such as land navigation, search-and-rescue, working with a chain saw, ropes and knots, wilderness survival, and first aid.

Jonathan was one of 48 young men who completed this training.

He received awards in the following areas: scripture memory and personal excellence.

Jonathan will continue with Advanced Training, which involves specialized training in counseling, disaster response, basic fire fighting, high-angle rescue, public speaking, rescue systems one, emergency medicine, and search-and-recovery diving.

The men also have the option of additional training in elective courses, as well as participation in rescue work and service projects as opportunities arise.

The three semesters of Advanced Training also includes concentrated training in trades and valuable skills, including aircraft maintenance, auto body, auto mechanics, aviation, construction, emergency medicine, emergency services operations, law enforcement, leadership and management, and service response team training.

This training enables the young men to support their present or future ministry, to be assets to their future employers, and to be valuable members of their communities.

Winter tips offered by forest service

Lassen National Forest officials are urging forest visitors to be prepared and use extra caution while enjoying the forest this winter.

Visitors are reminded that mountain weather changes rapidly and snow can quickly camouflage dangerous conditions both on and off road.

"Despite the hazards of winter travel, winter offers some of the most beautiful and peaceful scenery imaginable here on the Lassen."

"I encourage everyone to take the time to safely enjoy the forest this winter," commented Lassen NF Supervisor Ed Cole.

Forest visitors should use extra planning during the winter months.

Experience proves good planning and preparation can make the difference between an enjoyable trip and an unforgettable nightmare.

Planning and preparation needs to start before your outing.

One of the first steps in planning your trip is to check the weather forecast and road conditions.

Call the nearest forest service office for forest road or trail conditions and 1-800-427-ROAD for highway conditions.

Leave a copy of your planned route and itinerary with a friend or neighbor.

Winter forest conditions are particularly demanding on vehicles.

Sandbags as extra weight may help your vehicle maintain traction and can be useful in the event you get stuck.

Winter visitor's vehicles should be fully fueled and in top mechanical condition.

Card playing starts in February

Editor:

The Native Daughters of the Golden West, Mt. Lassen Parlor #215, wish to take this time to say Merry Christmas and a very Happy New Year, with a very Big Thank You for all the support they received from each and everyone who helped in their causes.

Thank you to those who brought items, helped with serving and also to those who just came to wish them the best.

It is all very appreciated.

Local money stays local

Editor:

We would like to take this time to explain to your readers what TLSTAR Foundation is about.

Many years ago, I dreamed of someday helping people and animals alike.

With help and guidance now I am in the position to do so.

TLSTAR is a non-profit foundation with 5 trustees (two in Texas, one in Quincy, CA., myself and my dad local).

Our goals include building habitats for animals such as the premarin foals out of Canada, as well as local injured animals.

We would like to see the pet population under better control.

Not destroyed but sterilized.

We want to have places for battered women to come to.

Children that need time to heal from a bad time in their lives.

Our hope is that with the healing of the animals so will the healing come to the people.

We have a grant writer in Redding.

His degree is in wilderness and he was a paralegal for 11 years.

Our 501 © 3 is being handled locally by Mr. Reed.

We will be banking with Debbie Noel at Tri-Counties in Fall River.

All donations gathered will be used for building here only.

We will be looking into properties that are affordable to make room for all our endeavors.

Currently we have approximately seven acres near Day.

We also have five acres in West Texas that we are turning over to TLSTAR.

We will be working on both properties with the same goals for each.

As stated earlier, all monies collected here will stay local.

Eventually we will need volunteers to help with fencing and outbuilding.

Any materials you may have would be appreciated greatly at that time.

At this time I would like to thank all the local merchants for their assistance, and allowing us to gather donations.

I will inform the paper of the amounts collected as we progress.

If you would like more information, please call (530) 336-6276 or you can email TLSTAR2@webtv.net.

Registration near for next ACT test of college-bound

Registration deadline for the next ACT test is January 2.

College-bound students can take the test February 7.

The next national test date for the ACT Assessment is Feb. 7.

College-bound students should register by Jan. 2 postmark deadline.

Late registration postmark deadline is Jan. 16 (an additional fee is required for late registration).

Students can register online at www.act.org or they can get a registration packet from their high school guidance counselor and register by mail.

The web site also has sample test questions and a link to a free financial aid calculator.

Virtually all colleges and universities in the nation accept ACT scores.

The test fee is $26 ($29 in Florida).

Colleges use ACT scores, along with a student's high school GPA and other information to help determine admissions and the appropriate course placement for new students.

The ACT Assessment is curriculum-based, designed to measure a student's academic achievement.

There are four sections to the exam: English, reading, math and science.

Students who have already taken the ACT can retest and try for a higher score.

Juniors often use their scores to examine academic weaknesses, take courses or tutoring to correct those weaknesses and retest as seniors.

Students who test more than once can choose which scores to report to prospective colleges.

F.R. Library attempting to meet best seller demand

The Fall River Valley Library is attempting to keep up with the public's demand for excellent best sellers.

Presently, there are two copies of The Da Vinci Code by Dan Brown available.

Even with two copies, you may still have to leave your name with the librarian to reserve a copy.

It is proving to be one of the most popular books that the library has ever made available to the public.

It ranks up there with any of the Harry Potter books.

Many excellent Christmas craft books have recently been donated to the library.

For those of you who have some free time between now and Christmas, you will surely find a project that you will enjoy working on.

For the rest of us, these books are available throughout the year so that we can have some new projects completed for the next year's holiday season.

There are hundreds of seasonal children's books presently available.

With the library being closed on the days before Christmas, be sure to check them out now while the selection is great.

A Census of Our Feathered Friends

Christmas Bird Count

For more than 100 years, people have been leaving their cozy homes to brave the cold outdoors and count birds. Thousands of volunteers have made the Christmas Bird Count part of their holiday tradition.

It runs during the three weeks around Christmas Day.

This bird census, sponsored by the National Audubon Society, is the longest-running wildlife review in the world. It is also the largest.

Nearly 56,000 observers counted about 73 million birds in the 2003 Christmas Bird Count. Many learn to love bird watching so much that they do it throughout the year.

Counting time

Today the period for counting birds stretches from Dec. 14 through Jan. 5. Officials can choose any day in that period to count in their area.

This period is known as "early winter." During this time, many North American birds are still on their southward migration.

History of the count

The Christmas Bird Count got its name because the first count took place on Christmas Day in 1900.

It was founded by Frank Chapman, a scientist who studied birds.

He was upset by an event of the times, the "Side Hunt." In this event, on Christmas Day, hunters chose sides and then shot as many birds and small animals as they could. The side that killed the most animals and birds won.

Many people were concerned that overhunting was threatening entire bird populations. Frank Chapman came up with the idea of counting birds on Christmas Day rather than killing them.

Frank Chapman (1864-1945)

In 2003, Bird Count observers covered about 2,000 different areas, ranging from northern Canada and Alaska above the Arctic Circle to southern South America near Antarctica. Most observers are in the United States and southern Canada.

Counting on birds

Most birds being counted are North American birds. The Christmas count tries to get a good picture of where these birds migrate in the winter.

For example, many woodland species that breed in North America spend the winter months in South America or the Caribbean islands.

Supersport: Jason White

Height: 6-2 Weight: 221 Birthdate: 6-19-80 Hometown: Tuttle, Okla.

Jason White doesn't wear a Santa Claus suit or ride around town in a sleigh, but Oklahoma University's standout quarterback spreads lots of cheer. He has participated with a Fellowship of Christian Athletes holiday food drive, visited children in the hospital, and helped with elementary school reading programs.

White also has given the fans of No. 1-ranked Oklahoma lots to cheer about. He has passed for more than 3,000 yards and rates as one of the top players in all of college football.

White, who underwent knee surgeries the previous two years, is a sociology major who also enjoys art — and making people happy, kind of like Santa.

Meet Sheryl Crow

Singer and songwriter Sheryl Crow grew up with musical parents. Both her parents played in swing bands and encouraged their daughter to play music too.

Sheryl, 41, began playing the piano when she was 6 years old while growing up in Kennett, Mo. She studied music at the University of Missouri. Then in 1986, she moved to Los Angeles, determined to make it in the music business.

Before she became famous for her own songs, Sheryl was a backup singer to other musicians, including Don Henley and Eric Clapton. She produced her first solo album in 1993. She won a Grammy for Best Rock Album in 1997.

Sheryl likes all kinds of music, including rock 'n' roll, country, folk, jazz and blues. Her newest album is called "The Very Best of Sheryl Crow."

Neil: Santa Banana!

Going Out for the Count

The value of bird counting

In the old days, miners used to send a canary into a mine. If the canary came back safely, the miners knew it was safe for them.

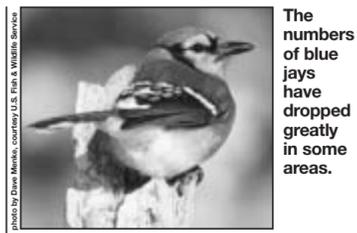

In nature, birds are also a good sign of whether the environment is healthy.

When the data from the Christmas Bird Count are combined with data from other studies, we get a good picture of the overall health of birds and of the environment.

By looking at how bird populations have changed in the last century, scientists can be alerted about possible dangers.

For example, if one type of bird disappears in an area, it could mean the habitat has been destroyed. Or it could mean there is a disease, or that the species has been poisoned with pesticides.

If bird populations go down a lot, it is a danger signal.

The numbers of blue jays have dropped greatly in some areas.

Recent finds

Blue jays and crows are especially vulnerable to the West Nile virus. Experts believe it has hurt groups of these birds in some parts of the U.S.

But in the latest national bird count, researchers did not notice significant drops over the whole country. Scientists do not know if that means these species are safe, or if they will suffer greater losses in the coming years.

It will take time to see how dangerous the West Nile virus really is.

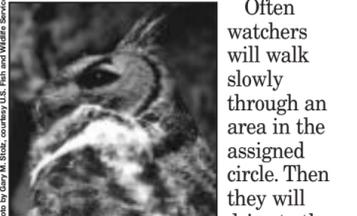

Bird counters have noticed that many birds such as the cardinal are staying farther north in the winter. Experts believe this may be because more people are feeding birds during this cold season.

Conducting the bird count

All counts are done in a certain way and in the same area each year. This gives a more accurate view of any changes in bird populations.

On the chosen count day, volunteers travel through a circle covering about 177 square miles.

They count every bird they see or hear that whole day. Some birds, especially in woodland areas, stay hidden. There are usually people in every counting group who can recognize bird calls.

Birds such as owls are hard to see, but they make a fair amount of noise. This is a great horned owl.

In some places such as marshes, volunteers go by boat. Others may travel on skis or snowshoes. Some may spend the entire day standing by the ocean counting seabirds.

Experienced bird watchers are always present, so they can teach new watchers the proper way to count.

Bird counters often begin their official counting day around 5 a.m. and finish up around 6 p.m.

Hunters were seeing fewer American black ducks. Scientists looking at 50 years of data from the Christmas Bird Count found the numbers truly were going down. So hunters lowered the limit on ducks they could bag, and the numbers went back up.

Geometric design makes Palmyra unique

By Associated Designs

The Palmyra is an intriguing plan with a bright, octagonal dining room at its core. The attractive brick and glass exterior is shaped like an eight-pointed star. Only the kitchen/garage wing breaks the symmetry.

Light spills into the dining room through four sets of clerestory windows mounted at the crest of a soaring 22-foot vaulted ceiling. Back at floor level, walls on three of the room's eight sides create a hallway that separates the dining room from the bedrooms.

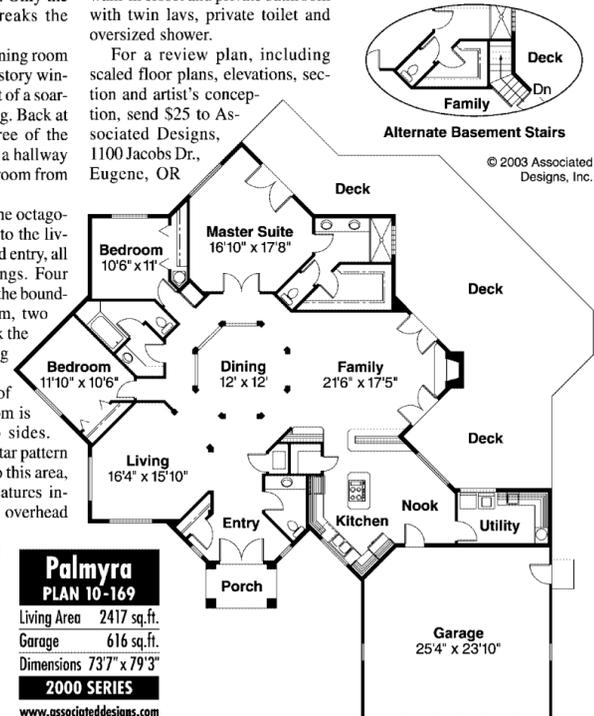

The opposite side of the octagonal space is totally open to the living room, family room and entry, all of which have flat ceilings. Four handsome columns mark the boundaries. In the family room, two sets of French doors flank the fireplace, each set opening onto a wide deck that wraps around two sides of the home. The living room is also windowed on two sides.

Angling off from the star pattern leaves the kitchen open to this area, but slightly recessed. Features include: an eating bar with overhead cabinets, sunny eating nook, central work island with built-in cooktop, walk-in pantry, and direct garage access. Laundry facilities are close by, so it's easy to pop a load in the washer while fixing dinner, then move it to the dryer during clean up.

Double doors open into the Palmyra's master suite, while a matching set across the room lets you walk directly out onto the deck for sunbathing or star-gazing. Amenities here include a roomy walk-in closet and private bathroom with twin lavs, private toilet and oversized shower.

Burney captures Holiday Jamboree crowns

The Burney Raiders captured both the boys' varsity and JV championship trophies in the final showdown Saturday at the Burney Jamboree.

Ryan Huffman was named MVP for Varsity and Ryan Rhodes took the JV MVP title.

All Tourney awards went to Burney's varsity players Kyle Moody and J.D. Dennis and to JV players Grant Moody and Tyler Watson.

Burney's varsity fought their way to the top by beating Hayfork, 61-58, on Thursday, Portola 79-73 on Friday, and Fall River, 54-47, on Saturday.

The Raiders' JV players, who have yet to lose a game this season, beat Hayfork, 85-47, Portola, 65-43, and Fall River by 25 points.

"The game with Fall River was very, very close and they gave us a run for our money, but then Burney ran away with it," said a Burney spectator.

Team stats for Burney were not available Monday at press time.
