Volunteer firefighters douse hot spots early Friday morning on Grogan Street in Burney where a fire did about $55,000 in damage. The blaze was one of two over the Thanksgiving holiday; the second being in Fall River Mills. That fire caused an estimated $75,000 to $100,000 in damage.

Fires nearly destroy 2 homes over Thanksgiving holiday

BY MEG FOX

Two families nearly lost their homes in two separate fires that broke out over the Thanksgiving holiday.

On Thursday, Fall River Mills resident Bob Barrett and his family returned from out of town at 9 p.m.

to find their two-story house filled with smoke.

They immediately called 911 and Soldier Mountain Fire Company No.13 was the first to arrive.

"Due to the extreme heat and heavy smoke, it took us about an hour to find the source, but we were able to contain the fire to the kitchen and the upstairs bedroom," said Soldier Mountain Fire Chief Tom Coe.

He said the blaze started above the kitchen range and appeared to have been electrical.

"It destroyed the kitchen and the floor of the upstairs bedroom," he said.

Much of the damage was from heat, smoke and water.

"The water damage was from where a joint in a water pipe in the wall had melted and it emptied the pressure tank onto the fire. So it was actually a good thing," said Fire Capt. Greg Mayer.

Engines and crews from the Fall River Mills No. 15 and McArthur No. 16 volunteer fire departments also responded.

The Burney Fire Protection District provided its breathing support trailer to refill the firefighters' self-contained breathing apparatus, Coe said.

The Barrett's two-story home overlooks the Pit River Canyon in Fall River Mills.

Damage was initially estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000.

The second fire broke out around 3:20 a.m. Friday at the George Collier residence at 20274 Grogan Street in Burney.

Collier reported that he woke up to find the tubing on his home oxygen tank in flames. He said he then yelled for his wife and teenage grandson to get out of the house.

Burney Fire Chief Bob May said the cause of the fire was an electrical short in a wall socket in the Collier's bedroom.

The Burney Fire Protection District responded with two engines and an ambulance. The Cassel and Hat Creek volunteer fire stations also assisted at the fire.

May said there were no reported injuries. Damage was estimated at $50,000 to the property and $5,000 to contents.

The American Red Cross assisted in providing temporary housing for the family at a local motel.

Mayers looks to build new hospital

BY MEG FOX

Mayers Memorial Hospital is about to take its first local step towards the hoped-for construction of a new, seismic-safe facility with grant funds acquired through membership in the Rural Healthcare Design Network (formerly called the Rural Healthcare Design Consortium).

Mayers CEO Jerry Fikes told his board of directors Nov. 19 that he plans to have public meetings this month to describe the process and find community volunteers interested in serving on a 20-member needs assessment committee.

"This is good news. It's exciting. It's our first step towards spending $15 million of someone else's money and we'll have the opportunity to shape our future and to be an important part of that future," Fikes said.

The committee's work will be to put together a needs assessment of the area that, among other findings, will consider the "fractious issue" of where the hospital should be built.

"They will be looking at a lot of tough questions, such as if we build, can we stay afloat. And I say absolutely," said Fikes.

The committee's work will take about four to six months.

"They will make a recommendation to the (hospital) board and the board will take action and make a decision."

The data has to be submitted to the funding source by the end of 2004.

Board President Les Cufaude, who has represented the hospital at RHDN meetings, said the 13-hospital group wants to bring in hospitals from out of the state in a few months so that they can go after federal dollars, too.

Although states like Oregon and Nevada don't have to meet the stringent new earthquake standards that California does, Cufaude said RHDN "has moved away from that. The seismic standards are what got us together, but we've evolved."

Added Fikes, "Our reality is the same as others. Our infrastructure is crumbling around us. It's a 40- to 50-year-old facility that does not accommodate the new technology."

Telephone scam warning for area

The Shasta County Sheriff's Office has become aware of a possible telephone scam occurring in the Intermountain area.

Persons in the area have been contacted by subjects posing as bank representatives offering to open an anti-identity theft account for them.

The subjects have asked the persons for personal information, such as their checking account number, the number of the next check in their check book, and their phone number.

The Shasta County Sheriff's Office said never give out information over the phone to someone who has contacted you.

A legitimate company should not hesitate to provide you with a number where you can re-contact them after you have a chance to verify that they are, in fact, legitimate.

If you feel you have been the target of a phone scam or other type of fraud, please contact the Sheriff's Office at 530-335-4511.

CHP arrests 2 for alleged DUI

Two persons were arrested for allegedly driving under the influence in two separate vehicle crashes this past week.

On Nov. 26, about 8:28 p.m., Amy A. Plumhof, 31, of Burney was seen by Shasta County Sheriff's deputy Ken Koenen traveling west on Highway 299 through Burney at a high rate of speed, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Koenen pursued the vehicle from Tamarack Avenue with his vehicle's red lights and siren activated.

Prior to Elm Street, she applied her brakes, went across the center line of the highway and across Elm Street, the CHP reported.

The vehicle continued off the west roadway edge and struck a fire hydrant.

The hydrant broke at the base as the vehicle continued off the roadway and struck a wooden fence.

The driver then backed up about 15 feet and accelerated forward south on Elm Street, the CHP said.

The vehicle continued down the street without headlights and failed to stop for stop signs while traveling on the wrong side of the roadway, the CHP said.

Traveling north on Tamarack Avenue, Plumhof pulled to the right shoulder and stopped just south of Highway 299.

Plumhof, who was not injured, was arrested for DUI, evading arrest and hit and run driving.

In a second incident Friday, Jennifer L. Richards, 44, of Montgomery Creek was traveling east on Highway 299 about 3:55 p.m. and crossed the Montgomery Creek bridge.

She applied the brakes to her pickup and made a U-turn, the CHP said, now facing west on the highway's right shoulder.

She then accelerated to 40-45 miles per hour while still on the shoulder and launched the pickup into the creek.

The vehicle came to rest on all four tires in the center of the creek, the CHP reported.

A motorist traveling west saw the incident and stopped to assist Richards.

She sustained major injuries to her abdominal area and was flown by helicopter to a Redding hospital.

Richards was arrested for DUI, the CHP said.

In a third incident, no one was injured when two vehicles collided at the intersection of Highways 44 and 89 in Old Station.

John Paul Evasuik of Alvarado, Ore., was traveling north on Highway 44/89 and was turning east onto Highway 44 when his vehicle slid into a second vehicle driven by Melody Jane Atkinson of Maple Valley, Wash., Sunday about 9:10 a.m.

Atkinson was traveling west on Highway 44 and stopped at the intersection.

Neither party was injured in the collision.

UNDERSTANDING THE SALES CONTRACT

The purchase or sale of a home is one of the most complicated business transactions most people will be involved in during their lifetime. Whether the print is large or small, there is a lot of it! The purchase agreement covers not only the price of the property, but has many paragraphs governing the terms under which it will be conveyed to the new owners. When you list your home for sale or when you begin your search for a new home, ask your Realtor for a copy of the standard sales agreement. Familiarize yourself with the document ahead of time, and make certain you understand the responsibilities of both parties between the initial meeting of the minds and the closing date. You should be aware of all the deadlines in the purchase agreement. Each contract is different, but there are usually time limits covering the structural contingency, the financing application, the loan commitment, and the closing date.

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling real estate, talk to us at: Century 21 Big Pines Realty. Call us for an appointment at 530-335-3636, or drop by our office at: 37107 Main St. in Burney, or visit our website at century21bigpines.com.

Trial date set for man charged in hunt death

The case against the Anderson man charged with involuntary manslaughter in the shooting death of his hunting companion, Michael Wood, 28, of Cassel, is set for trial Feb. 3 in Shasta County Superior Court.

Kenneth Wayne Park, 44, has been accused of being grossly negligent in discharging a firearm while hunting, according to Shasta County Senior Deputy District Attorney Howard Welch.

On the morning of Sept. 21, 2003, the opening day of hunting season, Park and Wood were in a wooded area off the Old Dump Road, five miles southeast of Burney High School.

Park reportedly fired his rifle across the dirt road and shot and killed Wood, who was about 150 to 200 feet away, according to the Shasta County Sheriff's Office.

Bailey Park meeting set

Community members interested in the development of Bailey Park in Burney are encouraged to attend a planning meeting at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 4 at the Intermountain Community Center.

Items for discussion include a review of the amphitheater plan and design and plans for landscaping, a permanent bathroom and benches and tables.

The group will also discuss vandalism prevention and skatepark concerns.

Death penalty won't be sought for 2 defendants in woman's death

The Shasta County District Attorney's office has decided not to seek the death penalty against two of the five defendants charged in the Sept. 11 killing in Round Mountain of Sandra Metz.

Deputy District Attorney Stewart Jankowitz said their office looked at several factors before deciding they would not seek the death penalty against Clifton Garrett Sherer, 21, of Shasta Lake, and Jack Thomas Morris, 18, of Igo.

"As egregious as the (killing was) you have to look at many factors," Jankowitz said on Tuesday.

Among those factors, he said, are whether more than one person was killed, the defendant's previous criminal records, and whether or not they believed a jury would be likely to sentence two young men to death.

"Based on several factors, we decided it was not appropriate to ask for the death penalty," Jankowitz said.

In addition to Sherer and Morris, others facing murder and other charges, including robbery, burglary and auto theft are Metz's daughter, Meghan Powell, 16, of Round Mountain and Danielle Rodriguez, 16, of Redding. Both girls are being tried as adults.

Calvin William Hodge Jr., 18, of Igo, is charged with conspiracy to commit murder.

The five defendants were in court Monday to enter pleas following a preliminary hearing earlier this month where they were ordered to stand trial. On Monday, all five pleaded not guilty to all charges.

With the decision by the D.A.'s office, all five now face a maximum penalty of life in prison without the possibility of parole.

Also on Monday, Jankowitz requested a trial date of April, 2004. But attorneys for the defendants objected saying they needed more time to prepare their defense.

Shasta County Superior Court Judge Wilson Curle granted the defense attorney's request, setting a trial date of June 22, 2004, but also scheduled a status conference for April 19 to make sure all attorneys were actively working on preparing their case.

Additional high school rodeo wins

In a Nov. 19 News article on the local high school students who placed during the second District I California High School Rodeo Association competition Nov. 8 and 9 in Redding, the names of two Big Valley High School students were inadvertently omitted.

Faren Graham, 16, of Bieber, took first place in breakaway roping (18.84) in the contest with 19 other riders.

In the team-roping event, Christian Bidwell, 14, of Bieber, took sixth place (26.62/1) with his partner Cyndle Parsons, of Montague. They competed against 17 other teams. The News regrets these errors.

The next High School Rodeo is Dec.13-14 at the Redding Rodeo Arena.

Homeowners with money worries may qualify for low-interest loans

LOANS: Direct lender loosens its requirements for homeowners who need money now.

Have you been turned down for a loan? Do you need more than $10,000 for any reason? Are you paying more than 10% interest on any other loans or credit cards?

If you are a homeowner and answered 'yes' to any of these questions, they can tell you over the phone and without obligation if you qualify.

High credit card debt? Less-than-perfect credit? Self-employed? Late house payments? Financial problems? Medical bills? IRS liens? It doesn't matter!

If you are a homeowner with sufficient equity, there's an excellent chance you will qualify for a loan—usually within 24 hours.

You can find out over the phone—and free of charge—if you qualify.

Searching for military personnel for next reunion

Editor:
The Second (Indian Head) Division Association is searching for anyone who ever served in the 2nd Infantry Division at any time.
For information about our association and our forth coming reunion, please contact: Bill Creech, P.O. Box 460, Buda, Texas 78610.

Event for retired and volunteers a huge success

Editor:
The 32nd Annual Shasta County Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) Recognition event was a huge success.
The event was held at the Mountain Senior Apartments Nov. 13.
Several volunteers were honored for their years of service in the program.
Ten year plaques were awarded to Daniel Collins, Roy Banner, Gwendolyn Lojo and Ruth Nehring.
Five year plaques were awarded to: Beatrice Hetrick, Bea Marsden, Helen Wolter and Judy Kellogg.
Constance Lazar received an award for volunteering 1094 hours in 2002 and Jeraldine Kelly for volunteering 1449 hours in 2002.
RSVP would like to thank the following businesses for their generous contributions to the volunteer recognition: Mountain Senior Apartments, The American Store, Mt. Burney Coffee Co., Tom & Ginger's Drive In, Main St. Café, Round Table Pizza, Precision Lube Express, Holiday Market, Debut Video, Safeway and Ben Franklin.

Sweet train not so sweet

Editor:
I was treated to a seat on the "Sweet Train," (the McCloud River Rail Road) that rolled along the dark up to the Cayton Valley, I guess.
Returning to Burney a few hours later, only to be stuffed with cakes and candies that tasted all the same.
I am glad that I didn't buy these tickets, as I feel cheated in not receiving anything of "real" value, aside from my company, the company employees, and the people serving us who were sincerely kind and clean.
The old restored train cars pulled by two diesel engines certainly provided a feeling of nostalgia.
The monies earned from this event will no doubt provide an enhanced sports program for the school district. However, our major concern is the timing and longevity of this event. May I suggest for the future a ten o'clock Saturday departure, a better thought-out healthier meal and perhaps, traveling up to McCloud for a few hours of shopping and sight seeing might provide for a more worthwhile adventure.
This way, at least for me, there will be real value not to mention a "repeat" customer. Maybe if the powers at be contracted the folks operating the skunk train out of Willets and Fort Bragg, insight might be acquired into what makes for a prosperous endeavor.

Beware the carpetbaggers

Editor:
That was an interesting juxtaposition of letters in a recent edition: one from Chief May praising the community for its spirit during the devastating fires in Southern California and another from Mike Rodriguez accusing residents of being carpetbaggers.

The carpetbaggers of the Reconstruction Era purchased property in the South at rock-bottom prices, left the area, then waited for improvement in the economy so that they could sell at a much inflated price.
These Burney "carpetbaggers" whom Mike Rodriguez so severely admonishes are people who have purchased homes here and invested their life savings into businesses.
They are the ones who have run for and been elected to Boards of Directors on which they serve without remuneration.
And they have beautified Main Street by remodeling disintegrating buildings and bringing them up to code.
The "fire officials" Mike Rodriguez alludes to for "running around looking for folks to fine so as to get more money" are the firefighters and emergency medical volunteers who save homes and businesses when fire strikes and who transport the ill or injured in ambulances.
The remarks in the letter from Mike Rodriguez were hurtful and unfair.
Perhaps he should form a partnership with the owner of the former Post Office building on Main Street. They could purchase all of the crumbling buildings in Burney, board them up, and write unintelligible comments on the plywood.

Help animals, help people

Editor:
I've recently been browsing the Internet and came to fine literally hundreds of sites that help unwanted animals.
There are volunteer programs everywhere, ones where you can cuddle with the cats or take the dogs for a walk and they truly love it, they love being enjoyed.
On the other hand there are very many unhappy people who don't enjoy their animals and who don't bother getting them spayed and neutered to avoid the problem of overpopulating and brining animals into the world that have no value to them.
Every month 1 million animals are killed and the problem will only grow greater if something is not done about it. Everyone should be concerned about this, the issue needs to be addressed.
These unwanted animals are being neglected/ abused, and destroyed for the simple fact that people don't get them fixed.
Spayed and neutered will address the fact that no more unwanted animals will come fourth but that does not help any of the stray animals starving and wandering the streets now. How can we help? Have a Heart first of all, second we need to be the voice for a creature that has none.
"Anyone who has accustomed himself to regard life any living creature as worthless is in danger of arriving also at the idea of worthless human lives."
We need to take a stand against animal cruelty by demanding stronger animal protection laws.
I'm asking you to take this information, realize it's urgency and bring it to attention of the people in the community.
Please help, my heart aches every time I think about a being not being wanted. There is so much we can do for them. Thank you for taking the time to read my letter. Help animals help people.

Marines celebrate birthday

The Marines celebrated their 228th Birthday at the VFW hall in Burney with a special tribute and memorial in memory of Captain Matthew Bancroft, USMC that was killed in the Enduring Freedom War in Afghanistan.
Retired Burney High Schoolteacher, David Isbel, spoke about what an exceptional person and student Capt. Bancroft was, "He was very strong in math.
By his junior year he had completed all the math classes at the High School and spent his senior year taking calculus by way of a correspondence course from the University of California in Berkeley."
Al Cunningham, the Master of Ceremonies, asked all Marines to come forward and introduce themselves.
He then introduced the guest speaker, 1sr Sgt. Edwin O. Sanders, USMC, Ret. from the Klamath Falls Post who is the past Commandant of the Maine Corp League there.
He served two tours in Vietnam, at Gitmo Marine Barracks, Barbers Point and was the shipside 1st Sgt. of the Myaquez operation in Cambodia.
Sanders called- Attention on Deck- and Marines stood in unison for the Marines Hymn played on the trumpet by Dennis Adams.
They stood erect, with backs straight as boards, until he called 'Carry on.'
As the guest speaker, Sgt. Sanders, spoke of the Marine family and the separation necessary while in the Marines.
He said he had been in the Marines 20-years and a fourth of his time he was away from his family. "It was really tough on the families. The wives had to become Mom and Dad to the children."

talion was moving out to Vietnam.
His wife was about ready to deliver their fifth child. This was a high security deployment under penalty of jail if it was talked about.
He accompanied his troops to the deployment area. By this time his wife was in the hospital and had delivered a son. He still couldn't tell his wife that he was leaving for Vietnam the next day. He remembers in the 50s, the Marine Corp has a saying, "If the Marine Corp wanted you to have a wife they would have issued you one."
He ended his talk by encouraging people to keep the Veterans and service personnel in their hearts, minds and prayers. A rousing "OohRah" was shouted.
The youngest Marine, Pvt. 1st Class Sean Green in full dress uniform, and the oldest Marine, Clara 'Cal' Hart, age 87 sliced the Marine Corp cake.
Green is from Redding and has just completed boot camp. Cal, short for California, is a nickname given her by the Marines in 1943.

Burney High School news

By Nicole Carlotto
With the Thanksgiving vacation taking up the majority of last week, not too much new is going on at Burney High.
The odds and ends are presently getting finished up in preparation for the much anticipated Christmas vacation.
Sports teams got last week off due to the holiday, and as for basketball, they will start up this Thursday with each of their various tournaments.
Wrestling is away, they will spend this Thursday at a tournament at Bishop Quinn.
The annual winter concert has a new twist on it this year.
Instead of having each school perform separately, Burney and Fall River High will combine to have two performances.
The Burney performance will be December 8 at 7 p.m. at burney High, while the fall River performance will be Dec. 17 at 7 p.m. at Fall River High.

Performing will be both high school bands and vocal ensembles under the direction of Mr. Castro.
The California Scholarship Federation would like to thank everyone who helped with the Crispy Crème donut fundraiser, which took place over the past few weeks.
The money earned from that and the upcoming school wide candy gram sales, it will help go toward a trip to Ashland to see a Shakespearean play and to a college visitation trip in the fall.
But that is not all CFS is up to this holiday season.
They have teamed up with CJSF (the junior high level) for a school canned food drive.

After the drive is over, the cans will be distributed throughout the community, and the clubs will go caroling around the town and to the local annex.
Christmas may still be a month away, but it is never too early to get into the holiday spirit.

Stew Feast, boutique scheduled for Sunday

Fresh, handmade wreaths and sprays for the holidays will be available when the Wayside Garden Club members host their annual Stew Feast and Greens Boutique from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 7, at the Veterans Hall in Fall River Mills.
"Each year, the garden club members, along with their husbands, go out into the woods and cut fresh greens and this year we have a beautiful assortment," said Joyce On, of Burney.
The decorative greens range in price from $7.50 to $25. The greenery is popular and goes quickly. To order in advance, call On at 335-4529 or Thelma Anderson at 336-6309.
"We will also have some great gifts made up for that hard-to-buy-for person,
Property taxes due Dec. 10
Lori Scott announced that persons owning property in Shasta County who have not received their tax bills for the 2003-04 fiscal year should contact the office at 225-5511.

Payments can be made online at the county website www.co.shasta.ca.us/departments/ttc, using secure Virtual Check.

along with an assortment of handmade Christmas ornaments, note cards, and lots of yummy baked goods, including cookies and candies," On said.
The luncheon includes a choice of stew or soup with a variety of salads, fresh rolls, desserts, coffee or punch for $6.50 per person.
There will also be a drawing for a door prize and the winner will be notified by telephone.
Wayside Garden Club is a non-profit organization and all funds earned go towards the beautification of the community.
Club members take care of the flowerbeds at Mayers Memorial Hospital in Fall River Mills and at the hospital's Burney Annex, as well as several of the flowerbeds at the Inter-Mountain Fair in McArthur.
Every spring, the Wayside Garden Club hosts a special luncheon for the area's shut-ins, the hospital's long-term care patients, and friends from Mountain Jewel Ranch.
The Wayside Garden Club also offers an annual $500 scholarship to students majoring in gardening or horticulture.
Membership is open to anyone. The monthly meetings are at 1:30 p.m. on the third Wednesday of each month in the Evelyn O. Royce Art Center in Fall River Mills.

Bulldogs take Div. V title in 38-14 victory over Timberjacks

Fall River head coach Steve Hubauer is shown in photo above along sidelines in Nov. 26 game at the Bulldog field. In photo at left, senior running back Daniel Pagan dives for goal line. He rushed for 207 yards on 15 carries and scored two touchdowns for the evening.

Offense yardage more than 500 for 2nd week

For the second time in as many weeks, the Fall River Bulldogs combined offense totaled more than 500 yards, resulting in a 38-14 Division V football title victory over the Hayfork Timberjacks Nov. 26.

On their home field, the team rushed for 331 yards and picked up another 200 in the air.

Senior running back Daniel Pagan garnered 207 stripes on 15 carries, including a 91-yard scamper for one of his two TDs for the night. Pagan led the Mid-Valley League in scoring with 112 points for the season.

Nick McFarlin caught five passes for 100 yards and scored two touchdowns. The junior collected 335 yards to lead the league in receiving yardage.

Junior running back Robert Senko also was on the receiving end of two aerals, picking up 79 yards and a touchdown.

Junior running back Keegan Moyer rushed 13 times for 72 yards, bringing his season total to 1,264, and placing him atop the Mid-Valley League for all rushing leaders.

The Bulldogs ended the season with a 10-2 overall record and 5-1 Mid-Valley League mark.

In photo below, junior Keegan Moyer (23) moves behind blocker Brady Corr (65) for a few of his 72 total rushing yards for the night.
