Hospital proposes $95 parcel tax

BY MEG FOX

Mayers Memorial Hospital District is calling a special election by absentee ballot June 3 to find out if voters are willing to pay an annual $95 per parcel tax to keep the hospital's doors open for the next 10 years.

The tax, which would give the hospital about $500,000 more a year, needs a two-thirds majority of those voting to pass.

"The intent of this tax is to try and ensure that in the next 10 years, we won't have to close due to vagaries in the state's budget," said hospital CEO Jerry Fikes at the Feb. 19 board meeting.

Fall River Mills resident Randy Scholl told the board they had their work cut out for them to convince the public, especially in Burney, to pay more taxes.

"A lot will say what do you need the money for and a lot in Burney will say Fall River has farmers' money.

"I'm all for it," Scholl said, "but you're going to have to get out there and educate those who are against it."

Board member Gail McClung of Hat Creek said she hoped the voters would also consider the hospital's impact on the local economy, since it employs about 250 people. "If we close our doors, folks, just imagine," she said.

Another board member said a local builder recently told him that retirees ask about local medical services before buying property and building here.

"If the hospital goes away, my business goes away," the builder said.

Hospital projects, such as replacing the fire alarms, call bells, and a vacuum system, combined with ongoing and anticipated cuts in Medicare funding, have the administration worried.

Board President Les Cufau said he had no doubt that the state will further cut the hospital's Medicare reimbursements.

"Our hope is that this additional (tax) revenue will cushion us," Fikes said.

The tax is only being imposed for 10 years because by then the hospital expects to have grants and other funding to pay for the cost of building a new earthquake-proof hospital, as mandated by SB 1953.

"Our challenge is that we have to be here in 10 years to be the recipient of a free hospital," Fikes said.

The hospital currently receives a percentage of ad valorem tax. Ad valorem is one percent of the assessed value of each parcel within the hospital district in Shasta, Lassen and Modoc counties.

How local schools compare to others in state

BY MEG FOX

School administrators may have felt like children getting their report cards Thursday when the state Department of Education released the 2002 Base Academic Performance Index (API) report.

Both of the high schools in the Fall River JUSD, Burney and Fall River, could sort of breathe sighs of relief.

They landed in a top ranking, a 10, for student academic performance as compared to similar schools in California.

In determining schools that are similar, the state looks at pupil ethnicity and socio-economic status, a school's number of fully credentialed teachers, the number of English language learners, and several other factors.

The ranking is also based on the degree to which standardized test scores improve from year to year.

Burney Elementary School ranked 8 in comparison to similar schools and Fall River Elementary

—Please See Page 7

N/A - means a number is not applicable or not available due to missing data.

 - means this API is calculated for a small school, defined as having between 11 and 99 Standardized Testing and Reporting (STAR) test scores included in the API (valid scores). APIs based on small numbers of students are less reliable and therefore should be carefully interpreted. Similar schools ranks are not calculated for small schools.

AROUND TOWN

BY MEG FOX

Dr. Steven Scharpf, general surgeon at Mayers Memorial Hospital and a Lt. Col. in the Army Reserves, was called for active military service last week to command a combat support field hospital in Turkey.

He had four days to close his practice, pack, and move to Fort Lewis, Wash.

It's hurry up and wait for about two weeks for the rest of Unit 369 to arrive.

In the meantime, Scharpf is living in the barracks and working as a general surgeon at Madigan Army Medical Center Hospital near Tacoma.

The community wishes him a safe return in what he hopes will be from 90 days to a year.

During his absence, three Redding surgeons have volunteered to fill the gap and do surgeries at Mayers.

Dr. James Gonzalez earned his MD at Stanford University School of Medicine in 1986; Dr. Lawrence Milne received his medical degree in 1984 at Loma Linda University; and Dr. Robby Azar earned his medical degree at Oregon Health Science University School of Medicine in 1992.

"They are very well qualified and highly thought of," said CEO Jerry Fikes, "And we're grateful for their support."

There's a new animal in town.

Restaurant owners Tony and Darrellyne Klein have changed the name of their popular Bears Den in Burney to the Hungry Moose to go along with their new restaurant in Mt. Shasta of the same name.

The Kleins said it also eliminates any confusion with the Black Bear Diner, the restaurant chain that also has a business in Mt. Shasta.

The Bears Den had a lot of bears on the premises and the Kleins are selling many of them in the gift shop at a 20 percent discount. Darrellyne said she's not ready to part with all of them and will keep some bears around to keep that hungry moose company.

The Hungry Moose is located along Highway 299 in the Holiday/Rite Aid shopping area.

All sorts of congratulations are in order this week:

...To the Kleins, whose restaurant name change coincides with their one-year anniversary in business in Burney.

...To Elizabeth Luck of Burney, whose theme entry, "Small Town, Big Dreams," was selected for this year's Burney Basin Days celebration.

For her creativity, Mrs. Luck gets to ride in the Burney Basin Days Parade on Saturday of the July 4 holiday. She also won $100, donated by Mt. Burney Storage, and two tickets to the Laser/Fireworks Show.

...To McArthur FFAs Advanced Parliamentary Procedure team, which placed first, and the Novice Team, which placed second, in their first qualifying competition Feb. 13 at the Sectional FFA contest in Tulelake.

The Fall River High School teams move on to the regional contest taking place March 18 in Chico.

...To Fall River High School's Girls and Boys State winners, Whitney Royse and Josh Ingram, and their alternates Billie Waltz and Jake Shuler.

They were selected by American Legion Post 369 and Auxiliary Unit 369 in Fall River Mills to participate in the nationwide program on civic leadership and government this spring.

American Legion Auxiliary 369 has also sponsored Kristen Churney as Burney High Schools Girls State representative.

Samuel Burney Post 441, which has no ladies auxiliary, will announce its Burney High School Boys State selection at a later date.

Boys State 2003 takes place June 21-28 at CSU, Sacramento. Girls State is June 22-28 at Pitzer College in Claremont.

...To champion spellers Linda Bailey, an eighth grader at Burney Junior-Senior High School, and Esther Dolman, of Fall River Junior-Senior High School, who won their local matches and are going on to compete in Redding March 22. Good luck!

...To the parents and teachers at Fall River Elementary School who have re-started their PTA, which lapsed for a few months until Lynne Carroll-Schneider stepped up to serve as president, along with teacher Gere Meenan as treasurer, and Laura Thompson, secretary. A PTA state representative is meeting them March 11 to reinstate the chapter. Then membership drive gets underway.

FRE-PTA wants to focus on providing more academic opportunities for students by using membership dues for science fairs, spelling bees, the Science Olympiad, and Math Olympiad.

Thompson, a community organizer with Shasta County Public Health in Burney, also wants to work with PTA to get mini-grants for health education programs for the school.

...And to me, whom you may spot whizzing by on my new electric scooter I won, thanks to the generosity of Jerry Rice of Mountain Motor-NAPA Auto Parts in Burney.

Jerry donated the dandy wheels and all the trimmings (backpack with battery charger and tire pump) as a fundraiser for Burney High School's California Scholarship Federation (CSF) and helped them raise $393.

In addition to becoming a PTA president, Lynne Carroll-Schneider, a busy mother of three daughters, has organized the Girl and A Gal Book Club at the Fall River Valley Library the fourth Monday of each month.

It's for any fourth through sixth grade girls and their mother or another adult female companion.

Fall River Elementary School participants can earn credit for their school's Accelerated Reading Program.

The nine members are currently reading "Nory Ryan's Song," about a young girl during the Irish potato famine, by Patricia Reilly Giff.

Their meetings include a potluck meal that has something to do with the book.

"There will be a lot of potatoes at the next meeting," she said.

Call the library at 336-6445 if you're a gal with a girl who likes to read.

Hospital proposes parcel tax

The hospital shares a percentage of that revenue with the county, the state, and other special districts. The hospital's share, now at about $420,000, is decreasing each year, Fikes said. He and Cufaupe figured that the new parcel tax

Schools to share overseer looked at closing one of its two high schools to save money, Mountain Union would also lose Necessary Small School funding for elementary schools if all their students were at one site.

"It was more fiscally sound to keep both sites open, as long as our attendance stays the same," said McNabb.

Mountain Union currently has an enrollment of 100 students, with 64 in 5-8 at Montgomery Creek and 36 in K-4 at Cedar Creek in Round Mountain.

Ken Osborn is the interim superintendent/principal for Mountain Union. He is retired and leaving at the end of the school year.

She was born Aug. 25, 1915 in Global, Arizona. She is survived by spouse Fred of Round Mountain; sons Larry Baremore of Oak Run, Earl Baremore of Corning, Marion Baremore of Brazil, Daniel Baremore of Redcrest, James Jackson of Shasta Lake; daughters Patricia Baremore of Fall would bring in an additional $450,000 to $500,000 per year, based on the taxable parcels that appear on the annual secured Shasta County property tax rolls.

River Mills, Karen Morris of Kneeland; sister Jean-Ann Smith of Reno; 26 grandchildren; 25 great-grandchildren; and one great-grandchild. Memorial contributions may be made to Intermountain Hospice. Allen and Dahl Funeral Chapel in Palo Cedro handled the arrangements.

The amount is about equal to what the hospital received in ad valorem taxes "before the state started raiding our purse."

The hospital board passed the resolution, exempting the following from paying the tax:

- Within multiple, contiguous parcels in the same ownership and that cannot be individually sold or leased (except for agricultural purposes) only one such parcel will be subject to the special tax;
- Also parcels designated as timberland preserve zones (TPZ) by Shasta County, pursuant to the provisions of the Forest Preservation Reserve Act;
- Also parcels designated as agricultural preserve by Shasta County, pursuant to the provisions of the Williamson Act; and,
- Parcels having an assessed valuation of less than $2,500.

The hospital district will establish an administrative review process to grant exemptions and consider appeals, Fikes said.

The cost for the special election is between $7,000 and $15,000.

It's a "downside risk" to find out if there is community support for the hospital.

"But we're at risk to a lot of goofy things. Our business is so small and fragile that we could be forced into closure based on bad luck and a decrease in funding," Fikes said.

Voting by absentee ballot is the least costly method for holding a special election, Fikes explained.

Shasta County will work with and include Lassen and Modoc counties.

The resolution states that "revenues generated by the special tax will be used only to defray operating expenses and capital improvement expenditures in order to...continue local access to emergency room care, acute hospital care, replace aging critical mechanical and safety systems and other medical services."

If the resolution passes June 3, the hospital has until Aug. 10 to prepare the tax rolls and parcel numbers for the Shasta County Auditor's office.

Taxes would be assessed and collected in November and the hospital's first check would arrive in January 2004.

Burney J.V. Raider Nate Bartel moves past Etna defender in Friday contest.

Burney teams lose to Etna

BY MEG FOX

Burney's basketball teams ended their season in defeat against the Lions in their Etna lair Friday.

The Raiders Boys Varsity didn't get fired up until the second half and by then it was too late.

"The Raiders played really well and we outscored them in the second half, but by then the damage was done," said Assistant Coach Wade Jones.

"Burney had a good defensive effort," he said. "Etna was really looking to dunk the ball and we kept them out of reach."

Etna's notorious Mike Searle scored 38 points when the Lions were last in Burney. "In this game we only allowed him 18," said Jones.

The score was 63-42, with Burney's Chris Prigmore putting 23 points on the board.

Also scoring were Kyle Moody with 10 points and Kevin Wrigley with 3. Roman Metzger, Eric Frazier and Chris Bavetta each added two points to the score.

Boys Varsity ended their season 8-14 overall, finishing fifth in the League, ahead of Fall River and Weed.

The game was a Shasta Cascade League victory for Etna.

Burney's JV Boys ended their season 12-10 overall in the League.

"They had an awesome preseason, winning second place at Block F," said Jones. "But then they kind of sputtered around."

JV lost to Etna 67-49. High point scorer was Luke Scheckla with 13 points, followed by Grant Moody with 12 points and J.D. Dennis with 9.

Nate Bartell and Chris Torngren added 6 points each to the score; Kevin Sutherland contributed 2 points, and Tyler Watson made 1 point.

The Raider Girls fared worse against the Lionesses, with Varsity losing to Etna 62-21.

Kayla Stover captured 11 rebounds and was the high point scorer with 6 points. Robbie Fulk added 4 points and Aimee Ayers recovered five rebounds.

The team rated 4-16 overall in the League, said Coach Susan Ayers.

F.R. girls head to playoffs after defeating Bears, Braves

BY KEEGAN MOYER

The Fall River Varsity Girls squad finished off their SCL play with two wins against Modoc and Mt. Shasta.

The Gals got their first victory of the week, after coming off a loss to Weed Feb. 13, over Modoc 41-27.

They continued their winning ways on Friday night downing Mt. Shasta in a close game, 40-34.

After blowing out Modoc on Tuesday the Bulldogs got into a tough battle with the Bears on Friday night.

The girls played in a "mono-tone" style until the fourth quarter when they stepped it up and showed what they were capable of doing.

Fall River played a strong and solid defense in the fourth quarter and held Alivia Birdwell (Mt. Shasta's best player) to 3 points the whole night.

Carissa Romberger, Britany Shelton, Jessica Hero, and Abby McArthur all supplied key baskets in the fourth quarter to help put the Bulldogs ahead and secure the win in the last two minutes.

The wins last week gave the Gals' an 8-4 SCL record and an 18-5 overall record on the season.

This was enough to capture the #10 seed in the Division 5 playoff bracket. The team will travel to Biggs High School Tuesday to play Biggs which is seated 7th.

Bulldog boys finish season

BY KEEGAN MOYER

The Fall River Varsity Boys team lost both of their games last week. To some this might be a negative way to end the season, but for the Bulldogs they finished off playing basketball in its most wholesome form, hard and never giving up; and that is by no means negative.

The 'Dogs fell to two of the SCL's toughest teams, Modoc at home on Tuesday night, and at home once again Friday against Mt. Shasta.

The Bulldogs lost to the Modoc Braves 60-49 on Tuesday night. They played a tough, physical game, but were outmatched by Modoc's "power" game.

Fall River trailed 10-8 after the first period of play.

Colin Corr's 10 points in the second quarter helped keep the Bulldogs within reach at the half, trailing 29-25.

By the third quarter the Dog's didn't lose any more ground, but weren't making up points either.

The game was decided in the fourth quarter where the Bulldogs' 10 points in the final period couldn't match the Braves 17 points, giving Modoc the 60-49 point victory.

Colin Corr was the leading scorer for the Bulldogs racking up 22 points. John Morris followed Corr with 10 points and Alfred Olvera put up 9.

Brandon Beck added 6 more for the Bulldogs, and Anthony Olvera rounded out the scoring with 2 points.

On Friday night the Bulldogs took on the highly touted Mt. Shasta squad.

The last home game is always Senior Night at Fall River, so the five seniors on the teams got the start.

Colin Corr, Kyle Heffley, Cody Mackel, Jake Massa, and Cody Jones played for much of the first quarter and helped the Bulldogs play to a 9-9 tie after the first period.

Mt. Shasta went off in the second quarter, lighting it up with 21 points while holding the Bulldogs to 6, giving the Bears a 30-13 halftime lead.

Corr knocked drained 2 of his game high 4 three-pointers in the third quarter to keep Fall River's hopes up, only to be dashed by Mt. Shasta's consistent scoring.

The Bears put in 14 points in each of the final two periods. The Dog's made a run in the fourth quarter by scoring 18 points but fell short and Mt. Shasta got the win, 58-44.

Corr, the only four-year player on the team, led the scoring with 15 points.

Brandon Beck, a junior, scored 10 points for the Bulldogs with John Morris adding 6.

Tony Anguiano had 4 points and Alfred Olvera, Kyle Heffley, and Anthony Olvera each added 3 points for Fall River.

The Bulldogs finished their season playing hard, with lots of character and emotion.

The Bulldogs might have been the Underdogs in nearly all their games, but that is what made them so fun to watch.

Fall River J.V. girls end season with consecutive victories

BY KEEGAN MOYER

Fall River's J.V. Girls team finished off their season with consecutive wins.

The Girls defeated Modoc 43-19 on Tuesday and then Mt. Shasta 38-23. Both games were completely dominated by the Bulldogs.

On Tuesday the Dogs jumped out to an early 11-

6 lead against the Modoc Braves and never looked back.

In the second quarter the Bulldogs held the Braves to a measly two points while they amassed 10 points to sneak out to a 21-8 point lead at the half.

In the third quarter the Bulldogs continued their fearless defense holding their opponent to 4 points.

The Dogs' added 10 points once again and held a 31-12 point lead going into the final quarter. The girls played a solid 4th quarter and got their first win of the week.

Shawna Truan led all scores with 14 points. Maggie DeCoito added 9 points for the Bulldogs while Blaire Bidwell put in 7 points. Brittany Wagner supplied 6 points and Leslie Taylor rounded out the scoring with 3 points.

Mt. Shasta put up a better fight than Modoc did, but were still unsuccessful in downing the Bulldogs.

the tough defense, but had more trouble putting the ball in the hoop this time around.

The Dogs had a meager 6-5 point lead after the first quarter. Their defense held in the second quarter as they increased their lead to 5 points, leading 14-9 at the half.

Fall River J.V. boys finish season 7-5 in Shasta Cascade League

BY KEEGAN MOYER

The Fall River J.V. Boys capped off a successful season defeating the Modoc Braves and the Mt. Shasta Bears in their final two games.

The Bulldogs defeated Modoc in a "classic" on Tuesday night 60-53 and the Mt. Shasta on Friday night 67-50.

The fans that showed up to watch the J.V. Boys take on the Modoc Braves had no idea what kind of game they had coming their way.

The Bulldogs seemed flat, and apprehensive, in the first two and a half quarters of their game.

The Braves grabbed a 20-7 point lead after the first quarter and increased their lead to 19 by halftime when they lead 33-14. The Dogs were showing little, if any, signs of life.

Modoc came out of the break and hit a couple buckets early and increased their lead to 24 points a few minutes into the third quarter.

Then, something clicked in the Bulldogs heads and they started playing basketball.

Not just basketball, but heroic basketball.

They got their shots to start falling and a heart-stopping defense formed that left the Modoc players in shambles.

The Dogs began creeping back into the game.

By the end of the third period Fall River was down 43-28, but the momentum had already begun to shift towards the Bulldogs favor.

Fall River outplayed and out-hustled Modoc in the final period and found themselves just 5 points down with over 5 minutes left in regulation time.

Many fans realized the comeback the Bulldogs were mounting and cheered the team on with every basket made and every stop on defense.

The Bulldogs never gave up, despite unbalanced odds. With only 18 seconds left the Bulldogs trailed by 3 points and had the ball on their own sideline.

Robbie Adams in-bounded the ball from the sideline to Blake Connors, who drove off

Keegan Moyer's screen and went up for three...BANG.

You bet, after Connors clutch (and I repeat clutch) three-pointer the Dogs were tied with 8 seconds left.

Modoc pushed the ball down the court after a time-out and turned it over to the Bulldogs, who then called a time-out, as time expired, although they had none left.

The Modoc coaches notified the referees of the invalid time-out and called a Technical Foul on Fall River.

A Modoc player went to the foul line with no time left and sunk both free throws, supposedly sealing the win.

The Fall River coaching staff brought it to the referee's attention that THEY didn't see the timeout and therefore can make the call.

The referees realized their mistake and fixed the score, sending the game into a 4-minute overtime period tied at 51. (In High School basketball the referee must warn the player that they have no time outs left and tell them they will receive a technical foul if they continue to ask for a time out.)

The Bulldogs dominated in overtime outscoring the Braves 9-2, and seized the victory.

Keegan Moyer was the Bulldogs leading scoring netting 16 points, with 15 of the 16 coming in the 4th quarter and overtime. Blake Connors was close behind Moyer with 14 points.

Nick McFarlin added 9 points, Robbie Adams put up 7, and Caleb Shuler pumped in 5 points for the Bulldogs.

After the thriller on Tuesday night the Bulldogs decided to play the whole game and easily defeated the Mt. Shasta Bears 67-50 on Friday night. The Bulldogs led 29-16 at the half and never looked back.

Robert Senko was the high point man with 16 points. Keegan Moyer and Nick McFarlin each added 13 points with Robbie Adams sinking 9 points.

The two wins gave the Bulldogs a 7-5 record in the SCL on the year.

The sophomores will look to make an impact on the Varsity program next year, as the freshman will attempt to improve on the 7-5 record next year.

How local schools ranked compared to others in state ranked 5.

Compared to all high schools in California, Burney ranked 7; Fall River ranked 8; BES ranked 7, and Fall River Elementary, ranked 5.

Schools also received their API scores.

The API measures the academic performance and progress of schools based on a numeric index that ranges from a low of 200 to a high of 1,000.

The state has set 800 as the interim API score that schools should strive to meet.

Only 17 percent of all the schools in California have met the 800 target, including North Cow Creek Elementary School in Palo Cedro, which has an 840 API score. The state gave them an A.

Twenty percent of the state's elementary schools have an 800 API, while 13 percent of the middle schools, 4 percent of the high schools, and 11 percent of small schools have achieved the state goal.

State Superintendent of Instruction Jack O'Connell said the 2002 Base API establishes this year's baseline for a school's academic performance and sets an annual target for growth.

The 2002-2003 API score for Burney Elementary School was 733.

Their growth target is three points, meaning that in 2003 the school should have an API score of 736.

While Burney Elementary exceeded last year's growth target of 723 - and the district's other schools did not and have lower API scores than last year - the state said not to make comparisons because more tests were thrown into the mix.

"Because the 2002 Base API includes new California standards-based tests, as well as the CAHSEE, and because the calculation of the 2002 Base API is different from the 2001-2002 Growth API that appeared in October of last year, any comparison of the two would be inappropriate," according to the CDE.

Fall River Elementary School has an API score of 688 with a 6-point growth target for next year.

Burney Junior-Senior High School's API is 685, with a 6-point growth target for 2003.

Fall River Junior-Senior High School's API is 715 with a 4-point growth target.

In the Big Valley JUSD, Big Valley High School in Bieber had an API score of 539 and a 13-point growth target.

Big Valley Intermediate School had a 711 API score and a 4-point Growth target for next year.

Big Valley Primary School in Adin had a 719 API and a 4-point growth target.

In the Mountain Union School District, Cedar Creek Elementary had a 771 API score and Montgomery Creek Elementary had a 654 API score.

Indian Springs Elementary School in Big Bend had a 706 API score.

The state said this new 2002 API baseline for the first time puts the majority of the weight on tests specifically geared toward California's high standards.

Eighty percent of the API for elementary and middle schools will rest on the California Standards Tests (CST).

Almost 90 percent of the API for high schools rests on the standards test and the California High School Exit Exam.

The API includes the CST English Language Arts, as well as the CST Mathematics results for grades 2-11, the CST Social Science results for grades 10-11, and the California High School Exit Exam results.

The remainder of the weight is on the Stanford Achievement Test (Stanford 9).

The API is still not a finished product, but "will become more predictable," the CDE said.

With the addition of the CST Mathematics for all grades, the CST Social Science for grades 10-11, the CAHSEE results, and the new weighting system, the API baseline now contains almost all major indicators, the CDE said.

Over the next few years, the API will continue to add indicators, including the standards-based Science tests, as well as the California Alternate Performance Assessment.

Eventually, the API will include graduation and attendance rates.

The 2002 Base API results are posted at the CDE Web site <http://api.cde.ca.gov>.

Grappler champions

The Fall River High School wrestling team stands with their Division IV section championship trophy after scoring 56 points to surpass Tulalake scoring 44 points and third-place Biggs with 40 points. The Division III and IV tournament was held in Live Oak High School Friday and Saturday. Bobby Main is also a three-time section champion after defeating Willow's Doug Curl, pinning him in the first round. Main will compete at The Master's North Section CIF Championships Friday and Saturday. Greg Handa and Wes Inoue also qualified as alternates. African-American Pilots

Pioneers With Wings

Today, there are African-Americans who are pilots for the military and for airlines. But this was not always so.

The Mini Page celebrates African-American History Month with a story about the Tuskegee Airmen.

Joining the Air Corps

The P-51 Mustang is one of the planes the Tuskegee Airmen flew in World War II.

At the time of World War II, whites and blacks were kept separate in the military, just as they often were in civilian life.

Blacks were not allowed to serve as military pilots. One military report claimed that blacks could not gain the skills to fly.

But African-Americans could fly. Despite the prejudice, a few blacks already were pilots. Some flew in flying clubs. In these clubs, pilots flew planes in air shows to display their skills.

The Tuskegee Airmen were the first group of African-Americans to serve as pilots in the military. Their name comes from the place where they trained, Tuskegee Army Air Base in Tuskegee, Ala.

These five men were the first black cadets to earn their wings at Tuskegee. In the middle is Benjamin O. Davis Jr. He became the first black general in the U.S. Air Force.

Training for flight

Tuskegee aviators trained at a new Army Air Corps base built near a college for African-Americans called Tuskegee Institute.

The program was very rigorous, and only five cadets graduated in the first class.

The first officers were white. The first commander ordered that the black cadets stay separate from whites.

The second commander, Col. Noel F. Parrish, supported African-Americans. He helped them succeed. He ordered the "colored" and "white" signs that marked the separate water fountains and other places taken down.

The base trained 992 pilots from 1941 to 1946. As they earned their wings, they went off to war.

Protecting American bombers

Tuskegee Airmen fought in North Africa, Italy, Germany and Eastern Europe. Their planes flew 15,000 sorties. A "sortie" is a single round-trip mission of a plane.

One of their main jobs was protecting American bombers. They also attacked enemy troops and ships.

Sixty-six Tuskegee pilots were killed. Thirty-two pilots became prisoners of war.

A Tuskegee airman studies a map before leaving on a mission.

Heroes help end prejudice

After the war, the Army closed Tuskegee Army Air Base. In 1948, President Harry Truman ordered that blacks and whites in the military were to train and fight together.

The Tuskegee pilots earned many medals for their patriotism, courage and sacrifice. Their flying skills proved that African-Americans could fly as well as white pilots and should be treated as equals.

Gus Goodsport's Report

Supersport: Earl Boykins

Height: 5-5 Birthdate: 6-02-76

Weight: 133 Hometown: Cleveland, Ohio

Nobody could convince 5-foot-5, 133-pound Earl Boykins that he was too small to play basketball. In the game of giants, he has survived. Don't look at his height. Look at his heart.

Although he's the smallest player in the National Basketball Association, Boykins was averaging 11 points and 4.4 assists per game for the Golden State Warriors as of Jan. 20.

The quick, slick guard also ranked seventh in the NBA in free-throw percentage (87.9).

Boykins starred in college at Eastern Michigan. He averaged 25.7 points his senior year and was the nation's second-leading scorer. He first played in the NBA in 1998-99 with New Jersey and Cleveland.

Boykins joined Golden State this season, put on uniform No. 11, and became a true basketball Warrior.

Cosby received his doctorate degree in education from the University of Massachusetts in 1976. His television shows "Fat Albert and The Cosby Kids" and "The Bill Cosby Show" demonstrate his great interest in educating kids.

In 1984, Bill Cosby was inducted into the Television Hall of Fame.

From Pilots to Astronauts

The P-47 fighter was one of the first planes flown by the Tuskegee airmen. This later version was used by NASA for research and training.

Several African-Americans were pioneers in flying. Here are some who made history by being first in the air and first in space.

Bessie Coleman

Bessie Coleman (1892-1926) stands in pilot gear on an airfield in 1922.

Bessie Coleman was born in Atlanta, Texas, in 1892 but moved to Chicago. She worked as a manicurist.

She wanted to learn to fly. When no one would teach her, she learned to speak French and went to France. She became the first black woman to earn a pilot's license.

Bessie came back to America. She toured the country as a stunt pilot. People called her "Queen Bess." Her skills as a pilot proved that blacks and women could fly airplanes.

She dreamed of starting her own flight school for blacks. But she died in a plane crash in 1926. A flying school for blacks was founded in her honor.

Benjamin Davis Jr. (1912-2002) waves from the cockpit of his P-51 Mustang while serving during World War II. He commanded a group of black fighter pilots.

Gen. Benjamin O. Davis Jr.

Benjamin Davis Jr. pioneered the way for African-Americans both in the military and in flight. He grew up in the Army. His father was the Army's first African-American general.

Benjamin Davis Jr. overcame a lot of prejudice to graduate from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. The white cadets refused to talk to him during the four years of school.

Davis had lots of firsts. He was the first black to command an Army air base. He was also the first black U.S. officer in history to reach the rank of major general.

Gen. Daniel "Chappie" James Jr.

James was another famous airman who trained at Tuskegee. He was a fighter pilot in the Korean and Vietnam wars. He taught other black pilots that the way to fight prejudice was to be excellent at what you do.

Chappie James Jr.

The space shuttle Discovery roars into space.

Black pioneers in space

Guy Bluford was an Air Force fighter pilot before he became the first African-American to fly in space. He was a crew member on four space flights, including one on the Discovery in 1992.

Guy Bluford

Dr. Bernard Harris Jr. was the first African-American to walk in space. He was a scientist and flight surgeon before becoming an astronaut.

Dr. Bernard Harris Jr.

Dr. Mae C. Jemison was the first African-American woman to become an astronaut. She was a mission specialist aboard the space shuttle Endeavor in 1992.

Mayers auxiliary needs volunteers

BY MEG FOX

Mayers Memorial Hospital's Auxiliary is seeking new members to help with the support they've been giving the hospital for almost 40 years.

Since 1982, auxiliary members have raised and donated $185,000 to the hospital and its patients and awarded numerous min-grants for medical equipment.

Last February, the hospital auxiliary contributed $5,000 to Mayers Intermountain Healthcare Foundation's Valentine Chocolate Festival.

"We'll probably donate that much again this year, too," the members said.

In addition to providing this much-needed community service, "It's rewarding, it's fun, and it's a really wonderful way to meet people," said Linda Yarbrough, of McArthur.

"It worked for me. If you're new to the area and want to get involved, please join us," she said.

Yarbrough joined the Auxiliary in 1997 and is currently serving as president.

Nancy Mayle, of Glenburn, joined what was then called the Hospital Guild in 1986 and has served two terms as president, as well as in other offices.

"I joined because I was very pleased that we had a hospital in the area, and a very good hospital, and I wanted to support it and the patients," she said.

She, too, enjoys the social aspect of the group, which now numbers 69 members.

Barbara Locke of McArthur joined the hospital auxiliary in the 1970's.

"I was coerced by my mother, Thelma Warne, who told me to join because they needed the money, so I gave her my two dollars," she said.

Dues are still a great deal at $7.50 a year and members are asked to do a lot less work.

"When my mother was involved, she and Marvel Chandler did the cooking for the hospital on Sunday nights.

"In the summer, the hospital never had to buy vegetables because everyone grew them," said Locke.

"It was a 10-bed hospital then and the guild members did the laundry, cleaned the rooms, changed the light bulbs — you name it."

What's more, she said, it was fun.

Today Locke enjoys working in the gift shops, located in the hospital and at the Burney Annex.

"We always need help in the gift shops," she said.

In Fall River, the Gift Shop is open weekdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on Saturday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. The Annex Gift Shop is open only on weekdays, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Auxiliary members also help with the hospital's annual Health Fair, taking place this year on April 5 at Burney High School.

Mayers Auxiliary also has a need for craftspeople to knit and crochet items to sell at the gift shop and that are given to the hospital's newborns as part of their gift package.

Other services volunteers can provide include helping with bazaars and immunization clinics.

They can visit, read, or write letters for patients or help with hair styling for women and hair cuts for men.

They can help with activities such as music, crafts, and Bingo, or record videos for patients. They can bake cookies for blood drives or help with mending.

In the past year, the auxiliary volunteers have donated 10,934 hours.

But, Yarbrough and the other auxiliary members say that active membership is the lowest it's been in years. "We used to have 120 members who were all active," they said.

Meetings are the fourth Thursday of each month. In addition to the $7.50 annual dues, inactive membership dues are $10.

"But we want your time and support, help and ideas, more than we want your money."

To join and volunteer at either or both locations, or for more information, call the hospital at 336-5511, ext. 1181, or the Burney Annex at 335-3222, ext. 2150.

Strolling along

This one-quarter-mile-long wooded path is maintained by the Burney Cemetery District on their Bailey Avenue grounds and the community is invited to use it as a safe and pleasant place to get fresh air and exercise. The path is inside the cemetery gate and safe from traffic. There is a turnstile at the front gate for access after regular office hours.

Small precentage of students is meeting the minimum requirements for health-related physical fitness

BY MEG FOX

Seventh and ninth graders in the Fall River JUSD are not aerobically fit compared to other students in the state, but most of them are stronger and slimmer.

And, based on the recently released results of last spring's physical fitness testing of California students in grades 5, 7, and 9, Fall River's students were more fit than those tested in Burney.

But none of the state's children are as buff as the Department of Education would like them to be.

"I am concerned that such a small percentage of students is meeting the minimum requirements for health-related physical fitness," State Superintendent of Public Education Jack O'Connell said in a Jan. 28 press release.

The law requires that school districts administer a physical fitness test, designated by the State Board of Education, to all 5th, 7th, and 9th graders annually.

In 2001-2002, the state used the Fitnessgram, developed by the Cooper Institute for Aerobic Research, to assess six major fitness areas.

These included aerobic capacity (cardiovascular endurance), body composition (percent of body fat), abdominal strength and endurance, trunk strength and flexibility, upper body strength and endurance, and overall flexibility.

A number of testing options were provided so that all students, including those with special needs, had the opportunity to participate.

Across all grade levels statewide, more females than males were in the Healthy Fitness Zone (HFZ) for flexibility, body composition, and trunk extension strength.

But more males than females were in the HFZ for abdominal strength and upper body strength, the CDE said.

Overall, this school district's 5th graders, tested in 2001-2002, are above the state average in all categories, with the exception of body composition and upper body strength.

Students had to meet the minimum fitness standards for all six areas of the test to be considered fit.

In the FRJUSD, 32.4 percent of 5th graders, 31.7 percent of 7th graders, and 22.3 percent of 9th graders passed six of the six tests.

At Fall River High School, 44.4 percent of 9th graders and 37 percent of 7th graders passed each of the six tests.

In Burney, only 27.5 percent of 9th graders and 24.6 percent of 7th graders passed each of the six tests.

In the fifth grade, 39.6 percent at Fall River Elementary passed the six standards and at Burney Elementary only 26.3 percent of fifth graders passed.

In Shasta County, 23.8 percent in 5th grade, 26.9 in 7th grade, and 35.5 percent in 9th grade passed all six of the six tests.

Statewide, 22.2 percent of 5th graders, 25.9 percent of 7th graders, and 22.7 percent of 9th graders passed the six fitness standards.

In the test for aerobic capacity, 43.7 percent of last year's 9th graders in the Fall River JUSD were in the HFZ.

At Fall River High School, 53.3 percent were in HFZ for aerobic capacity. Of those, 39.1 percent were girls and 68.2 percent were boys.

In comparison, 39.2 percent of Burney High School's 9th graders met the aerobic capacity HFZ standard; 4.0 percent were girls and 38.1 percent were boys.

Statewide, 47.5 percent were HFZ in aerobic capacity. Of those in HFZ, 43.4 percent were girls and 52.1 percent were boys.

The aerobic capacity test, which measures endurance, "is the most important indicator of physical fitness," according to the California Department of Education.

"The fact that a majority of students are not aerobically fit indicates a need for more emphasis on cardiovascular activity," the CDE said.

Another indicator, the flexibility test, measured joint flexibility and included having students do push ups and pull-ups.

Statewide, 63.7 percent of the 9th grade students were in HFZ; 65.6 percent were boys and 66.4 percent were girls.

In the Fall River JUSD, 71.8 percent of the 9th graders were in the HFZ.

At Fall River High School, 88.9 percent were HFZ (91.3 percent were females, 86.4 percent were males), while only 58.8 percent of the 9th graders at Burney High School were in the healthy zone.

"Inactive children are at risk for serious health conditions, many of which may continue into adulthood," O'Connell said.

"I encourage schools to use these results to review and improve their programs to ensure that students are learning the life-long skills needed to become and stay healthy."

Fall River's athletic director could not be reached for comment Monday.

Burney Junior-Senior High School Athletic Director Peggy Snelling said Monday she had not looked at the state report yet, but that many factors can sway results.

She said a class that "loves sports and is very athletic does well. It all goes in cycles, throughout the state."

The CDE said that a recent analysis compared 2001 results of physical fitness testing with the Stanford Achievement Test, (SAT 9), given as part of the California Standardized Testing and Reporting Program.

The analysis showed a significant relationship between academic achievement and fitness.

"In addition to health concerns, the positive and distinct relationship between physical fitness and academic achievement provides yet another factor for our schools to consider when making decisions and designing programs for our students," O'Connell said.

The 2002 physical fitness results for schools, districts, counties, and the state are available on the CDE's Web site:
