Hunting death case declared mistrial

A jury failed to reach a verdict Monday in the trial of the man charged with involuntary manslaughter in the 2002 shooting death of his hunting partner, Michael Wood, of Cassel.

Shasta County Superior Court

Judge Wilson Curle declared a mistrial after the hung jury returned an 8-4 vote of guilty and then a 9-3 vote of not guilty, according to Senior Deputy District Attorney Howard Welch.

Welch said further proceedings are set for March 1 when his office would decide, "whether or not a retrial is justified."

Kenneth Wayne Park, 44, of Anderson, was on trial, accused of gross negligence in discharging a firearm while hunting with his 28-year-old friend.

On Sept. 21, the opening morning of the 2002 hunting season, Park and Wood were in a wooded area off the Old Dump Road, five miles southeast of Burney High School.

Park reportedly fired his rifle across the dirt road and shot and killed Wood, who was about 150 to 200 feet away, according to the Shasta County Sheriff's Office.

Plans at work to save pool in Burney

BY MEG FOX

It seems that no one wants the Burney Water District's sparkling but financially troubled swimming pool, least of all the district's directors, who had just about given up when a hand reached out to rescue them.

Burney resident Lola Harris returned to the water district Feb. 18 to offer her help and the help of other members of Soroptimist International of Burney — Fall River.

Harris was among the community members who formed the Intermountain Swimming Pool Association and who, by 1989, had raised enough money to build the pool complex.

After fundraising and networking for more than 15 years to bring a swimming pool to the community, Harris is not about to let the water district close the pool.

Harris said the water district should have a special election and get voter approval for a one-dollar monthly pool fee increase to keep the facility open.

She doesn't believe the less costly mail-in ballots would work because people tend to vote no or not vote at all.

"We have to get people out and get them to vote yes," she said.

And the way to get that to happen is to go out and talk to them, she said.

"We have to educate them. We have to talk and talk it up a lot. If the pool closes, the kids will be on the streets because there will be nothing for them to do. A community is only as good as what is put back into it," Harris said.

Last November, voters within the district turned down a ballot initiative to raise the monthly pool fee, but both Harris and newly elected director Andrew Urlic said the public might not have realized what was at stake.

Without funds from somewhere, the pool will close, the board said.

At last month's water board meeting Urlic wanted to try taking it to the voters again and said he believed that with better marketing the district could generate public support.

He suggested reaching voters by sending information out with their water bills and giving presentations at local service club meetings.

Harris echoed that thought at the Feb. 18 meeting and said she and the other Soroptimists were willing to talk to Burney Rotary, the Burney Lions Club, and other local groups to gain their support.

Harris and Urlic said young parents with children should be targeted, too.

With help on the way, water district manager Bill Suppa and the water board seemed to warm to the idea.

"We need to make people understand that this is do or die," said Suppa, who after last month's meeting wrote a letter to the school district offering them the pool, gratis, plus the $75,000 left in the Food vouchers available once again

If you're hungry and trying to make ends meet, the Tri County Community Network in Burney has food vouchers to help people get by immediately and meal planning information to help stretch the grocery dollars for the long term.

The Shasta County Department of Housing and Community Action Programs recently refunded the program for another year with a grant of $4,500.

"It was good news for us and good news for anyone in the area that might find themselves hungry," said TCCN Executive Director Cindy Dodds.

The program served 300 people last year from Burney, Johnson Park, Cassel, Hat Creek and Old Station, according to Program Director Kathy Klein.

Individuals and family members in need are eligible to stop by the Intermountain Community Center and receive a $10 food voucher to shop for fresh and nutritional groceries at Holiday Quality Foods in Burney.

A maximum of $50 in vouchers are available to a family once every six months.

There are no income eligibility guidelines.

With careful planning and shopping, the vouchers provide three days of meals per person, Klein said.

Clients also receive packages of nutrition information, sample grocery lists, and recipes to help them plan their grocery shopping and meal preparation.

"We hope this will help people during the other five months," said Klein, who shows people how to plan nutritious meals and how to shop for bargains by reviewing grocery ads and making a list in advance.

The Burney program has been helping feed people since 2001.

Intermountain Area residents are also served by Acorn Community Enterprises, which provides food baskets to residents in Big Bend, Montgomery Creek and Round Mountain.

The Fall River Valley is served by the church food pantries in their community.

A Burney woman reported Sunday at 2:05 p.m. her mother found a hand grenade in a storage shed at the 20200 block of Arrowood Street. The caller said the shed had not been opened for 10 years. The grenade was turned over to the bomb squad.

reserve fund. When the school district sold the water district the land, it was with the provision that "if the pool closed for any reason, it would revert back to the school district," Suppa said in his letter.

The school board was not interested in the offer of a 'free' pool.

Harris said some people might not even realize what a gem the community pool on Bailey Avenue is.

She suggested having fundraisers to pay for the election, such as an open house or a luau at the pool.

She said a luau would bring people to see and maybe even take a dip in the pool.

In addition to the pristine Olympic-size swimming pool with a diving board, slide, and roped areas for lap swimming, there is a separate heated therapy pool for adults only, a shallow pool just for toddlers, swimming lessons for all ages, and a grassy picnic area.

"Adults can go in that warm therapy pool and relax and there are no little children splashing," said Harris, who added that her favorite offering is the water aerobics class.

Having a community swimming pool makes Burney a more desirable place to live, especially if families are considering relocation, said Urlic.

"It draws people here and that builds a tax base, plus, what a nice complex it is," Urlic said.

"We also need to educate people on what it costs to swim in other towns," Harris said.

The cost to a family of five or an individual living in the water district is now $24 a year for unlimited use of Burney's community pool.

The pool is open from Memorial Day weekend through the first week of September.

A monthly fee increase of a dollar would raise the annual cost to $36.

"What's one dollar? You can't even buy a cup of coffee for a dollar," said Harris, noting that the pool fee has been $2 a month for 13 years.

Last summer, a season pass to the Big Valley swimming pool in Bieber was $50 per person, or $150 for a family of five.

In Alturas, a season pass to the local pool is $60 per person or $80 per family.

Both pools have shorter hours and shorter seasons than Burney.

Swimming lessons were $45 in Dunsmuir and $40 in Alturas for 14 one-half hour lessons. In Burney, lessons are $22 for the first child, $20 for each additional child, for

SUPERIOR COURT ACTION

In Shasta County Superior Court in Burney Feb. 13, retired Judge Gregory Caskey fined Duane Allen Schneider, 42, of Burney, a total of $207.50 after he pled guilty to a Department of Fish and Game violation.

Schneider was charged with depositing a pollutant, an empty 12-ounce aluminum can of Budweiser beer, within 150 feet of state waters on March 7, 2003 in Redding.

DFG wardens Dan Fehr and M.D. Szody reported that they watched as Schneider walked past their marked patrol car finishing a beer, which he subsequently tossed into the east gutter of Lost Lane near North Market Street in Redding.

The judge recalled a bench warrant and dismissed two counts of failure to appear in court.

Carl Lee Rooth, 50, of Burney, was ordered to pay $360 in fees and fines for driving without a license.

CHP Officer Kevin Luntley reported that he originally stopped Rooth at 2:05 p.m. Nov. 12 at Highways 299 and 89 because he believed Rooth's vehicle had no license plate.

As it turned out, the plate was covered in paint and unreadable.

In reviewing two older cases, from 1999 and 2001, for Manoleto Monti Flores, 24, of Burney, Judge Caskey converted the sentencing of 23 days in the alternative work program and ordered Flores to instead pay fines totaling $1,633.

Shonda Lynn Massey, 22, of Burney, was sentenced in two separate cases and permitted, if she is eligible, to attend traffic school.

In one case, she was fined $105.50 on charges of traveling at 70 mph in a 55 mph zone Nov. 12 on Highway 299 at Hatchet Mountain. CHP Officer William Boyes made the traffic stop.

In a second case, she was fined $136 after a solo minor traffic accident Nov. 15 on Highway 299, west of Haynes Road.

CHP Officer Roger Ludwigsen cited her for failure to maintain her vehicle on the right half of the road.

In a case against Christy Lavina Haley, 47, of Burney, Judge Caskey converted a previous sentence of six days of work at Burney Cemetery to a fine of $305 to be paid at $25 a month.

Haley was sentenced Sept. 26 on charges of disturbing the peace in a campground June 25 at McArthur-Burney Falls State Park.

Patrick Scott Blackburn, 37, of Big Bend, was fined $85.50 for driving at 65 mph in a 55 mph zone on Highway 299, east of Moose Camp. CHP Officer Stu Wagner made the traffic stop at 5:05 p.m. Aug. 15.

Curtis Allen Hibbeln, 40, of Burney, was fined $152.50 for excessive speed on Highway 299, west of Hatchet Mountain.

He elected to attend traffic school and have the case dismissed.

CHP Officers Roger Ludwigsen and Jim Gilmore made the traffic stop at 3:55 p.m. Nov. 12.

PRICING PITFALLS

You have just found the perfect new home for your growing family, but it is a little out of your price range- unless you can get an extra $20,000 for your current home. One can never be sure how much a home will sell for. It is always possible to list a home for a little more than it may be worth in the hopes that you could get lucky. After all, it just takes one buyer, and the market is busy!

However, if you want to sell your home quickly, maybe you should consider taking less than you hoped to get, therefore keeping the price a little lower. Don't buy and sell so close to the wire that you become concerned that the numbers aren't as close as you would like them to be. If you set your price close to the market value, you greatly increase your chances of getting good offers that will result in a relatively fast sale. There may be other ways to increase your buying power and get you into that new home, such as adjustable rate mortgages or owner financing. When you are selling one home and buying another, you will need more than luck and the possibility of finding one person who may be willing to pay the extra amount you would like to get. Remember, you will need a highly professional Realtor who can give you solid advice on how to make the transaction work for you.

THE InterMountain News Sports

Fall River gals defeat Mt. Shasta and earn Div. 5 playoff berth

The lady Bulldogs ended their basketball season with what varsity coach Kathy Jones said was a "big win" against Mt. Shasta.

The varsity girls beat the Bears 44-35 to give them second place in the League (8-4) and to garner a No. 10 seed in the NSCIF Division 5 playoffs at Chester, the No. 7 team.

"It's exactly what I was hoping for and I think we have a good shot at beating them," Jones said.

If Fall River wins, they go up against No. 2 seed Loyalt. If they lose, that's it.

Fall River's varsity girls' basketball team had a win earlier in that week, too, beating Modoc 52-37 in Alturas Feb. 17.

In that game, Brittany Shelton was high-point scorer with 17 points and 8 rebounds.

Jessica Caldwell scored 13 points and had 10 rebounds. Shawna Truan had 11 points and 8 rebounds.

Delaney Chapman scored 6 points. Abby Salters had 6 rebounds, 5 steals and 8 assists.

Against Mt. Shasta, Caldwell scored 15 points with 14 rebounds.

Salters was back in scoring position with 13 points, plus 5 rebounds, 3 steals, and 6 assists. She was also 4-for-4 in free throws.

Shelton scored 10 points with 7 rebounds, and Truan had 6 rebounds and 4 steals.

According to MaxPreps, the web site that tracks statewide sports and stats based on submissions from coaches, Salters is first in league in steals with 75, second in league in assists with 90 for the season, and third in making three-point field goals with 19.

Bulldog JV girls beat Modoc

Fall River's JV Bulldogs had a 31-16 win against the Modoc Braves in Alturas Feb 17, but lost to the Mt. Shasta Bears, 33-31, on Friday.

The girls ended their season 4-8 in league and 8-11 overall, according to coach Todd Sloat.

Top scorers in both games were Lesley Taylor and Maggie DeCoito, who averaged 10 points a game.

Sloat said freshman Hannah Moyer played a good game for the team in Alturas. "She handled the ball really well and played really well for us."

Fall River's Jessica Caldwell (25) snares rebound in Friday night game with the Bears. Behind her are Mt. Shasta's Amber Hayes and Bulldog Brittany Shelton (24).

Fall River's Brittany Wagner (30) prepares for shot at the basket over outstretched hand of Mt. Shasta's Shannon Shaw.

Deaf ear in close contest

The ref turned a deaf ear on the Burney's JV girls' coach and fans as they shouted at her to call a time out in the last six seconds of their 45-42 loss to the Etna Lions Friday.

"We wanted the time out to set up a three-point shot to tie up the game, but the ref said she didn't hear us screaming," said coach Loni Estes.

Burney had the lead at the end of the first quarter (5-4) and at the half (15-11).

Etna caught up and took over by the end of the third, but Burney bounced back to bring them oh-so-close to a win.

Burney played really well, Estes said. "We had 18 steals and only 16 turnovers, which is pretty good for JV."

Anika Kierce led the team with 13 points and 6 steals. Taylor White scored 11 points and Amber Spooner had 10 points, 13 rebounds, and 4 steals. Her sister, Megan Spooner, scored 5 points with 9 rebounds.

B.V. boys earn 2nd in league

The Big Valley Cardinals ended the Evergreen League basketball season with the boys' varsity in second place and the girls' varsity in third.

The boys had a 9-6 record overall and 8-2 in league, having lost to Tulelake and Happy Camp, the state leader with 17-0.

The Cards, with a No. 6 seed in the Division VI playoffs, take on No. 3 Westwood (18-6) in the first round at 7 p.m. tonight.

In girls' varsity, the lady Cards had a 5-5 record in league, with a 6-10 record overall.

They are seeded No. 7 for the Division VI playoffs and at press time Tuesday were set to play No. 2 Westwood, 16-7 in league.

Raider boys varsity lose to Etna in fourth period

By the end of the half, Burney and Etna were tied, 31-31, in boys' varsity basketball.

"The Lions outscored us by three points in the third quarter and by the fourth, they had put it away on us," said Burney varsity coach Tara Jones.

Burney's league season ended with a 76-65 loss, putting the team in fifth place with a 9-14 record overall, good enough to make it into tonight's playoffs in the No. 14 seed.

Against Etna, Bulldog senior Ryan Huffman scored a third of the points with 24. Kyle Moody added 12 points to the score and J.D. Dennis had 10.

Jacob Hubbs and Kevin Wrigley added 6 points apiece, Luke Schechla had 5 points, and Eric Frazier scored two.

JV boys cage Lions

The Burney JV boys brought the Etna Lions to their knees Friday, winning the encounter 68-44.

"We beat 'em up," said Tara Jones, who coaches Burney's boys' teams with her husband Wade.

"We just came out and got ahead of them right from the start," she said.

Most of the team scored points, with Grant Moody leading the way with 17, followed by Ryan Rhodes with 13.

Kevin Sutherland scored 11 points, Tyler Watson and Nate Bartell each scored 8, Cooper Allison scored 6, Isaac Valdivia and Mike Pearson scored two apiece, and Tyler Roads landed one.

Raider girls hold first place Etna to 41 points

After polishing off Burney Friday, Etna's lady Lions finished in first place in the Shasta Cascade League for the second consecutive year.

Though the Raider girls lost, 41-32, coach Susan Ayers said she was proud of her team and the fact that the held the ferocious Lions to only 41 points.

"Our offense and the fact that we changed the tempo of the game slowed Etna down and took them out of their normal game, causing much frustration on their part," Ayers said.

"Burney handled the ball well and made key plays.

I could not be prouder of this team and how well they played together," she said.

Senior Rocksann Barba was the high point scorer with 9 points. She had 3 rebounds and 2 assists.

Sophomore Robbie Fulk scored 8 points with 5 rebounds. Senior Aimee Ayers and sophomore Kayla Stover each scored 6 points. Stover had 9 rebounds and 1 assist. Ayers had 7 rebounds.

According to maxpreps, the Web site that tracks statewide sports and stats based on submissions from coaches, Stover leads the Shasta Cascade League in rebounds (274) and Barba is first in the League with assists (105).

Fulk is third in the League in steals (59) and was in second place for her two-point field goals (135) during the season.

Burney boys, girls, and Fall River girls on road to playoffs

Burney's varsity basketball teams and the Fall River girls' varsity were on the road to the NSCIF Division 5 playoffs at press time.

The Raider boys play second-seeded Bishop Quinn at 7 p.m. tonight in Redding.

They are tied with Los Molinos for the No. 14 seed.

The Raiders finished fifth in the Shasta Cascade League after Friday's 76-65 loss to Etna.

Fall River's girls' varsity team was set to play Chester Feb. 24.

The lady Bulldogs are seeded at No. 13 in the division and Chester is tied in the No. 7 seed with Pierce.

The No. 15 seeded Raider girls were set to play Hayfork Feb. 24, a team that finished first in the Shasta Cascade League. Hayfork is tied with Loyalton for the No. 1 seed in the playoffs.

The lady Raiders finished the Shasta Cascade League with a 3-9 and 7-15 overall.

Burney's varsity boys finished fifth in league, 3-9 and a 9-14 record overall. Burney beat Fall River twice and Weed once in League play.

The Fall River girls' varsity ended their season 13-8 overall and 8-4 in League, having lost to Etna twice, Burney and Weed.

The Bulldog boys varsity team ended the season in last place in League with a 2-10 record, beating Weed and Etna, and a 4-18 record overall. They were given a 22nd place seed.

By BETTY DEBNAM

from The Mini Page by Betty Debnam © 2004 The Mini Page Publishing Company Inc.

A tiny statue of Morgie is on display in the new mammal exhibit at the Smithsonian's National Museum of Natural History.

Beginning mammals

About 210 million years ago, during the time of the dinosaurs, there was a tiny little creature about 4 inches long. She probably hid from the huge dinosaurs during the day and hunted at night.

Scientists discovered this animal's bones in an ancient cave. They nicknamed her "Morgie" (short for her scientific name, morganucodon oehleri).

Scientists think that Morgie:

- had a brain that was bigger than those of other tiny animals of the time.
- was probably warm-blooded and active.
- had special ear and jawbones.

These bones have some of the characteristics that all mammals have.

Scientists think that she is one of the earliest true mammals. Morgie and other animals like her have passed on mammal traits to billions of descendants for millions of years.

Beginnings, Changes, and What They Are ...
All About Mammals

A specimen of a giraffe as it bends to drink at a water hole in the exhibit. Giraffes must spread their front legs far apart in order to reach the water. Their neck valves keep the blood from rushing down.

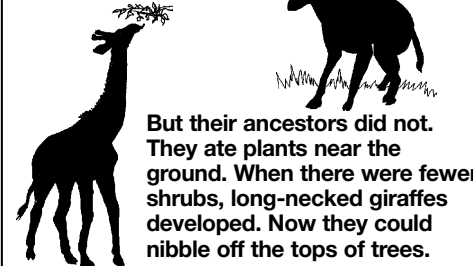

Changing mammals

When the dinosaurs became extinct 65 million years ago, Morgie's descendants began to diversify, or branch out.

Over millions of years, Morgie's descendants and other animals like her have produced 5,000 species of mammals that are on Earth today — and that includes us, because we are mammals, too.

As the world changed, so did the mammals as they adjusted to many climates.

Today's giraffes have necks that make up half their height.

But their ancestors did not. They ate plants near the ground. When there were fewer shrubs, long-necked giraffes developed. Now they could nibble off the tops of trees.

What makes a mammal

Mammals are animals that have:

- hair that keeps them warm and dry. Hair helps them hide. It can also send warnings and sometimes can be used as a weapon.

The polar bear's thick fur keeps it warm and helps it blend into the white snow.

- mothers that nurse their young.

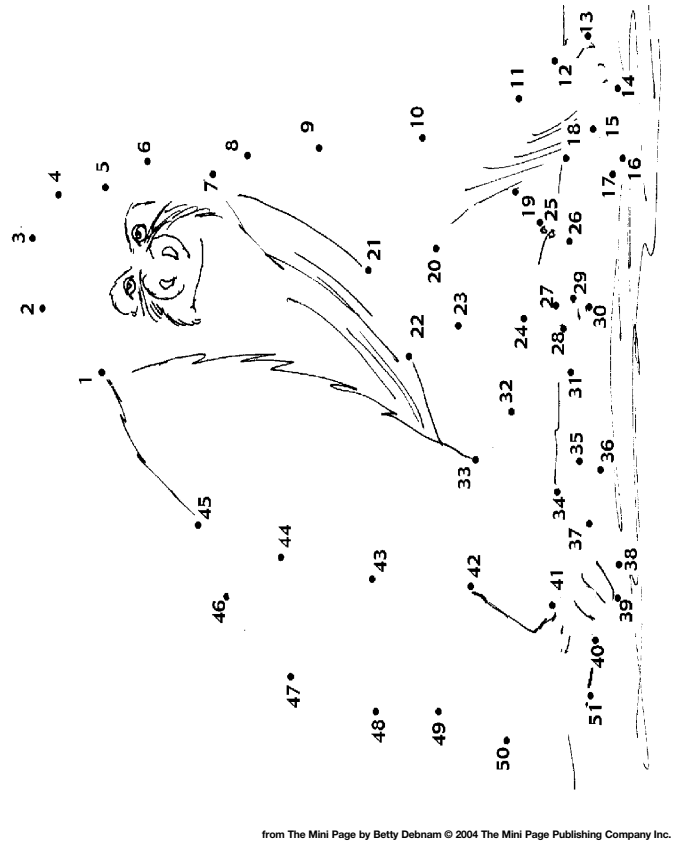

Mother deer usually have one to two calves at a time.

- special bones in their inner ear. You can't see them, but they are there.

Gus Goodsport's Report
Supersport: Emeka Okafor

Height: 6-10 Weight: 252

More than 3,000 athletes play Division I college basketball, and many experts rank Emeka Okafor as the best of the bunch.

The University of Connecticut center leads the nation in blocked shots, with nearly five per game. The Huskies' famous No. 50, who is big, agile and athletic, also excels offensively and grabs rebounds with ferocity.

Emeka, whose full name is Chukwuemeka Emeka Okafor, was born in Nigeria and grew up in Texas.

At Connecticut, Emeka also excels in the classroom, where he is studying finance. Next year he should be earning millions playing professionally in the NBA.

But this year, his basketball goal is to lead UConn to the national championship. Who is to say he can't do it?

Meet Rachel Hurd-Wood

"Peter Pan" is the first movie for young English actress Rachel Hurd-Wood. Rachel, 13, plays the character of Wendy, the girl who flies off with her two brothers to Neverland with Peter Pan.

Rachel had acted only in a couple of plays at her school when she was chosen to star in the movie. The makers of the movie discovered Rachel when she showed up with other girls in what is known as a casting call.

While she wants to act in a few more movies, Rachel doesn't plan to be an actress when she grows up. She likes dolphins and hopes to become a marine biologist.

Rachel lives with her parents and a younger brother in their home near London. She enjoys ice skating, music and art.

MIGHTY FUNNY'S Mini Jokes

All the following jokes have something in common. Can you guess the common theme or category?

Alana: Where do geologists like to go for entertainment?
Warren: To rock 'n' roll concerts!

Julia: Where do geologists like to relax?
Wesley: In a rocking chair!

Nelson: What is a geologist's favorite kind of transportation?
Lenora: A rocket!

More About Mammals

The mammal family
All of the following are members of the mammal family.

Rodents

By gnawing, beavers can cut down trees. They are awkward on land but are good swimmers.

Rodents have chisel-like teeth and lots of offspring. There are more than 2,000 species. They are the largest group of living mammals.

Primates

Like us, gorillas live in social groups. They look after their young for as long as eight years.

The colobus monkey can digest tough leaves that other monkeys can't eat.

There are more than 200 species of primates. Primates have grasping hands and feet and complex brains. They have 3-D vision, which means they can see depth.

The word primate means "first" or "most important."

Humans are the only primates that do not have a gripping, or sixth, toe.

Look through your newspaper for photos of mammals.

Ungulates

There are about 330 species of ungulates (UHN-gyoo-lates). Ungulates have grinding teeth and hooved feet.

They eat mostly hard-to-digest leafy plants and spend as much as three-quarters of their time eating. They are good at fleeing when threatened.

Carnivores

There are 291 species of carnivores. They are meat eaters with shearing teeth and slashing claws.

While humans eat meat, they are not true carnivores, as they do not have shearing teeth or claws.

Bats

There are 1,100 species. They make up the second-largest group of mammals. Bats are the only mammals that can fly.

A few Australian animals

Australia is an isolated continent with some unusual mammals.

Monotremes (MON-uh-treems) are mammals that are hatched from eggs. These include the platypus and the echidna.

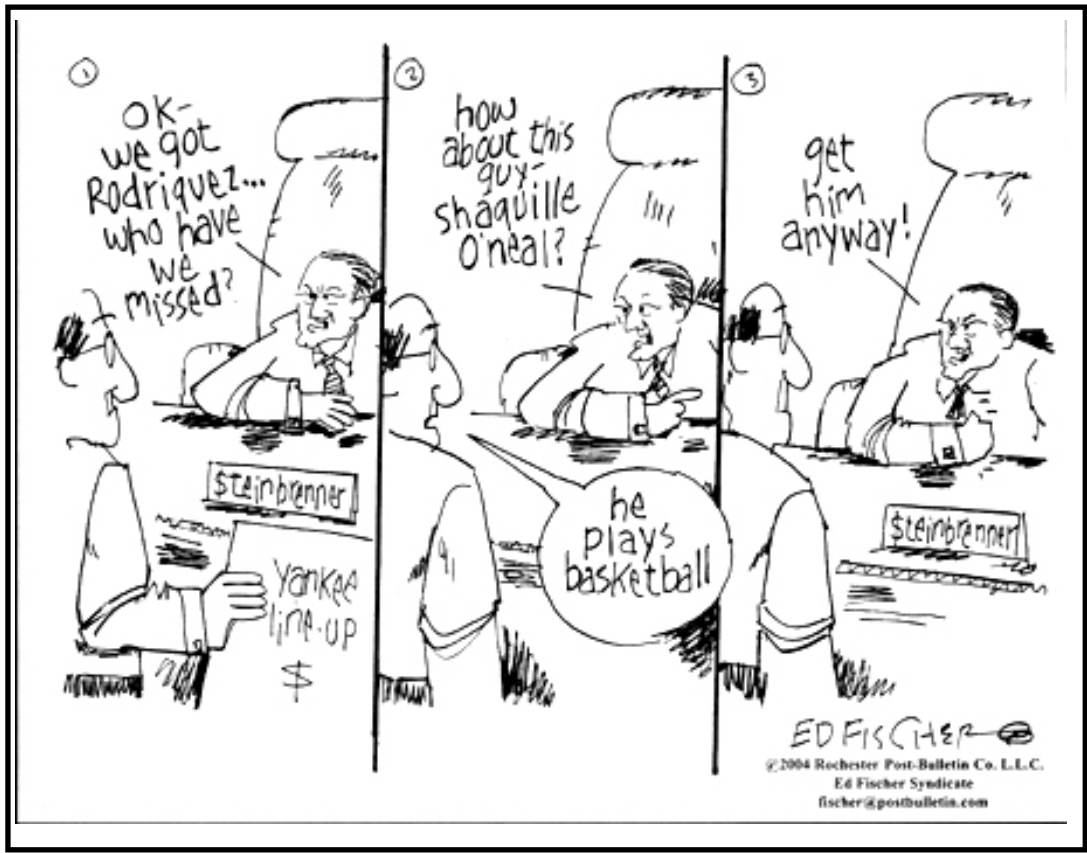

Baby wallabies are about the size of a lima bean when they are born.
